SILENT GUN, FIRED WITH SMOKLESS

Terrifying in Its Vastness—Re-equipment Of All Armies Of The World And New System Of Warfare

NEW YORK, March 2.—Hiram Percy Maxim, son of Hiram Maxim, who invented the machine gun which bears his name, has been granted a patent for a "silent firearm," and this new weapon, in the eyes of experts threatens to revolutionize the world of arms.

By the device of the younger inventor, now formally announced as fully perfected the discharge of a rifle or revolver is rendered practically noiseless. This possibility, combined with the use of smokeless powder, introduces a new factor into the stage of warfare. The "silent firearm," so military experts assert, may lead to entire equipment of the armies of the world.

In the hands of sportsman, too, the noiseless weapon offers possibilities hitherto unknown. On the other hand if within reach of the criminal classes it presents a new and difficult problem with which the authorities of the world may have to cope. Thus the name of Maxim threatens to work another sweeping revolution in the world of firearms.

Strange, indeed, is it that the modern automobile should have been a factor in contributing this new weapon to the world. Yet Mr. Maxim, who resides at Hartford, Conn., asserts that the "silent firearm" really was an accident, resulting from his long and careful study of the problem of silencing the constant explosions incident to the running of an automobile engine, for the principle involved in the new weapon is similar to that made use of in the automobile muffler, the report due to sudden release of gases at the muzzle of a firearm when the discharge occurs being prevented through the action of a valve which allows the gas to escape gradually and with but a slight hissing sound.

Why Do Women Worry? First Sign Of Falling Health

Worry is a disease—and it's more—it produces other diseases, because it breaks down the nerves and saps the vitality of the body.

What a pity women don't realize that if they were well—if the blood was nutritious—if the nerves were strong—if all the organs were active—then the little things that irritate and prey on the minds wouldn't receive a moment's thought.

The woman who worries has a poor appetite—she sleeps poorly. If it only lasted for a day or two it might be of small consequence—but she grows limp, miserable, unhappy—worse day by day.

She needs Ferrozone which cures worry by curing the conditions that render worry possible. For nervous weak women, no tonic is so good; thousands it has cured.

It made me a quite strong, M. E. Etherington, of Troy, who writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired, and completely worn out. No doubt it's quite common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me a nerve food, and in fact I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone cures by making good blood strong nerves and a healthy body.

This is why it gives color clearness to the step, brightness to the eyes—because with good digestion and activity of the body in all its parts there's health. Price fifty cents per box at all dealers.

HAVE YOU NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA?

How it shakes one up, invades sleep, destroys strength, adds real misery to life. Not the stomach but nerves are affected. Starved nerves cause the whole trouble. You need Ferrozone because it's a nerve food. It supplies the elements that are needed to make rich red blood. This is the savings bank of health. The richer the blood in red cells, the richer you're sure to be in health. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, strengthens the nervous system, invigorates the digestive organs and presto! the nervous disturbance disappears. You'll try Ferrozone, 50c. per box at all dealers.

CROSSPIECE NEAR THE MUZZLE.

By this device, which does not alter the appearance of any weapon except for a small crosspiece in the barrel a short distance from the muzzle, the escape of the gases following discharge of the cartridge is shut off just as the bullet emerges from the muzzle. This result is obtained by means of a piston valve sliding across the bore of the barrel immediately after the bullet passes. This valve is actuated entirely by the pressure of the gases themselves and is not operated by any intricate mechanical device.

Preventing the gases from escaping suddenly and provoking a consequent loud report, this valve allows them to issue gradually through a series of small holes, thus obviating all noise except a slight hissing sound. The valve then resumes an open position and a safety device prevents the firing of another cartridge unless the valve is in its proper place. Further, ammunition of various kinds may be used ranging from leaden bullets and ordinary gunpowder to forged steel projectiles impelled by smokeless powder.

Military experts, apprised of the new invention, assert that it holds the power to force a revolution of modern methods of warfare. By use of this noiseless weapon skirmishers could work along an enemy's front and shoot down pickets without their presence being noted except upon discovery of the slain. Sharpshooters would be enabled to pick off their victims without reports of weapons betraying their positions. The extended front of an entire army, carefully masked by underbrush or natural formations, might even operate with tremendous execution before its position could be accurately defined by an opposing force. Therefore, the force equipped with this weapon would hold an initial advantage overwhelming in its possibilities.

In the world of sport it is held by the inventor that the new weapon would render it impossible for a man, properly concealed, to kill at his leisure probably every deer in a surprised herd, as no alarm would be sounded. From his cover on shore a man armed with this noiseless gun might pick off every bird in a flock without alarming the lessening number to flight.

ITS TERRIFYING POSSIBILITIES.

Because of its terrible possibilities in the world of crime, many police officials already have insisted that the manufacture and disposal of the new device should be safeguarded by law. Armed with such a weapon a policeman might be enabled to disable every member of a band of law-breakers should he surprise them at their work.

On the other hand it would be equally dangerous in the possession of a desperate criminal. The assassin, by its use, would be enabled to pick off his victim and find opportunity for escaping from the hiding place in which he had lain concealed without attracting suspicion.
