Clarence "Windy" Steele returned to familiar haunts last night and although he did not take to the blades had a hand in the Summerside-Charlottetown game by managing the visitors from the bench. "Windy", looking much heavier than in days gone by, figured he wasn't quite in shape to play last night, but with a few more practice sessions under his belt may be heard from later in a more active role. The rugged right-winger would be a powerful addition to an already strong squad.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

The Summerside team have registered with the M. A. H. A. and when playoff time rolls around it will likely be a Charlottetown-Summerside series reminiscent of days gone by. The game last night wasn't productive of the best hockey, but it had its moments.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Interest in basketball is mounting these days. Saints, Navy and Arabs are bunched in a crowded first place position. If last night's games are any criterion of future play in the league it is a foregone conclusion that 'ere long the hoop game will enjoy a ranking position in the sports parade hereabouts.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Leadership of the City Hockey League will be at stake tonight when the two college teams meet in what is generally anticipated will be the game of the present series. The game is a mighty important one to both squads as they are tied in second position with four points apiece, one behind the Legionnaires. It also marks the last time these two teams will meet in the present schedule.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Prince of Wales will be top favorites as result of their 7-0 victory over the Saints in the final game of the first round last week, but, in a sense, the Saints were playing under wraps due to illness of several players and their only recent recovery. The game might well determine which team in the league will gain the coveted first place post in the playoffs.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

The master-minding of Johnny Squarebriggs and Jackie Kane, coaches of the Welshmen and Saints respectively, in directing the strategy in tonight's clash will be a major factor in the outcome. The taciturn Kane, still a bit shaken by last week's shut-out, would make no predictions other than indicating the Saints will be at full strength and the result should be a little more pleasing. The return of Hennessey to the lineup will provide much needed relief for "iron man" McAdam who has played the full sixty minutes of hockey in past games.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

The other day at a practice session of the Welshmen your correspondent had occasion to watch the lads go through their paces. Captain Tommy Keefe, perched perilously on the boards would every now and then just shake his head. Sidling over to the big defenceman we ventured a "what's wrong Tommy?" "Taint nuthin'," he says. "Leastwise nuthin' serious— with the team. But take a look at the Coach."

There on the bench was the ebullient Johnny "Snag" a wearin' a tam-o-shanter and attired in a mackinaw that was so loud you could hardly hear yourself speak.

"Them curlers," murmured Tommy, as in explanation.

"You know what?" says he. "The boss man is so engrossed in the British Consols Trophy play at the curling club these days that at local practice sessions when a guy breaks a stick he's been handing out brooms."

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

"Too bad," we sympathised.

"It wouldn't be so bad but now everytime we hit a guard— I mean defenceman — Johnny roars 'next time try an out-turn.'

"Don't be surprised tonight chum if, when one of our blokes hits the blue line, you hear a faint yelp of sweep from the bench instead of shoot."

"Does the Professor know," we queried.

"Nope" and I don't think he takes your paper and if he does he doesn't read the sports column and that's why I'm unburdening myself," says the hopeful from the local brain factory reassuringly.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

"Do we look like a bunch of curlers?" persisted Tommy.

"Not exactly," was our reply.

"Do we act like curlers?"

"No," we hastened to assure.

"Well why in tarnation do we have to listen to all the foreign lingo."

Just then the puck was shot into the boards and Tommy jumped into the play murmuring disgustingly "soop 'er up lads, we sure will tonight."

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Montague High School and Queen Square will meet in a return exhibition hockey game at the Forum tomorrow night at 7.30. The local school team won the game at Montague 4-2. A good number of fans are expected to accompany the team from the eastern centre in hopes of seeing their favorites even-up the series.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

On Saturday West Kent School team journeys to Georgetown where they will tangle with Georgetown School team in another exhibition tilt. Both these teams have victories over Montague this season so it will be interesting to see the results of this game. There will be a number of seats available for W. K. S. fans to accompany the team who are leaving by bus at 5.30 p.m.

Ch'town Legionnaires Defeat Summerside 7-6 In Exhibition Game At Forum

In a wide open, bitterly fought, rugged three periods, the Charlottetown Legionnaires eked out a victory over the Summerside Legion in a return exhibition match last night. The score was 7-6.

The game, reminiscent of pre "Big Four" days, was studded with arguments, fights and penalties and had the crowd on edge throughout. The Summerside "Vets" fought gamely right up to the final whistle and never throughout the whole encounter was it considered a sure thing for the Charlottetown squad.

At the end of the 1st period Charlottetown were leading 3 to 2 but in the second canto Summerside slapped in three goals to the local vets one to start the third with a one goal advantage.

In the final session after one minute of play the score was tied and then the battle started with both teams fighting for the advantage. The game was held up for 10 minutes when Schurman, netminder for the Summerside squad, was injured when struck on the forehead by a high shot from the stick of Shepherd who was right in on top when he let it go. After this break the Prowse-coached squad changed their tactics placing five forwards on the ice and the result was two goals by Dowling within forty seconds to apparently clinch the issue, but Summerside, not dismayed, banged in one with less than a minute to go and just missed the equalizer with only five seconds of play left.

Wide Open

Perry opened the scoring for Charlottetown, when Strain slipped him a pass with only one man to beat. Summerside returned the play when Davidson on a pass from Deighan, picked the corner of the net behind Weeks, who was playing his first game of the season, as custodian of the local vets nets. The game livened considerably after this equalizer and about the halfway mark, Worth from Strain and Perry made the score read two to one. Carver, emerging from a mixup in front of the Summerside cage put the Charlottetown boys two up, but Deighan and Davidson again combined to bring the Summerside squad out of the first session only one down.

Roughens Up

About the middle of the second canto "Av" Andrew and Trainor threw a few fists and both ended up in the cooler for a five minute stretch. The period went scoreless up to the 17:04 mark, when Deighan took advantage of a carelessly cleared puck in the local zone to bang in the equalizer. Spurred by this encouragement, the Summerside squad "turned it on". Davidson on a pass from Deighan made the score read 4 to 3 and less than a minute later Geisler unassisted put the Summerside squad two up. In the dying minute of the play "Fultie" Pound, rugged defence star for the Charlottetown Legionnaires slapped the disc into the corner of the net climaxing a play from Dowling.

Penalties Galore

Perry, combining with Worth and Strain evened the score in the second minute in the final session. Martin of the Western squad drew a penalty, and the local vets turned it on but were held by clever defensive play. About the middle of the stanza, M. MacDonald of the Charlottetown squad, drew a penalty for mixing it with Martin. Grady of Summerside followed two minutes later for interference, and Carver of the local Legion drew a penalty, when the puck was interfered with by a player who was on the ice. This left the local boys two men short, but the Summerside offensive was turned aside. Schurman, Summerside net-minder, received an injury to the head when struck by the puck and a ten minute break was called. After the recess Martin of Summerside drew a penalty and Roy Prowse, wiley coach of the Charlottetown squad, put on a power play using five forwards which ended up with Dowling netting the disc twice within forty seconds. S'side, not to be outdone and fighting to the last minute, scored when Bernard banged in a goal unassisted in the final minute of play Summerside kept up the pressure for the dying seconds and very nearly gained the equalizer in the last few seconds of play.

Picks Yankees To Win American Baseball League

By ROBERT MOORE

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 30 —(AP)—With the opening of the regular baseball season still weeks away, Arthur Beauregard (Bud) Metheny climbed out on the prediction limb here today and didn't flinch an eyelash in predicting New York Yankees would win the 1946 American League Championship.

"There's no doubt about it," said Metheny, regular rightfielder for Joe McCarthy's Yankees the last couple of seasons. "The Yankees have got all the stuff... name stars back .. a great defensive club .. the most power... young pitching ... what more would you ask for?"

Asked if he would go so far as to say the Yanks would win in a breeze, Metheny laughed a little.

"I wouldn't say that—exactly," the 28-year-old outfielder returned. "It may not be an easy season for the Yanks, Boston and Detroit will be plenty good, and I suppose New York will have to put up with Cleveland's pitching. It will be the best in the league."

"Babe" Pratt Enters Appeal

(By The Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Jan. 30—President Mervyn (Red) Dutton of the National Hockey League announced early tonight that he will decide whether an appeal by Walter (Babe) Pratt against expulsion from the N. H. L. and the Toronto Maple Leaf Club will be heard before a scheduled meeting of the board of governors in New York Feb. 15 or whether he will call a special meeting before that date.

Pratt's expulsion was announced yesterday by Dutton and the Toronto club because of Pratt's alleged involvement in betting practices.

Commenting tonight on Pratt's appeal, Dutton said the board of governors has the power to reverse his decision and reinstate Pratt.

Cards' Manager Promises New Star Catcher

By BEN PHLEGAR

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30 — Manager Eddie Dyer of St. Louis Cardinals promises that he has a young catcher that will make the fans forget Walker Cooper by the time he has played 25 games.

The youngster is Joe Garagiola, a St. Louis boy now in the army in the Pacific.

"The kid has everything," Dyer said enthusiastically. "He's a powerful left-handed hitter, has a wonderful arm and is a smart receiver. He's bound to make a few mistakes at first because he'll naturally be nervous. But give him a little time, about 25 or 30 big league games, and the fans will forget all about any loss we may have suffered in the sale of Cooper to the Giants."

Dyer said Garagiola probably will be discharged by mid-season under a recent War Department ruling which calls for the discharge of all men with two years' service by June 30, and "my catching worries will be over then."

Britain's celebrated statesman saw America's most famous jockey, Eddie Arcaro, guide the Chrysler colt home with two lengths to spare and he thoroughly enjoyed the sight, for a track sportsman reported that the wartime Prime Minister wagered a few bob on Cedar Creek because of the Bahram angle.

Bruins Regain Lead In National Hockey League

BOSTON, Jan. 30 — (AP) —Operating at top speed from start to finish, Boston Bruins regained the National Hockey League lead by topping Chicago Black Hawks, 4-3, tonight before a packed 13,900 crowd at the Boston Garden. A blistering second-period attack which netted two tallies clinched matters for the home forces.

Before toppling from the circuit's top rung for the fifth time this season, the Hawks put on a first period drive to gain a 2-1 lead on goals by Max Bentley and Pete Horeck before and after Bill Shill notched the first Boston tally.

Terry Reardon put the Bruins into a 2-2 tie and Bep Guidolin broke that deadlock in Boston's favor during the last minute of the second session after Don Gallinger set up his second scoring play of the game.

Early in the final frame, playing coach Dit Clapper, after a dash through the Chicago defence, put the Bruins into a 4-2 lead, reduced to a single goal when Pat Egan drew an interference penalty and Bill Mosienko scored while the Hawks were attacking with five forwards.

While moving a half-game ahead of the Hawks, the Bruins blasted goalie Mike Karakas with a total of 38 shots, an even dozen of which were fired by Woody Dumart, who was robbed at least three times by Karakas' superb stops.

Karakas was yanked out of the game for a sixth forward with about 20 seconds remaining.

Pratt Declares He Is Being 'Made The Goat'

TORONTO, Jan. 30 — (CP) — Walter (Babe) Pratt, Toronto Maple Leafs' towering, popular defenceman whose admitted addiction to betting on hockey games drew expulsion from the National Hockey League, said today he was innocent of any feeling of wrongdoing, that he never had bet against the Leafs.

His main desire, he said was "to get out of this jam and back playing hockey."

"My livelihood is at stake," said the 30-year-old Pratt in a statement replying to the expulsion announcement by League president Mervyn (Red) Dutton yesterday that Pratt's actions constituted "conduct prejudicial to the welfare of hockey."

The six-foot 2 1-2 inch native of Stony Mountain, Man., whose 10 seasons in the N.H.L. included service with New York Rangers before coming to Leafs in 1941, asserted that "it looks to me as if I'm the guy they want to get rid of."

"I admitted to Red Dutton that I had made wagers," he said. "I also assured Dutton I would never make a wager on hockey again and that I would not ever be seen again in the company of known gamblers.

"I'm not saying what other players have done or who made bets or anything else like that. I'm not talking about anybody else but myself. What else can I say but that it looks like I'm being made the goat?"

Pratt, who said earlier he would avail himself of an opportunity to have an appeal heard by a committee of three N.H.L. governors, indicated he would battle for reinstatement.

"I have given 11 years of my best playing services to hockey," he said. "I have a wife and two small children dependent on me, and I possess a minimum of funds."

Dutton said Pratt had told him voluntarily he had been approached in a bribery attempt. The League head emphasized he believed Pratt had refused the attempt, but said the N.H.L. constitution states a player must reveal immediately to the League any such attempt and that Pratt had been at fault in this respect.

Dutton added he had not told Pratt of the evidence against him and would not do so before the hearing. He had to consider the "good and protection" of the other players in the League and not his own impulses.

"I would have done exactly the same thing if my own son had been involved in a similar case," he said.

Fish No Longer Poor Man's Dish

MONTREAL, Jan 30 — (CP) — Hon. Ernest Bertrand, Postmaster General and former Minister of Fisheries in the Dominion Government, told a luncheon gathering today that fish once considered a poor man's dish, now is a meal de luxe, a feast for connoisseurs when it is well prepared.

Addressing the St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club, Mr Bertrand said "Canadian fisheries should be modernized without any delays. They should be included among Canada's outstanding industries... Last year Canadian fishermen caught 1,203,000,000 pounds, worth about $49,881,000."
