ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS TO PEOPLE AND ANIMALS

Lost His Bet And Has To Catch Elusive Chipmunk

JASPER PARK, Alta., Aug. 2.—Because he lost his bet on the Dominion elections, Frank Conway, of Toronto, expects to spend the rest of his holidays at Jasper park lodge looking for a chipmunk weary of its home life. Mr. Conway, the day before the elections took place, promised to catch a chipmunk and carry it to the timberline on Whistler's Mountain if the Conservatives were returned. They got in with a large majority. There are many chipmunks around the grounds at Jasper Park lodge and so far all of them have been more nimble than Mr. Conway. "The only thing I can do," protested Mr. Conway, "is to wait till I find a chipmunk that has domestic problems and wants to go somewhere. If I do catch one, I still have the Park Superintendent's office to contend with, because Jasper Park is a game preserve, and so far as I know, there are no specific exceptions to the regulations on chipmunks." Mr. Conway, who said that his interest in elections, at the best of times, is mild, still has two weeks of his holiday left before he starts east for Toronto.

Major League Career Ended For Old Star

(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, now 43, has been none too successful thus far in his minor league career, but he leaves a big league record in which he must get some satisfaction. In 19 years of campaigning under the big top, Alexander piled up 373 victories, and lost 108 games. In three straight seasons, beginning with 1915, Alexander won more than 30 games. This record was made with the Philadelphia Nationals, who had paid $750 to Syracuse in 1911 for him. Alex went to the Chicago Cubs in 1918, along with his catcher, Bill Killefer, for $50,000. Joe McCarthy, new manager of the Cubs, released Alexander to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1926. Aleck promptly helped pitch the Cards to a pennant. The high point of Aleck's career came that year in the world's series, climaxed by his strike-out of Tony Lazzari of the Yankees for the championship. Alexander started this season with the Phillies, who had obtained him on waivers. He had lost three games and won none when his big league career finally was ended.

Bennett Preparing His Cabinet

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 2.—With a new Dominion Ministry in the making political circles in the Capital presented a picture of restless expectancy over the weekend. Hon. R. B. Bennett, the victorious Conservative leader is sure to give very serious and more or less extended consideration to the selection of the men who will form his cabinet. The political future of many a supporter will be decided for or against during the next few days, meanwhile stalwarts of the party are reaching Ottawa from far-flung battle lines to be in readiness to offer advice to their chief when they may be called upon. It is a weighty task to form a government in a country so divergent in its interests and so cosmopolitan in its population as Canada. Most of the ministers of the King government are now in the capital making preparations to vacate the positions they have occupied during the past parliament. There is much routine to be carried out in order that their successors may be able to pick up the strings of tasks unfinished by the retiring government. Mr. Bennett is expected to remain in Ottawa over the week end and Premier Mackenzie King will probably divide his time between Laurier House, his summer home at Kingsmere and his office in the east block.

favorable. The weather was good and the social afternoon was entered into with zest by all present. The amount realized was well worthy of the effort made.

It is interesting to hear of the reunion of the Danish immigrants on this Island and the opportunity afforded them in hearing an address by a minister of their own nationality in Charlottetown recently. It can be well imagined the joy that was brought to these people on this occasion—a joy almost as real as a home-going. Mr. Alfred Jorkenson, formerly of Denmark, now of Hamilton, was an interested listener at this service.—M.

DOYLE IN DEFINITE TOUCH WITH FAMILY

LONDON Aug. 1.—Lady Conan Doyle, widow of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, said today that Sir Arthur had established definite communication with his family through the medium of a psychic photograph.

She told the Daily Herald in an interview that Rev. Charles L. Tweedale, Vicar of Weston, Yorkshire, and an investigator of psychic phenomena, sat for the photograph.

Sir Arthur's picture, Lady Conan Doyle said, is superimposed upon a photograph of Tweedale. The picture was made by a professional photographer, but the plate was developed and printed solely by Tweedale.

Furthermore, said Lady Conan Doyle, Peter Powell of Chester received through the spirit guide a message from Sir Arthur about a sealed envelope which Sir Arthur left with Lady Conan Doyle. She said that there is such an envelope but that it can only be opened when Sir Arthur directs her to open it and tells her in advance what it contains. She asserts that the family already has had several marvellous experiences and that there has been much evidence of communication from Sir Arthur.

RUNS LEPER COLONY 'WAS BEAU OF OTHER DAYS IN OLD SOUTH

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 2.—A beau brummel of 60 years ago became the good samaritan of the Molokai leper colony. Such is the story recounted by Clarksville belles of that day grown old and reminiscent, their thoughts drawn to Honolulu hospital by news that Brother Joseph lies with shattered health at 37 after 44 years of toil.

In the early eighties, they recall, Ira B. Dutton, handsome and dashing Yankee who had advanced from the ranks to captain in the Union army came to Clarksville as a government agent to settle claims of citizens for horses and quartermaster stocks seized by federal troops. Handsome and gracious, he became cordially popular with the belles of the day.

They were surprised, naturally, when he departed less than two years after his arrival to enter the Trappist monastery at Gethsemane, Ky. They had another stir when he reappeared in Clarksville three years later, completely transformed in spirit and appearance, and apologized to the girls he had known for letting them believe he was a single man when he was married and had separated from his wife, who in the meantime had died.

So eager to atone for the deception he was that he spent a month in the community seeking out his friends. As the years have passed they have read with interest of his work, as Brother Joseph, in the leper colony. He has sent Christmas tokens every year to several of these friends.

He went to the island in 1886 and three years later took up the work of administering the colony. By scrupulous care he escaped the disease and only recently was he persuaded to go to Honolulu for hospital care.

Chancellor J. W. Stout, who as a lawyer, presented many war claims before Captain Dutton, says "of all the different men the government sent here, I thought he was the fairest and most impartial."

INCENSE WAS NARCOIC IN FORMER DAYS

CHICAGO, August 7.—The incense that curled lazily Heavenward from the altars of the early religionists was not incense at all, a University of Chicago journal suggested today, but narcotics. Prof. Allen H. Godbey, of Duke University, concluded in the journal that narcotics are far earlier in human experience than bread and that the bizarre visions and frenzies of the narcotic-crazed ancients were accepted as revelations from their gods.

"The primal savage discovered that the smoke in his chimneyless cavern producer queer physiological effects," the article said, "and a little experimentation soon taught him that certain weeds or sticks were responsible. That learned, he took to praying to these kind gods for more beautiful visions of the world."

Hebrew prophets who warred upon the incense rituals of their time were not simply championing monotheism but were waging a fight against narcotization that civilization is still carrying on, the professor said. The problem of more intelligent religious leaders in all ages, Prof. Godbey said, has not been to find able incense but to get rid of it.

MRS. RITA LATHAM LEAVING FOR NORTH

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—Another plucky Ottawa girl is going to bare the isolation of the Far North. She is Miss Rita Latham, of 66 Fourth Avenue, who leaves on Wednesday for Shingle Point, a tiny settlement sixty miles west of the mouth of the mighty Mackenzie river, which debouches into the Arctic ocean.

Here with a handful of devoted co-workers, Miss Latham will carry out missionary and educational work among the Eskimos at an Anglican boarding school established at Shingle Point last July.
