"SEVENTH VEIL" SETS PRECEDENT FOR MELODRAMAS

Universal's new release, "The Seventh Veil," opens today at the Prince Edward Theatre, with advance reports terming this story one of the most outstanding human dramas of the year.

Plot of the picture revolves around the mental breakdown and psychiatric cure of a celebrated young girl concert artist who, because of injuries to her hands, becomes convinced that she can no longer perform.

Co-starring in the film are Ann Todd and James Mason. The former, one of the greatest of all English film actresses, plays the role of the pianiste to perfection, according to New York preview critics. Mason recently was voted England's biggest money-making star by the Motion Picture Herald's poll. Mason plays the man of position who molds the heroine's career.

With them are Herbert Lom, continental actor portraying the psychiatrist who cures the patient of her affliction, and Hugh McDermott, who plays the part of the pianiste's former lover. The film was directed by Compton Bennett.

Included in the picture is some of the finest music yet recorded for screen purposes. Chopin's Prelude No. 7, Pathetique Sonata by Beethoven, Greig's Piano Concerto in A Minor, Sonata in C Major by Mozart, Overture to "Merry Wives Of Windsor' 'and Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto in C Major, were all played for this film by the London Symphony Orchestra. "The Seventh Veil," a Sydney Box-Ortus production, is an original story and screenplay by Muriel and Sydney Box.

MIRTH AND MELODY IN "BAMBOO BLONDE"

Romance, mirth and melody form the themes of RKO Radio's sparkling new romantic comedy, "The Bamboo Blonde," now at the "Capitol" Theatre and starring Frances Langford, with Ralph (Truth or Consequences) Edwards and Russell Wade heading the supporting cast.

Miss Langford, singer at a night club owned by Edwards, entertains Wade, a bomber-pilot, for a couple of hours before his plane takes off. The crew members of the bomber think Miss Langford is their skipper's sweetheart, paint her picture on the plane, and christen it The Bamboo Blonde, which causes hilarious complications when the bomber becomes famous for its heroic exploits.

Miss Langford sings four new numbers by Mont Greene and Lew Pollack, including a beautiful production number, Moonlight Over the Islands.

HORN'S A WONDER

The rhinoceros has a wonderful horn. It is not made of bone nor horn, but of hair fibers, tightly packed together. One of the longest on record was more than 60 inches in length. The ancients believed the horns of a rhinoceros to have curative powers, and paid fabulous prices for them to grind into medicine.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband George Gordon Houston, Mayfield, P. E. I., who passed away February 10th, 1946.

The blow was hard, the shock severe
To part with him we loved so dear
So quick, so quiet was his call
His sudden death surprised us all.
One year has passed since that sad day
When God called my dear husband away.

Lovingly Remembered by His Wife.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Gordon Houston who passed away on February 10th 1946.

Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heartache no one can heal,
Some may forget you now that you're gone,
But we will remember no matter how long.
Two little words, not too hard to write
But we will remember them all of our life—
"Our Father".

Lovingly Remembered by His Son Lloyd and Daughter Evelyn.

THE KIRK PULPIT

Preaching yesterday morning on the text "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets." (S. Matthew 7.12), the Minister, the Rev'd. T. H. B. Somers, said: Listen carefully to this undertone in the Rule. We need more than food. We need strength in temptation, comfort in sorrow, and some sort of assurance that the sky is not unseeing—that death, as an instance, is not a blank mockery of life and love. In that extremity what would you that men should do to you? You know there is very little they can do. But you would wish them to treat you in your brokenness as if there is something beyond price in your nature. A lifesaver does not ask if the people drowning are crooks or saints. His creed, whether or not he has ever phrased his creed, is that they are all potentially saints—that, in some way he could not phrase, they are dear to life and God. You would like people to treat you for a man beyond price. You would like them to say to you of needs they cannot meet: "You and I cannot forgive sin, for we are all sinners. You and I cannot cancel sorrow or conquer death. But you and I are haunted by the thought that God is with us. So let us seek Him in our common need." Thus once again an ethical rule, or what seems an ethical rule, carries us out on the oceans. All that I have tried to say to you the Epistle to Timothy says in a sentence: "For the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned." Charity — "if you were in their place"; a good conscience — "what you ought to wish"; faith unfeigned — as God would wish, as God loves, as God can meet our need. We can understand now why the Golden Rule is forever linked with Jesus Christ, for it is meaningless (or a trade or a lust or a despair) except in His Spirit. Whenever I hear it quoted by some person thoughtlessly, I always feel like saying, "But you are leaving out of it the Man Who spoke it, and without Him it is at best a shrewd bargain and at worst an impossible demand that sets the teeth on edge."

ATTENTION 60 SQUADRON Air Cadets! Parades resumed at Armouries tonight. Special films will be shown. Full attendance requested.

INVESTIGATE CHARGES BOY'S POOCH BEATEN

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Morning Worship was conducted by the minister, the Rev. I. Judson Levy, B.D., with sermon "This One Thing I Know." In the story of the healing of the blind man as told by Saint John, the man once blind answers critical queries with "Whether he be a sinner or not, I know not; one thing I know, whereas I was blind, now I see!" In that balancing between doubt and faith there is, there always will be many things we do not know, many questions we cannot answer but it is ours to have the testimony of personal experience, "this one thing I know!" "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" questioned Nathaniel, to which Philip at once replied with the appeal to personal experience, "come and see." Saint Paul was no stranger to doubt, early in life he gave himself to one faith, fruitless to him but, in Christ he found a faith whereby he was willing to live and without doubt or fear, ready to die and as he expressed himself in one of his letters "now we see through a glass darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known." The New Testament tells the story of faith the story of men and women who did know Jesus Christ the Son of God and "believing they have life through His name."

Is there anything in life today that gives us enduring faith? The line of faith through the ages has continued unbroken, the vital principle by which men live, the life of Christian faith throughout the centuries, doubts can live on nothing, faith lives because it responds to a reality in the universe.

Let us be confident there is a pilot at the wheel and that He knows the way.

Fearis' "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was expressively sung by Messrs. V. L. Dingwell and R. D. Quigley.

Evening Worship was conducted by Mr. Levy with the first of three sermons on the Prodigal Son, "The Boy Who Went to the Far Country." The anthem of the evening was "Sun of My Soul" (Turner) with Miss Pearl Burns and Mr. Barry Bugden taking the solo parts.

The male quartette, Messrs. Calder, Quigley, Dingwell and Gillis gave a fine interpretation of their selection, "Almost Persuaded". Mr. V. L. Dingwell sang Dvorak's "Goin' Home."

The music of the day was conducted by Mrs. V. L. Dingwell, organist and director of choir.

25th Anniversary Local Order Of The Eastern Star

An important event in the history of Crystal Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, took place last Friday evening, when an anniversary party was held in the Masonic Temple to commemorate the 25th year of the construction of the chapter.

After a short business meeting, in which greetings were received from some absent members, the doors were opened to a number of invited guests, who were warmly welcomed by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Warren Ladner and the Worthy Patron, Mrs. T. G. Ives.

A very informative paper on the origin of the Order and the history of the local chapter was read by Mrs. Henry Lapthorn. It was of interest to learn that the Order of the Eastern Star is comprised of over 12,000 chapters with almost 2,000,000 members, scattered all over the world. The head office is in Washington, D.C. The General Grand Chapter meets every three years in which is called the Triennial Assembly.

Last November the Junior Past Worthy Matron, Mrs. Guy Darling, was a delegate from Crystal Chapter to the Assembly held in Tampa, Fla. A signal honor came to the Maritime Provinces at this meeting, when Mr. Donald Stewart, Hartland, N.B., was elected Most Worthy Grand Patron, the first Canadian to have ever attained this honor. In 1949, the 26th Triennial Assembly will be held in Toronto, Canada.

Crystal Chapter was organized in June, 1921, and received its charter in Feb. 1922. There were 26 charter members of which eight are still on roll and five were present at the anniversary meeting, namely: Mrs. Henry Lapthorn, Mrs. John McInnis, Mrs. Robert Acorn, Miss Flora Nicholson and Mr. J. E. H. Worth.

An excellent programme was given by the following guest artists:

Piano Solo, Miss Helen Stewart.

Vocal Solo, Mrs. Frances Hall-Trainor.

Reading, Mrs. Robert Acorn.

Violin Solo, Mr. Matthew LaFore.

Vocal Solo and Reading, Mr. Barry Bugden.

Each one generously responded to hearty encores.

A delicious lunch was then served in the Recreation Hall, which had been decorated with streamers in the colors of the Order. The dining table was resplendent with a three-tiered birthday cake in the centre, flanked on either side by bouquets of red and white carnations, white candles in silver candlesticks and plates of many good things to eat. Tea was poured by Mrs. Lapthorn and Mrs. T. G. Ives, Past Worthy Matrons, and refreshments were served by the committee in charge—the W.M., Mrs. Ladner, Miss Helen Finlayson, Mrs. Ernest White, Mrs. Andrew Lavers, Mrs. Alex Fraser, Mrs. John Larrabee and Mrs. Norman Ramsay.

Before leaving, a hearty vote of thanks for a pleasant evening, coupled with best wishes for future progress, was moved by Mrs. Carson, and supported by Mr. Ralph Rupert on behalf of the guests.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

In Trinity Church on Sunday the Minister spoke in the morning concerning the importance of bread and its spiritual significance to the Christian Church and the Christian fellowship around the world.

He referred to a pamphlet entitled "The Races of the World" prepared by a group of leading scientists in this country who declared that one of the great reasons of the present gulfs that exist between the various peoples of the earth is that so many lack the physical necessities of life to make it possible for them to develop their mental and spiritual capacities to their fullness. And the Minister urged the great opportunity and necessity that we, as Christian people, must give greater thought to this matter and as one of the keys to the healing of the wounds of humanity and the bringing of the backward peoples into fellowship with God and with one another.

The anthem, "Had We But Hearkened", Walford Davies, was sung by the choir.

At the evening service the Minister chose as the subject of his sermon "Learn to Forgive."

The choir sang the Anthem "The Lord Is My Shepherd", Macfarren.

Mr. George Johnson sang the solo, "Nearer My God To Thee" Louis Carey.

RATS GIVE THEIR ALL FOR BEAUTY

CHICAGO—A chemist revealed here that rabbits, rats and guinea pigs are being used in cosmetics laboratories to help make women more beautiful.

Harry Hilfer, chief chemist of a large Chicago cosmetics firm, said some scientists had found that if a rabbit can wear lipstick, rouge or powder without endangering his epidermus, it's more than likely that the average woman can paint her face without fear of breaking out in a rash.

"In most cases a rabbit's skin is more sensitive than that of a woman," he said, in an interview.

In a speech before the Chicago section of the American Chemical Society, Hilfer said he regarded the task of keeping American womanhood lovely as an "engineering job," as well as a matter of chemistry and style.

"We have to build the products from start to finish, with the appearance of the product on store shelves, as well as on women's faces, as our chief concern," he said.

Hilfer explained later where the rabbits, rats and guinea pigs fit into the construction of a woman's face.

He said one way of using the animals involved shaving their stomachs and applying various types of makeup to the bare skin. If the rabbit's skin is still as fresh as a newborn bunny's after 10 days or more of wearing paint, the cosmetic probably is a safe bet for Mrs. America's face, he said.

In another test, a serum is prepared with liquid taken from rabbit cells mixed with lipstick, rouge or powder. This is filtered and injected into the rabbit.

If nothing happens, he said, it means that women probably can wear the cosmetics tested without fear of harm to their skin.

York And Vicinity

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. Abner Vessey and Miss Julia Vessey, York, on the death of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Vessey of Central Butte, Saskatchewan.

GENUINE ASPIRIN IS MARKED THIS WAY

Throwing cold water on the old Hindu rope trick, a couple of Task Force Frigid soldiers prove you can do it without being a fakir—if you've got Alaska's 56-below-zero temperature. First, Sgt. Carl Muldoon of Geneva, N. Y., gave the rope a few applications of water and let frigid nature take its course. Half an hour later, Muldoon tootled on an icicle flute while Pfc. Boxy Herd, Mineola, N. Y., registered amazement.
