IN MEMORIAM

MR. THOMAS P. CASS.

On Wednesday, Aug. 11, 1915, there passed away in the person of Thomas P. Cass, North River, one of the best known and highly esteemed residents of that district. In his kindly hospitable home when every one was welcomed, and in the community at large where he was always foremost in every progressive work that stood for the betterment of the people, he will be much missed. His generous sacrifice of a beautiful home and devoted wife and family. When God called him in the prime of life, and the fervor of his final preparation, when receiving the last sacraments of the Holy Catholic Church both edified his sorrowing family and friends who surrounded his bedside, and gave promise of a happy eternity. He leaves to mourn besides his widow seven sons and three daughters all in the homestead, also a sister Mrs. M. Walsh, Charlottetown, a step mother and step-sister at home and two step-sisters in United States. His funeral was very largely attended,

—A DROP IN EGGS.—Mr. Aubin J. Gallant egg collector was at Wellington last week with a load of eggs. It seems that his horse was well secured while he was doing business in the store. A wrecking train was ordered out from Charlottetown, and arrived about 11.10. Considerable inconvenience was experienced by the railway people in transferring the mails to the express and baggage from the boat to the Western train, which was sent to Charlottetown, taking the place of the disabled train. BANKER'S CLOTHES

Mill to Man

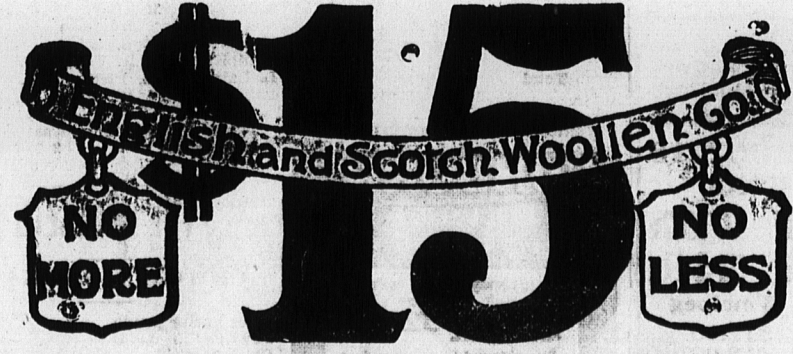

It used to be that Bankers Captains of Industry and man with "big rolls" generally, were the only ones that could afford to gratify their desire for good clothes—today—it doesn't matter if you are so short of the "ready" that you have to skimp and squeeze to get together the price of a decent suit—you get exactly the same all-round value as the man who comes in and peels our price off a fat wad without noticing any difference.

We stand ready to serve all—the family man with a brood of youngsters to raise, or the young chap just starting out in life, each man gets the squarest kind of a square deal every time he leaves us fifteen dollars in exchange for a specially tailored suit that "stands up."

We look after your "extra" wishes without holding you up with "extra" charges. The little specials are given in free—you can't pay us more than $15 "the famous price for the famous suit" that brought good tailoring within the reach of every man.

Suit or Overcoat Made-to-Measure

At 158 Richmond St. Ch'town, P. E. I.

Out-of-Town-Men

At no cost to you we send you, anywhere, widely varied samples, style book, self-measuring chart and tape. If you're "back o' beyond" all you have to do to dress like the best in Town is to mail us a postal and we'll do the rest. Fifteen dollars—that's all. Address:—Mail Order Dept., 415 St. Catherine St. East, Montreal.

Getting Close to the Customer Many little extras can be added to a suit to please a customer if the tailor feels so disposed, without making such a great difference to the cost of production, and I have yet to run across the man who doesn't appreciate anything we do for him along the lines of personal attention. There's a lot of "human" in all of us, and though it's only good business to strive to please, I like to see a salesman get close to his customers and make them feel that we appreciate their confidence in us in coming back time after time, as much as we do the patronage they give us.
