MONDAY

MANY HAPPY RETURNS - Mr. Justice Arsenault and Mrs. Arsenault were receiving the congratulations of their friends on Saturday, the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

LOSES THUMB AND FINGER - Master Maurice Smith, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, of Newton, near Emerald, met with a very painful accident last Thursday. There was a carpenter working at the house and the little fellow was playing with his box of tools. Finding what he thought was a piece of rubber tubing, he commenced to hack at it with an old knife or nail. It happened that he was playing with a fuse and as he was trying to cut it, the thing exploded and blew off part of his thumb and finger on the left hand. He was taken to the Prince County Hospital, where his wounds were dressed. He is now resting as comfortably as possible.

KNOCKED DOWN BY TRUCK - What might have been a more serious accident occurred at Fort-George last Friday evening. Master Patrick Lynch, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. John R. Lynch, was running across the road in company with another boy and went right in front of a large motor truck, which was coming down the road. The truck knocked him down, but did not run over him, evidently the driver did not see the boy, as he did not stop. The little chap was picked up and it was found that his leg was broken between the knee and ankle. Dr. Champion was called from the Prince County Hospital, where the fracture was set. The injured boy is resting quite comfortably.

(Special to The Guardian) Mr. John Reeves, of Freetown, suffered a heavy loss by fire on Saturday night when his large new barn was burned with eleven head of cattle and three horses, besides his entire season's crop and some machinery. The loss is estimated at nearly $3,000.

Mr. Reeves was away from home at the time and when Mr. Alfred Curley discovered the fire it was beyond control. The doors were all locked and how the fire started is not known. Fortunately the wind was not in the direction of the house, or that may have gone also. A small shed adjoining was burned.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Reeves in his heavy loss, especially as only last May his barn was burned down and this one was only built this summer.

Various phases of the Salvation Army activities throughout the world were presented in a very interesting manner by Commissioner H. O. B. PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER - On Friday evening, the friends of Miss Elizabeth Chappelle gathered at the home of her brother, Mr. Alexander Chappelle, of Sherbrooke, to tender her a bridal shower in honour of her approaching marriage. The living room was very prettily decorated in pink and white and a profusion of potted plants made a very lovely setting for the bridal arch to which the bride-to-be was escorted by Miss Florence Harris to the seat of honour, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mr. George Harris. Little Miss Audrey and Master Prowse, niece and nephew of Miss Chappelle, dressed as bride and groom, carried in a gaily trimmed hamper laden with mysterious packages. Miss Goldie Gunning opened the gifts while Miss Edith McDonald read the accompanying verses. After the presents had been admired and Miss Chappelle had expressed her thanks in a very charming manner, several instrumental and vocal numbers were enjoyed. Already the port has become one of importance. The terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, the large steamers left Churchill this fall for European ports. Two of these were destined for Italian ports, two for French ports and the remainder for British ports. HEAD OF LONDON FUR HOUSE VISITS PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND - Mr. Sydney H. Murley, Managing Director of S. H. Murley and Co. Ltd., fur brokers, London, England, was in Summerside for a few days this week and visited some of his clients. He arrived in New York on Oct. 26 on the Europa and visited various fur centres before coming to the Island. He said there was a great tendency on the part of the fox ranchers to pet foxes before they had come into their prime which was a great mistake as the fur did not fetch nearly so big a price in fact it was not wanted. The reason for this early pelting was the need of money. Mr. Murley who only handles furs on consignment says that the silver fox fur is the fur on the market today, all other furs are secondary. It is the leading demand for it at moderate prices will continue so long as Dame Fashion demands it and he saw no reason why there should be a change for some time. Prices have materially improved during the last two months and these prices are likely to hold for a few weeks. When the bulk of the pelts come on the market the price will no doubt recede but on the whole better prices will be realized than was the case last year. The furs that he had seen were well forward for this time of year. His advice to ranchers was for them to pet their foxes when near prime taking into consideration all points. Fur has stood the strain of the last few years better than most farm products as furs have become more reasonable and many a lady has realized her dream of a fur neck piece which in years gone by was impossible. This has to a great extent kept up the market. London is still one of the best markets for furs and fur buyers expects a good season. If the furs come in sufficient quantities Mr. Murley expects to put on a sale about the third week in December. They have already had sales of Scandinavian furs. The sales of Scandinavian furs are larger and are in great demand for coat trimmings. The fur is thicker and more woolly. Mr. Murley leaves the Island today and sails from Halifax on Friday for London.

CAR ON FIRE - Shortly after noon yesterday the Summerside Fire Brigade made a quick turn out in answer to the call of the fire sirens. The fire turned out to be Mr. G. P. Walker's car, which had caught fire as he was driving home. It was quickly put out and very little damage done.

A hale fellow well met, an expert conversationalist, with a personality all his own, modest and unassuming for the most part, but with a fund of knowledge of hockey lore that if published would crowd every page of a much larger daily than the Charlottetown Guardian. A destructive fire at Ashton near St. Peter's occurred last evening when a large new barn, the property of Mr. James Smith, was burned to the ground, and all its contents, the season's crop, and the farm machinery were destroyed.

The barn which was located about a mile from the main road leading to Souris was discovered to be ablaze about 7:45 p. m. Hay, straw, potatoes which were stored in the building in large quantities, machinery, and one animal were destroyed. The adjacent dwelling which was vacant as the owner lives on another farm was in no danger, as the wind was blowing the fire away from the house. There was no insurance on the burned building. The bride and groom both talked to them on the phone and could hear them speak as plainly as though a few miles away. The bride, who has been popular in the community, was for a while organist in the Presbyterian church, Kensington, and also spent several years in U. S. A. Miss Cynthia Fairweather, sister of the bride, was the only bridesmaid, gowned in yellow flowered taffeta in floor length, with a cow collar and tiny puff sleeves, with which she wore a becoming hat of yellow felt. The groomsmen were Mr. Wilfred de Costa, and the ushers were Mr. George Lowe and Mr. T. A. Davies.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left at midnight for the mainland, en route for Prince Edward Island, the bride traveling in a smart three-piece knitted suit of jade green and a brown overcoat and hat.
