The audience was a good one for a Saturday evening, and greatly enjoyed the play.

On Saturday night laundrymen at John Ling's experienced something similar to the excitement which prevails at a "run" on a failed bank. During the afternoon in the middle of the rush of preparing citizen's wash for Sunday wear their boiler gave out and refused to be of further assistance.

As a result what remained unfinished had to be rushed by hand and they attempted to do this in preparation to be a hopeless task, viz: that of finishing up an enormous heap of shirts, collars, etc. in the evening, to prevent unnecessary interruption, they closed their doors and up to eleven o'clock they toiled in the large numbers were continuously hanging at the door. All kinds of conjectures were heard and even the police disturbed the "washers" men. Those who finally gained admittance at eleven found a mass of laundered goods on the shelves and counters, a majority of which was unwashed and unwrapped. Then confusion ensued. Everyone there afraid of their Sunday attire, clamoured for theirs and hopeless tangles ensued, by which some got part of their own and some one else's laundry and others nothing at all. Much dissatisfaction and little sympathy for the hitherto frantic Chinks was expressed. The Chinamen, like other citizens, have their troubles and but seldom inconvenience customers, hence in an emergency of this nature their patrons should bear with them until they straighten things out.

HEART RIGHT

When He Quit Tea and Coffee.

Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble.

The reason is obvious. This is a certain matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his best what such heart trouble is caused by an uncorrected thing and can be corrected if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical invalid, suffering from heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings."

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my ill-health, till, on applying for life insurance, I was rejected on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether and having been attracted by the advertisements of Postum I began its use."

"The change in my condition was remarkable. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nervousness disappeared, and most important of all, my heart steadied down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the Life Insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum worked the change. Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario."

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The farewell meeting of Ensign and Mrs. Hargrove took place last night in the S. A. Citadel which was crowded to the doors. During their stay in this city they have endeared themselves to all and by their faithful and interesting labors have indeed accomplished much for the welfare of the City. Their departure from Charlottetown will be deeply regretted. Many expressions of blessing the Ensign and his wife had been to them during their stay, while W. Acorn and Horace McEwen spoke on behalf of the friends. "Tomorrow thou shalt be missed for thy seat will be empty." "I Samuel, 20-100."

BORN

MALONE—At Portage, on July 2nd to J. J. and Mrs. Malone, a son. Congratulations.

THE DALZIEL INQUEST

that the shock may seriously affect her.

The funeral of the deceased will take place today at 2.30 p. m. from his late residence 12 Upper Queen Street. It will be with military honors, the deceased having been a driver of 4th Reg't C. A. The remains will be conveyed on a gun carriage drawn by six horses and interment will be made in the People's Cemetery.

Young Dalziel was a young man of fine character and had a good record. He was very popular and a good workman and contributed to the support of the home of the members of which now keenly feel the bereavement they are called on to bear. Much sympathy has been felt for them in their sorrow and for the young man who was called away under such sad circumstances.

In Zion Church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. R. G. Strathe, made the following reference to Dalziel's death:

"We are told by the Apostle Paul to rejoice with those who do rejoice and to weep with those that weep, for there is weeping in the world as well as rejoicing. Yesterday the sad news quickly passed over the city of the sudden and accidental death of Arthur Dalziel who was employed by the Quarry Company that furnished the stone for the basement of the new Zion. He was unloading stone from his cart when the fall of the derrick caught him unawares and almost instantly crushed out his life. From this pulp it is more than once told you that sacrifice is the price of progress; and now the truth is brought home to us in our own church work, and our new Zion has had its baptism of blood. No great enterprise has even been undertaken that has not exacted its toll in the lives of workers. Huesisson who promoted the first railway was killed by the train that made its first journey over the rails his enterprise caused to be laid. Within the past few weeks we have been almost appalled to read in our newspapers of the numbers of operators who have yielded their lives in exploiting the new art of air navigation. One short month ago the ministers of war of France was killed by an uncontrollable air machine, and the premier of France lies today with broken limbs as the result of the same accident. A family who worships in this church had the sad duty this week of laying to rest the body of a loved son suddenly called to give up his life while pursuing the path of duty in a western district. Such accidents—disasters we sometimes call them—will happen despite our best care. We nevertheless sincerely regret them, and in the one that has come so closely home to us because it happened where the new Zion is being built our hearts are filled with a great sorrow at its occurrence. To the bereaved father and mother and all the relatives of this young man I know that Zion Church extends its deepest sympathy."

To prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove dandruff, allay itching and irritation of the scalp, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, succeed when other methods fail. Cuticura Soap and Ointment have been equally effective in the treatment of itching, disfiguring scalp humors and the alarming loss of hair which so often results. For example, read how George E. Jefferson, 1518 Reed St., Philadelphia, tells of his remarkable case:

"My disease started with a little pimple on my head. Then it began to itch. The more I would scratch, the worse it grew until it spread all over my head. So I went to the doctor. But my head grew raw and a piece of beef and my hair commenced to fall out in bunches. So I was so sore I could not touch my head. I decided to go to the hospital. They began to treat it but it improved very slowly. For over three years I was a sufferer from this disease. I thought all hopes of a permanent cure were impossible. A friend, upon seeing the condition of my head which was a mass of running corruption, asked me if I had tried the Cuticura Remedies. I told him nothing would do me any good but being very anxious to be cured, I decided to try them. The first treatment brought immediate relief. My hair began to grow and I am perfectly well and have a full head of hair. I can truthfully say that I am entirely due to the use of the Cuticura Remedies."
