

A CANADIAN PRODUCT WINS OUT IN AUSTRALIA.

MONTREAL, June 12.—On June 22nd the S. S. "Rakai" sailed from Auckland, New Zealand, this being the first sailing of the recently subsidized C.P.R. line from Montreal to Australia and New Zealand.

Part of the Rakai's cargo consisted of two carloads of "2 in 1" Shoe Polish, made in Hamilton by F. F. Dalley Co. This is the third shipment of "2 in 1" sent to Australia by the Dalley people within the last year.

The first, sent June 8th last, consisted of 1,000 gross, the second, sent November 2nd, contained 1,500 gross, while the shipment just sent amounted to 1,540 gross, or 221,700 boxes.

It would be hard to find a stronger recommendation for "2 in 1" Shoe Polish than that it should thus force its way to the ends of the earth, against the strongest kind of competition from British and other firms.

HARDINGE FOR INDIAN POST.

LONDON, June 12.—Sir Charles Hardinge has been appointed to the viceregency of India.

The Chronicle's parliamentary correspondent says the appointments of the Duke of Connaught and Sir Charles Hardinge are understood to be the fulfillment of the expressed wishes of the late King.

Right Hon. Sir Charles Hardinge was born in 1858 and is a brother of the third Viscount Hardinge. He received his early education at Harrow, afterwards graduating at Trinity College, Cambridge. He entered the diplomatic service in 1880, was promoted to the third secretaryship in 1882 and the second in 1885.

SACKVILLE DISTRICT METHODIST MEETING.

ALBERT, June 12.—The Sackville district met in this beautiful little village on June 8, at 4 p. m., Rev. John L. Dawson, chairman of the district, in the chair.

There were present Revs J. L. Dawson, Thomas Hicks, financial secretary, Thomas Marshall, superintendent of missions, Dr. Sprague, A. Lucas, M. R. Knight, secretary of conference, A. E. Chapman, G. Earle, I. Howie, W. Gladstone Watson, J. J. Pinkerton, H. S. B. Stothard, B. O. Hartman, W. J. Kirby, J. E. Shanklin, W. Lawson, C. Flemington, Thomas Allen, C. W. Hamilton and P. H. Littlejohn.

After the devotional exercises led by the chairman, Rev. Charles Flemington was elected journal secretary. The examination of character sheets disclosed no defects of any kind in the "gifts and graces" of the ministry.

Revs James Stothard, S. T. Teed, Dr. Stewart, Dr. Chapman, S. H. Tice and Joseph Pascoe were all excused from attendance for various and sufficient reasons.

Mr. Gould, a probationer of two years, was after a due consideration of his standing, recommended to be continued on probation, and returned to Mount Allison College.

WILL HONOR SIR THOMAS.

WINDSOR, June 12.—A special meeting of the board of trade was held here today re the expected visit of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and directors of the C. P. R., Secretary W. E. Regan has written to Montreal for dates of the expected arrival. A committee was appointed, consisting of the president, J. A. Russell, Secretary Regan and J. W. Blanchard to confer with the town council in connection with making arrangements for a reception at Windsor.

A resolution was passed authorizing J. W. Blanchard to confer with Brook, setting forth the superior advantages Windsor has for a tannery. Mr. Blanchard can furnish the company with the best possible reasons, founded on facts, to show how Windsor affords the natural facilities for the manufacture of products in works of this nature.

REV. C. W. SQUIRES GETS YEAR'S LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

ST. JOHN, June 12.—Rev. C. W. Squires, of Carmarthen Street Methodist Church, has asked the conference for a year's leave of absence on account of his health. The quarterly board of the church has decided to release him and have called Rev. T. J. Donahue to take his place. Rev. Mr. Squires is troubled with acute indigestion. He first thought of applying for three months' leave, but finally decided to ask for a year. He has been stationed at the Carmarthen Street Church for about three years and is very popular.

AT THE ROLLER RINK.

She weighed sixteen stone if she weighed an ounce, and she did weigh an ounce.

The whole rink shook and rumbled as she struggled round in her efforts to master the whirling art.

Suddenly a terrific thud—a groan—and there, piled up upon the board, lay a claim of overbalanced femininity.

A dozen stalwarts hastened to her aid. But her avoidpoids was too much for them.

The woman opened her eyes. "You will have to wait but a moment, madam," politely remarked a crane. "I trust you are not hurt."

"N-no, I don't think so," she gasped bravely back. "But, oh, there are some dreadful lumps in your floor!"

"Lumps, be hanged, madam," growled a half-smothered voice from underneath. "I'm not a lump, I'm one of the attendants!"

A SQUIRREL BAROMETER.

A merchant in a western city has a queer barometer. It is a domestic cat, a fox squirrel. He keeps the little pet in a large paint barrel, all inclosed with the exception of a small round hole in one end. Inside the barrel is a good supply of straw, old paper and leaves. During a run of weather of any kind, hot, cold, wet or dry, the little animal is in and out of the house, keeping an open door.

But should there be a change coming, say 10 or 12 hours off, the squirrel plugs up his hole with the matter from his bed and keeps it closed until the change comes. It is claimed that the squirrel never makes a mistake, and that he gives no false alarms to his keeper.

The lines upon King Edward, written by Mrs. Elizabeth S. McLeod, City, having been laid before Queen Alexandra, the authoress has received the following note of appreciation from Her Majesty from Buckingham Palace: "Dear Madam—I am compelled to thank you for the verses you have so kindly sent and which the Queen, very glad to accept. Yours faithfully, Charlotte Knollys." The letter was dated June 1st. Miss Knollys who is a sister of the Private Secretary to the late King Edward has been the devoted companion of Queen Alexandra during all Her Majesty's married life.

The people's Theatre was filled to capacity last evening, the presentation of the reel describing the King's funeral on Saturday night drawing hundreds out to see the finest spectacular sight ever presented in such quick time in Canada. In regard to this reel an item of information is given, which is of interest to all lovers of the great Motion Picture. This reel in particular was shipped to New York, immediately after the present had passed, and in the haste to have it first on the scene, it was developed on the way across the Atlantic, in a stateroom. On arrival on this side, Walter H. Golding of the St. John Nickel, bought the film outright and in less than twelve days after the funeral, showed the picture in St. John. It was not even shipped as ordinary express. It was handed along from hand to hand so it would not miss, and the night that the first picture was shown in America, the first one was shown in St. John. Enterprise such as this deserves more than passing commendation and in way of offering such, the same is due the lady manager of the People's Theatre, for she endeavors to give her patrons topical subjects in every sense of the word. The patrons were treated to a genuine surprise when at the last moment two of the men of the H. M. S. Corwall, now in port, arrived at the theatre and entertained the large audience to variety acts that were hugely appreciated. Mr. Cariven, the comedian of the ship, sang comedy songs and was joined in the choruses by a large number of the Jolly Tars who were in the theatre. One of the sailors also sang and danced the sailor's hornpipe such as it was never danced here before.

SURPRISING.

Andrew Carnegie, discussing at a dinner in Pittsburgh the Pittsburgh graft scandals, said: "Exposure followed exposure so thick and fast that to express astonishment became, after a while, ridiculous—like the astonishment of the waiter."

"A waiter, you know, brought a gentleman a salad with his chicken, and the gentleman, after eating a little, said: "Look here, waiter, there's a worm in this salad!" "That astonishes me, sir," the waiter answered. "I only just removed four from it, sir."—Washington Star.

NEW CRICKET RULES ASSIST PRACTICE.

TORONTO, June 6.—The committee in charge of the movement for the framing of rules for practices desires the utmost publicity to be given to the proposed rules, so that all clubs may have an opportunity of testing their value. It is pointed out that they are only intended to apply to practice games on other days besides Saturdays. The secretary states that the tests that have been made so far have proved very satisfactory, and no doubt at the end of the season there will be an effort made to give them permanency in some form or other. The following is a draft of the rules: 1. These rules shall apply only to practices and to practice games. A practice is a game between members of the same club; a practice game is between members of different teams.

DOUBLE WICKET.

2. A practice game is played between two sides of ten players each or such other even number as may be agreed upon. 3. The players shall bat in pairs, three over, and each pair shall be entitled to bat. 4. If neither is out, and they secure between them (including extras) eight runs, they shall be entitled to two more complete overs. 5. Rule 4 shall apply to each succeeding two overs. 6. Whenever a player is out, two runs shall be deducted from the score. 7. Both batsmen are liable to be put out from the same ball. SINGLE WICKET. 8. A single wicket practice game is played with any number of players. 9. The players shall bat singly, and each player be entitled to two overs. 10. If he is not out, and obtains six runs, he shall be entitled to an additional over. 11. Whenever a player is out, two runs shall be deducted from the score. 12. The rules of the M. C. C. shall govern, except as varied by these rules. The foregoing rules, will, it is hoped by the committee, eliminate or modify the following features of the adoption of the game in Canada. Un- less practices are made intelligently, persons will not turn out to learn the game. These rules are not intended to supplant, but only to supplement, practice in the nets, and at the outset, perhaps not more than one or two afternoons or evenings a week will be devoted to practice games. 1. A drawn game, a most satisfactory conclusion, cannot easily occur. 2. A win by so many wickets will rarely, if ever, occur, as each man will be entitled to his share of overs. 3. The game will not be lost or won till the last ball is bowled, and zest and interest will thus be added. 4. The average duration of a game will be easily ascertained. 5.—The last man in will not, as heretofore, often retire not out, no runs, with perhaps not one ball bowled to him. 6. Every batsman will have a fair share of the batting, which will be more evenly distributed. 7. Evenly balanced teams will have the advantage. One or two batsmen or one or two bowlers, with quite inferior players to complete the team, cannot so easily win the game. 8. Complete games may be played during the week and during the hour or two before dusk, so that practice games will not be restricted to Saturday afternoons. 9. Players not on the match teams will have more opportunities for playing in contested games. 10. If a player runs his partner out, the latter does not retire from the game, with very natural irritation by reason of his afternoon's sport being spoiled by his partner's fault, but the out will result in two runs being deducted from their combined score, and the players will continue to bat till the end of their three overs. 11. Handicap games can be easily arranged. One team can agree to take a less number of overs than the other. 12. Good fielders and good runners will be developed. Oubs now rarely field, except at matches. At a practice game the fielders will be kept to get the players out as often as possible in order to reduce the score and deprive the batsmen of the extra two overs provided by Rules Nos. 4 and 5. 13. Individual scoring will not be so important as good team work. 14. Slogging will be discouraged by the deduction of two runs, provided by Rules Nos. 6 and 7, and by the fact that the players will be anxious to be out, so as to be entitled to an additional two overs. 15. If at practice each bowler is only allowed, say, six overs each, a team is more likely to develop some latent good material. At practice games, however, teams will no doubt still desire to use their good bowlers to the best advantage.
