HIGH STEPPERS AT TRACK WEDNESDAY

Wonderful Speed Program Has Been Prepared For Wednesday's Races With The Free-For-All, 2.20 Trot. And 22? Pace.

There will be speed bursts galore in trotting and pacing classes when such horses as Pale Face, Harry Putnam, Mary Volo and Early Todd meet. The 2.20 Trot will be a ripper. Watch the twenty-two pace for sizzling finishes.

Wednesday a wonderful speed program has been prepared for the Exhibition races with the Free For All, 2.20 Trot and 2.22 Pace. These will be among the very best classes of the four days meeting and will bring together a splendid array of horses. Let us look at the Free For All and see what it offers.

Mary Volo, 2.08¼, is number one on the score card, and Mary Volo can surely pace. Monte Gerow stepped her a comfortable mile in 2.10½ in third horse position a week ago.

Tarzan Grattan, winner of the $25,000.00 American Derby, is in the same stable but it is stated that he will not likely start as he is a little dinky behind. Should he start he will be a tough one, as he can pace fast and far.

Red Line, 2.10¼, will be driven by Fred Cameron. He was second to Tarzan Grattan in the record breaking mile last autumn and was only beaten a length.

Harry Putnam, one of the fastest horses in the Maritimes when right, and he must be right, or they would not have brought him over from Fredericton for his race.

Early Todd, 2.10¼, is Harry Nevers' bread winner. Harry is a king pin driver and Early Todd has been burning up the race track in Maine with his speed. Look out for him.

Kazoff, 2.08¼, will not likely start in this class.

Lambert Todd, 2.02¼, recently went a dandy race in Cape Breton and is said to be back nearly to old time form.

Pale Face, 2.03½, one of the most colourful horse personalities that ever raced over a circuit. Charlie Sweet has him right and that means close to 2.10 for the son of Rain in the Face.

2.20 Class Trot

This is a real guessing contest. Monte says "My hoss Igo is awful good," and when Monte says that you can be sure that Igo will be close to his record of 2.13.

The Pup, 2.20¼, who finished right at Igo's nose last year at Charlottetown, will be Herb's hope. This popular little trotter will have legions of friends to cheer him. He is working sound and nice and showed a barrel of speed last workout.

Peter Verde, 2.14¼. Neil has him in rare form with road work and track work and under the guiding hand today of Mack Steel, he should put up a race equal to that day on the Chatham track when he got his tab of 2.14¼.

Watts Edison, 2.13¼. One thing we do know that Mr. Trainor's' horse will be ahead at some part of the mile. They cannot beat him away from the wire, and many friends hope he will keep the lead all the way through. He is one speedy bird and if he has the condition will carry it to the finish.

Dick Bingen. We spoke about him yesterday in the 2.23 Trot, so you know all about him.

Briar Mac, 2.14½, has been trotting some dandy quarters this year and one fast mile, 2.14¼. A lot of people think he has a good chance. If he does not start pacing he should be a factor.

T. A. Ami, have not heard that Mr. Nevers' horse has headed any fast summaries this year.

Walkie, worked good on Saturady, showed a lot of speed and tendency to jump. He has friends that think he can win.

2.22 Pace.

This will be an awful race or we miss our guess. We know some of the drivers have been nervous for days before the race and Johnny Conroy with Susie Watts, the mare they offered $3500.00 for, says he expects the toughest kind of competition, with Dustless Grattan, Marge Direct, Bingen Aubrey and others. Susie has been some awful miles over the Maine and New Brunswick tracks and is staked heavily for the balance of the year.

Marge Direct, 2.13¾. Marge went a nifty race at Montague, but likes a hard track. She will get it at Charlottetown, and don't mistake, Marge will pace some.

Hal Tipton had an attack of indigestion recently and is therefore handicapped for the fray.

Rose Watts has been going some nice miles but will find the company pretty stiff if she elects to start in this class.

Afton Direct is another horse that Harry Nevers pays the bills on. We do not expect Harry to start him in this class, he will probably pick the 2.30 Pace.

Bingen Aubrey, 2.15. A good reliable pacer, good mannered and with plenty of lick. Should be a factor in this race.

Peter the Tramp. Fast, but being laid up for repairs. Tom Holmes says "Petah's good" and Tom ought to know as he is driving him.

Dustless Grattan, 2.13¼, fresh from the Grand Circuit, where he started against some of the speediest horses under the electric lights at Toledo. Dustless will be a mighty tough proposition and will be piloted by one of the most astute men that sits in the sulky.

In Memoriam

MR. HENRY MACKENZIE

In the passing of Mr. Henry MacKenzie on June 17th., the community of Southport lost one of its best known residents. For nearly sixty years he conducted a blacksmith and machinist business both to his own satisfaction and to that of a large clientile. As a machinist he was quite a genius and not only manufactured great numbers of potato diggers each year, but invented several labor saving devices. Although nearly eighty years of age he continued to work practically to the last, and amazed his friends by his strength and suppleness. He rightly attributed his vitality to his abstenniousness, his love of work and to the joy he experienced in the religion of Jesus. No matter how friends differed with him in his religuos views all paid tribute to his devotion to God and his zeal in his Master's service. He gave of himself freely and will be particularly missed at Hartney Hall to which place he drove a distance of five miles to conduct the Sunday School. He was also an elder of the Mount Herbert United Church. It was his wish to live much longer than granted, merely to accomplish more and serve God with greater zeal, but the Divine voice whispered "Come up higher." Needless to say the removal of this "land-mark from "MacKenzie's corner" is deeply lamented by all. We shall miss his cheery smile and cordial greeting; his kind hospitality and engaging manner. Yes, we shall miss him and his faithful partner who has joined him, but we shall not forget. The relatives left to cherish his memory are two daughters, Mrs. Boswall Jenkins, Mount Albion, and Mrs. Malcolm MacRae Waterside Also one brother George of Victoria, B. C., and one sister Mrs. Jury, Calgary. The funeral service which was very largely attended took place in Mount Herbert Church and was conducted by his former pastor Rev. H. Pierce. At the service a hymn composed by Mr. MacKenzie was sung. At the conclusion of an impressive meeting, interment was made in Mount Herbert Cemetery. "Servant of God well done."

BISHOP CONSECRATES CHURCH.

JASPER, Alta., Aug. 13.— Unique among the churches of Canada is the little Church of St. Mary and St. George of Jasper, which was consecrated recently by the Bishop of Edmonton. The building, a beautiful structure of stone and stucco, with a tiled roof, was built at a cost of $17,000 from a design by A. M. Calderon, of Edmonton, and is a gift to the parish from a lady in England, who wishes to remain anonymous.

It was presented in memory of her son, who was killed in the War, and beneath the cornerstone, which was laid last year by His Excellency the Governor-General, lies the testament, which was found on the young man's body when he was carried out of No Man's Land. The furnishings and fittings of the church were also the gift of the unknown donor. The bell was presented by Viscount Willingdon. It bears on it the inscription, "Oh, give unto the Lord the Honor due unto His name." The Misses Shawcross, of England, gave the beautiful oak panelling to the right and left of the altar in memory of their mother.

The processional cross, which is of handbeaten copper, and is the work of Omar Ramsden, of London, was the gift of Mrs. E. Holland, of Worcester. The font, from the old church, was presented by the Women's Auxiliary, and the Ewar was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Brydon, members of the congregation, in memory of their son. His Lordship was assisted in the service by his Chaplain, Rev. W. Liversedge, who in the days of railway construction, was the first clergyman of the parish, by the present incumbent, Rev. H. A. Edwards, and by Rev. Ven. Archdeacon A. E. Bargett, of Edmonton, who preached. Dean Robinson, of Calgary, was Rector in 1915, and Dean Bickersmith of Hart House, Toronto, was also at one time in charge of the Jasper congregation. Mr. Edwards came in 1923. In the evening the Bishop confirmed 17 candidates.

WHALE HAS HIGH POWER BRAIN SAYS SCIENTIST.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 13.—Folds in the human brain may signify degrees of mentality, but in whales their occurrence is a fact unexplained by science.

Cerebral convolutions are more marked in whales than in man, according to A. Brazier Howell, Johns Hopkins mammalogist, yet the purpose of a high-type brain in the monster sea beasts, with need for only low mental equipment, is unknown.

The scientist suggests that man's mentality may not be as greatly attributable to the folds as many have supposed.

For this, and other reasons, Dr. Howell believes that the whale is the most attractive beast for scientific study. "The greatest beast that has ever lived," he said, "is interesting because:—

More than any other mammal now living his skull has changed most partly because of the migration of his nostrils to the top of his head.

He is the only one that has more than three bones to a single finger, some whales having more than 17 bones.

For mechanical reasons he has assumed a cigar shape, and is one of the only two kinds of mammals whose tail has taken on a fish-like shape.

"Whalebone," the sieve through which some whales strain their food, occurs in no other mammal.

A whale, with a length of 100 feet, has a gullet no more than five inches in diameter.

Sounds are transmitted by resonance through the bones of the head to an inner ear very different from that of other mammals.

He has a remarkable hide, so tender in some ways and so tough in others, and without skin glands.

He can submerge to a depth of a mile, yet can speed to the surface without being affected by the quick removal of pressure.

"A scientific understanding of the remarkable animal," Dr. Howell concluded, "would probably give knowledge that can be applied in correcting a number of serious, and even fatal, derangements of bodily functions to which man is subject."

The recipient briefly replied, thanking the donors for their kind favor.
