BIGAMIST SUICIDES.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 26—While in the custody of an Albany detective, Albert Law Townsend, wanted in New York city on a charge of bigamy, eluded the officer for a moment and shot himself in the head to-day. He died several hours later at St. Peter's hospital.

Townsend, who was twenty-eight years old, was arrested by John Reed, the detective, on receipt of a telegram from Inspector Hughes, of the New York City Police Department. Townsend said he desired to visit the office of an insurance agency in Broadway a few hundred feet away from the point of his arrest, and Reed escorted him there.

Townsend telephoned to Amsterdam, Troy and New York city, and then requested permission to step into a wash room in the basement of the building. This was granted, and a moment after he had left the detective Townsend fired a bullet through his head.

Albert Law Townsend, accused of bigamy, was indicted in New York and a bench warrant issued by Judge O'Sullivan for his arrest on Tuesday last. The Assistant District Attorney, Mr. Embree, explained that his inquiry had brought to light the fact that Townsend had married Angeline G. Brands in Brooklyn, on October 4, 1906, and that two children were born, who now live with their mother at No. 16 West Twenty-eight street, Bayonne, N. J., the home of Mrs. Townsend's parents.

Townsend left his home in Bayonne on January 4, and nothing was heard from him until February 10, when he wrote that he had become involved in financial difficulties and that he did not have the heart to face them until he had straightened things out. He was at that time believed by his wife to be employed as a salesman for the Globe Indemnity Company, the office of which is in William street.

According to the further discoveries of Mr. Embree Townsend, he married Estelle Bernadette Tobin in St. Jerome's Catholic Church in the Bronx on February 11 last, the Rev. Father Joseph Keane, the pastor, performing the ceremony. Miss Tobin lived with her widowed mother and her brother and sister at No. 411 East 134th street before she was married to Townsend. In the indictment her occupation is given as "secretary."

PETITION FOR CLEMENCY

BOSTON, May 25—Following a conference with Attorneys Grady and Coughlin, counsel for Mrs. Lena Cusumano, sentence of death with Enrico Mascioli for the murder of the woman's husband, Governor Foss announced this afternoon he would give a hearing Monday forenoon in his office at the State House on the woman's petition for clemency.

The lawyers will present their evidence and make their arguments before the Governor. Then Governor Foss may then refer the petition to the Executive Council for action, with or without recommendations. The plea for the commutation of the death sentence of Mrs. Cusumano, filed today with Governor Foss, is as follows:

To His Excellency, Eugene Noble Foss, and the Honorable Council: I hereby request that the sentence of death pronounced upon me in the Superior Court for the County of Plymouth be commuted, and I leave the presentation of this request and the reasons therefor with my counsel. (Signed)

MRS. LENA CUSUMANO—K (Signature witnessed by William E. Baker, deputy jailer of the Plymouth County Jail.)

Attorney Grady received the paper today and went at once to the Charlottetown State prison to secure the signature of Mascioli to a similar petition. When this had been obtained, the lawyer, with his associate, William A. Coughlin, and Mrs. Florence Spooner, went to the Executive Chamber and presented the petitions to the Governor.

ANOTHER RECORD.

NASSAU BOULEVARD, L.I., May 25—Peck in a Columbia biplane broke the American duration record here by nearly seven minutes today afternoon by staying in the air continuously for four hours, twenty three minutes, fifteen seconds, the record being four hours, sixteen minutes, thirty-five seconds, made by Howard W. Gill, of Baltimore, in a Wright biplane in October last at Kinloch, Mo.

Had it not been for the storm which broke over this section Peck would have remained in the air for a much longer period. He arose twenty minutes after three o'clock and for the first hour flew two thousand feet high. The next hour he dropped five hundred feet, then rose to an altitude of three thousand feet and at that height a forty mile wind remained there throughout his trial, obliged him to abandon an attempt for altitude records. When he saw the storm approaching he at once started to descend. At fifteen hundred feet the rain began to fall and the wind had such force that it required his utmost skill to keep an even keel.

His landing was most spectacular. With lightning flashing and the rain falling, he landed within two hundred feet of his banner, his direction having been ascertained by use of lanterns and fires which the watchers burned to guide him.

When Peck started he had twenty-five gallons of gasoline and seven gallons of oil, and on landing still had enough on hand to carry him for three-quarters of an hour longer, as he had intended staying five hours in the air.

Rev. Z. L. Fash preached in the Baptist Church Charlottetown Sunday night taking as his subject: "Is There a Hell?" He based his text on the words from the parable of the rich man and Lazarus—"And he lifted up his eyes in hell." The speaker maintained that the word hell in the scriptures means "hell," a place of punishment and had nothing to say as to the teaching of Pastor Russell and others that the word hell is a mere word simply meaning the grave or pit. He brought in all the texts taking them entirely in their literal meaning. He however while believing in the doctrine of eternal punishment, said he did not believe that actual fire and brimstone were meant as the means of torture, he rather inclined to the belief that eternal remorse would be the portion of the doomed, and that each would "go to his own place."—Exc.

The Boston Journal, publishes an interview with Dr. Charles E. Fane who conducts the Boston Health School. The doctor takes the ground that bathing and clothing are the bane of humanity, and tells the following incident by way of illustration:—On the outskirts of a village on Prince Edward Island there dwelt in a little hut an old woman fortune teller. She was 92 years of age, but hale and hearty. Her mother had died at the age of 108, her father at 106. This heredity would naturally have insured her another ten or twelve years, had not some well-meaning people interfered. It was the practise of the villagers to take their guests out to have their fortunes told. One summer a dear old philanthropic lady was so touched by what seemed to her the pitiable condition of the old fortune teller, that she induced her to enter an old ladies' home. When the aged fortune teller arrived at the "home," she was put into a nice warm, soapy bath, the first that she had taken in over seventy-five years. The next move was to put on a warm union suit of flannel. She immediately began to snuff up and was dead of pneumonia within two weeks.

A NEW COMPENSATION.

EDMONTON, May 23—Establishing a precedent that gives every workman in the employ of the Government the advantages of the Workmen's Compensation Act, Hon. C. W. Cross, Attorney-General, has his first act since taking office under Premier Sifton remitted to the aged parents of G. D. Coslette, who was killed while working as a carpenter for the Government in November, 1911, the sum of $1,800 to which they were entitled under the provisions of the act for compensation for death of their son who was supporting them.

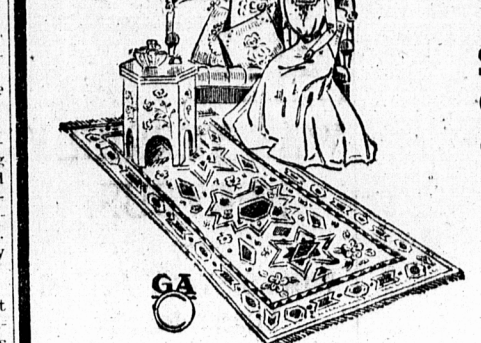

According to Donald McLeod, recording secretary of the Edmonton Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, and business agent of that organization, the Attorney-General has paid out the first compensation for death or injuries received while working for the Government, although the act does not apply to men in the employ of the Government at all, and he was not bound in any way to recognize the claim. The payment of the claim by the Attorney-General was first made known at a meeting of the Carpenters' Union this week.
