—LOSES HORSE IN STORM — Mr. Lyman Hall of Sherbrooke had the misfortune to lose a good work horse during the bad storm on Thursday. Mr. Hall had great difficulty getting through the drifts into Summerside on his daily milk round on Thursday morning, and when near the standpipe at the approach to the north end of the town, his horse stumbled several times through the heavy snow and finally collapsed. Mr. Hall took off the harness and moved the sleigh away, but the animal did not rise. He then covered him with a rug and went to get Dr. Garland, whose home was near at hand. The doctor examined the horse and found the animal to be dead. Mr. Hall said it was very seldom that a horse is over-

Tournament Concluded

Last Friday night's C. Y. M. L. Card Party marked the end of the first and a highly successful Auction Forty-fives Tournament. Runners-up played with great caution and eagerness Friday night in a last bid for the big prizes. Eva and Mosie holding second highest aggregate scores came strong and almost outbid Mrs. Gaudet and Earl for the tournament awards. Mrs. Gaudet with a score of 7135 received a beautiful comforter and Earl Gaudet with 7045 a fur cap as tournament prizes.

Card parties will be continued throughout the winter until Lent and next Friday night's game will be the opener of the New Year's tournament.

Friday night's "Freeze-out" was a thriller! After F. E. Douro had won the second game and reached forty on Mrs. Gaudet's side, it was almost certain that Ben's first game was surely the proverbial "baby's game." But no luck changed: Ben hung the forty and carried off the prize.

Here are the prize-getters of Friday night's game:—Mrs. Earl Soudbury, Ladies' First—Eileen Carver. Gentlemen's First—Mosie Blackquere.

Gentlemen's Consolation—Buddy Arenalout. "Freeze-Out"—Ben Arenalout.

Tournament winners: Ladies' First—Mrs. Stephen Gaudet. Gentlemen's First—Earl Gaudet.

Here's just another proof that "he who perseveres to the end shall succeed." Mrs. Gaudet's side was a first prize throughout the tournament and Earl only one, yet both won the tournament prizes.—S.

Falls in British Guiana Discovered By Canadian

From British Guiana, the only Empire colony on the continent of South America, comes news of the discovery by a party of Canadian gold-seekers of a great water-curtain some 600 feet high which tumbles down a rocky gorge. To it they have given the name, Marina Falls in honor of the Duchess of Kent, the bride of Prince George. Appropriately it is stated the falls in appearance bear a similarity to a huge bridal veil. British Guiana has other known falls, the greatest being the Kaieteur, or Old Man's Falls, on the Potaro, a tributary of the Essequibo River, which has a total height of 822 feet, five times the height of Niagara, and varies in width from 350 to 400 feet, depending upon the season of the year. Other noted falls are the Tumucumaque on the Essequibo River, and Etahalli, on the Demerara River. Sir Walter Raleigh searched British Guiana in 1595 in search of Eldorado, the mythical City of Gold which filled the imagination of the Spaniards for nearly a century. He published a book on his travels to England called the "Discoverie of Guiana." His son lies buried on Tortuga Island in the Orinoco. Following Raleigh's visit, the country was made known to Europeans and English, French and Dutch traders made their appearance on the coast. The name "Guiana" is derived from an Indian word meaning "water," given to the region extending from the Orinoco to the Amazon. Columbus on his third voyage in 1498 passed the mouth of the Orinoco and was followed the next year by Amerigo Vesputi and in 1509 by Pizarro. In addition to gold, diamonds are also found in the country and there are extensive deposits of bauxite from which much of the aluminum manufactured in North America is obtained. Many Canadians have become familiar with British Guiana on the cruises operated by the "Lady" liners and "sabbond cruise" ships of the Canadian National Steamships from Canada.

Winnipeg Health Insurance Scheme

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) Winnipeg, Dec. 26.—Selecting the municipality of Woodworth with a 2,000 population as its laboratory, the Manitoba Department of Health contemplates a two-year practical test of a health insurance scheme. Slated to start in the spring if the Municipal Council votes its approval the plan provides:

- 1.—Complete medical service, including surgery, hospitalization and cost of prescriptions.
- 2.—Payment of doctors' fees and hospital charges through taxation on property and a poll tax.
- 3.—Right of the individual, within reasonable limits, to choose his own physician or surgeon and select the hospital to which he desires to go for treatment.
- 4.—Maintenance of competition between doctors, continuance of the high standard of medical care and protection against racketeering by doctors.

"There will be nothing compulsory about the scheme," said Dr. F. W. Jackson, Deputy Minister of Health, who framed the plan after many years study and actual experience as a country doctor. Administration was the key to the scheme's success, he said.

come in a storm. The animal was a good strong horse, and he evidently had been smothered by the heavy drifts. Dr. Garland loaned Mr. Hall a horse to continue his round, and he arrived home safely about four o'clock. He said it was one of the worst storms he had experienced. S.

New Annan Relief Car

Those who contributed to the above car, people of all denominations in Sherbrooke, Traveller's Rest, New Annan, Wilmet Valley, North Bedouque will be pleased to know that the car arrived in Loreburn, Sask., on Dec. 18th in good time for Christmas, bringing good cheer to a whole community in a time of need. The following extract from a letter received by Rev. Mr. Nicholson of North Bedouque tells its own story.

Loreburn, Sask. Dec. 20, 1934

Dear Mr. Nicholson: I do not know whether you are the proper person for me to write to or not, but we do want to say "Thank you" as effectually as possible for the splendid lot of potatoes, turnips, etc., that your people have sent us. We appreciate them more than words can express, and we want the donors to know that they are meeting a real need.

Loreburn is about 100 miles N. W. of Moose Jaw, close to the South Saskatchewan River. This district is in the northern section of the dried-out area and has suffered a good deal during the last six years from drought, grass-hoppers, and the general depression.

Last year we had no feed for stock and most of the animals had to be wintered in the north country, the government and railways paying the transportation. This year we have about enough rough feed for the stock but no threshed grain.

Our people have almost no income at all and nearly all are receiving relief, the majority being almost wholly dependent on it. Our municipality brought in three car loads of potatoes but it was not nearly enough and the ones you sent were all needed. Even the turnips were much appreciated. Everything was in good condition except the cabbages. The heated car was a bit too much for them.

A few P. E. I. people were especially glad to get some "real Island potatoes." Please convey to the people our heartfelt thanks for their very generous gift.

Most gratefully yours, C. S. Kisev, Minister, United Church

Must Maintain Freedom of Press

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—An immediate convention of 1,200 newspaper editors of the United States to consider the National Labor Relations Board action in the San Francisco call-bulletin case "as it affects their continuance under the Daily Newspaper Code was announced tonight by Howard Davis, Chairman of the Publishers' National Code Committee.

Davis, who is also President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, issued his statement after the Labor Board at Washington asked the NRA compliance division to remove the Call-Bulletin's blue eagle for falling to heed the Board's order for the reinstatement of Dean S. Jennings, a rewrite man.

The Board's action was termed by Davis "an attempt to curtail power over the code for the daily newspaper publishing business which is specifically prohibited" by provisions giving the Newspaper Industrial Board jurisdiction over all labor disputes.

"The issue raised by the National Labor Relations Board is precipitated the gravest problem with which the press of this country has yet been confronted," the statement added.

The statement included a letter to the National Recovery Administration, outlining the publishers' viewpoint and signed by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, Del-Mar-Va Association, Inland Daily Press Association and Pacific Northwest Newspaper Association.

The letter reviewed the newspapers' insistence on writing into their code a guarantee of the constitutional right of a free press and the provision that the code could be altered only with the consent of each signing publisher.

"The precedent set by this case, if sustained," the Association stated, "destroys at a stroke the essential safeguard of the freedom of the press contained in the newspaper code. If the newspapers submitted to it, the threat for the future would be clear."

Old Sugar Bowl Valued Keepsake

LEBRUN, Sask., Dec. 26.—(By Canadian Press)—An old-fashioned sugar bowl in the possession of J. Larocque here is a treasured keepsake. It was used in the camp of Louis Riel and Gabriel Dumont prior to the rout of the Metis, at Batoche, during the Northwest rebellion, in 1885.

The glass bowl was an importation from England by the Hudson's Bay Company and was taken in a raid by the Metis and Indians just before the outbreak at Duck Lake. After their defeat at Batoche Dumont with some of his followers raced for the United States border-line.

They appeared at the home of Mrs. Larocque, late one night and offered her the sugar bowl, among other things, in exchange for food supplies. The rebels later reached the border in safety.

Criticizes Car Tariff Regulations

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 26.—Criticism of tariff regulations as they affect export of automobiles manufactured in Canada was voiced by Wallace R. Canpoell, President of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, at a meeting of automobile editors of Canadian newspapers and magazines here.

Mr. Canpoell, turned the intricate Empire tariff facts as "various and discriminatory" and intimated the tariffs may seriously affect his organization's export business.

New Zealand, he said, insisted upon a 75 percent Canadian content in cars imported into that Kingdom. He said demanded a 50 percent native content.

"We are not at this moment sure we can meet the required 75 percent in this new product," said Mr. Campbell, referring to the 1931 models, presented for the first time yesterday. The new car, he explained, required a wide variety of new parts and because of this he has doubt of his company's ability to meet tariff requirements.

NEW RUM CONTROL BOARD PROVIDED BY LEGISLATION

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 30.—Jamaica starts the New York with new legislation, the Rum Control Act, aimed at preventing over-production of the alcoholic beverage "with its disastrous effects on orderly marketing."

For the first time in many years, counsel, wigged and gowned appeared before the Bar of the Legislative Council and prayed for permission to present their views just before the Bill was to be read for a second time. Granted leave to speak, they outlined the stand taken by leading sugar and rum producers, whom they represented.

Besides controlling the production of rum manufactured on the island, the act calls for a "Rum Control Board" and allows for the regulation of retail prices in Jamaica.

Clause 3 sets out the duties allocated to the Board who will advise the governor as to the maximum retail prices which the chief of state is empowered to fix.

The Governor is also authorized to grant licenses to persons other than those mentioned in the schedules which shall become approved manufacturers. The Bill provides what shall be deemed offenses and provides punishment. Only "approved manufacturers" can now enter into the rum trade as producers in Jamaica.

TO STIMULATE GREYHOUND RACING

(By The Canadian Press) PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Dec. 30.—The "Totalisator," the mechanical form of pari-mutuel betting that registers the total sum staked on each entry, will probably come to Trinidad with greyhound racing. Major V. C. Hollender said. Major Holland was in the colony to stimulate interest in greyhound racing.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 30 — A plan for free distribution of milk in city schools and colleges was under consideration of the Department of Health and Welfare of Newfoundland. It was estimated 5,000 children would receive the free distribution and experiments will be made.

I'M ALONE CASE BEFORE JURISTS

By Richard Rendell, Associated Press Staff Writer (By Guardian's Special Wire) WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A jurid account of pre-rape liquor smuggling practices that portrayed the ship "I'm Alone" as the instrument of a New York rum running syndicate today was presented to the American-Canadian Judicial Commission.

A background of murder and intrigue was thrown around the case by George Wharton Pepper, American agent, who is arguing against Canada's claim of $386,000 for the sinking of the vessel off the Louisiana coast by a United States coast guard boat in 1929.

The two commissioners, Willis Venable, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court and Sir Lyman Poore Duff, Chief Justice of Canada, heard the reading of a mass of affidavits as Dan Hogan, a New York racketeer alleged to have been a part owner of the ship, sat in the local jail ready to be called to testify.

Hogan, convicted of conspiring to violate the Prohibition Act, was brought here from Northeastern Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pa., last night under heavy guard.

Captain John Randall, skipper of the "I'm Alone" sat with members of the crew also awaiting the call to testify.

"Who owned the 'I'm Alone'?" he was asked, after Pepper had declared the ship to be of American ownership and John Read, Canadian agent, had said it had flown the British flag legitimately and was of bona fide Canadian registry.

"I don't know," the thin-faced sailor replied. "It is not the part of a master to inquire who owns the ship over which he has charge." Evidence of the ownership of the vessel came in an affidavit prepared by Marvin J. ("Big Jim") Clark who, Pepper said, was murdered after he made his deposition.

The price paid for the vessel was given as $18,000 plus a $600 commission paid to George Heazell of Montreal, agent for the original owners whose names were not given, and $300 or $400 later paid to make up for differences in the exchange. The transactions were made in October, 1929.

Later Clark, his statement said, was in contact with the vessel off the Gulf Coast and on several occasions had loaded the schooner off "Trinity shoals, on the Coast of Louisiana."

He said that he had advised Captain Randall, that he should never let the coast guard put a line on the ship but rather let the vessel be sunk.

He said he had unloaded the "I'm Alone" through contact boats and had loaded liquor at various points in the vicinity of Orleans and Vermilion parishes, Louisiana.

Before the start of the hearings, which may last several days, Associate Justice Vandervanter of the United States Supreme Court and Sir Lyman Poore Duff, Chief Justice of Canada, who are sitting in the court in the case, paid a call of respect upon President Roosevelt.

Another affidavit read was from John Magnus who said that in April of 1928 he had sold the "I'm Alone" to one Christian J. J. J. for $10,000.

Another affidavit from one Alex Bryan said that he had bought a $5,000 interest in it from Clark in a transaction executed at the Monteleone Hotel, New Orleans, 1929.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Friedman, coast guard cryptanalyst, testified she had deciphered a number of code messages alleged to give instructions for sailing of the "I'm Alone" and disposition of the cargo.

Evidence indicated that the messages were exchanged between Belize, British Honduras, and New York.

The call letter at New York was Moccana and the cable address at Belize was Carmelha.

Edson J. Shanhart, the customs officer, said the messages addressed to Moccana went to a hotel and were subsequently relayed by telephone to Hogan at an apartment in New York.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Dec. 26.—A former premier of New Brunswick, Mr. Justice C. D. Richards, Fredericton, will head the board of review for that province under the Farmers Creditors Act. It was learned today at the office of Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes. Mr. Richards resigned the premiership two years ago to become a judge of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick.

John D. Palmer, Fredericton manufacturer, will be the commissioner representing the creditors and Arthur McIntosh, Chatham farmer, will represent the interests of the debtors.

Probable Cause Of Cancer Growth

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 29.—Two McGill University scientists reported today to the Genetics Society of America that they have found evidence to cause them to think cancer may be caused by early splitting of chromosomes—microscopic things in each body cell that govern heredity.

Prof. C. L. Huskins and Dr. Marie Hearne, in explaining their investigation of the past two years, emphasized that theirs is an entirely indirect attack on the cancer problem and not connected with a cure.

All chromosomes split during growth, which occurs when a cell divides. One half stays in the original cell and the other half goes into the new cell.

The report stated that in numerous types of animal cancers different workers have found that chromosomes split prematurely, but that most of them previously have thought this was a result of cancer growth and not a cause of forerunner.

Prof. Huskins said at least another years work will be required to determine positively whether his hypothesis about the premature splitting is correct.

Synthetic Glass From Coal Tar

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Department of Scientific and Industrial Research has been experimenting for some time now with a new plastic material, or synthetic resin, made from black coal-tar, which is as clear and transparent as glass, half as heavy, and apparently quite unbreakable. Articles made from this product are now on view at the Cardiff Engineering Exhibition, and these seem to bear out the claim that the material is the nearest approach to glass in transparency.

The objects made of this new material that are on view at present at the Cardiff Exhibition, include candlesticks, powder and trinket boxes, salt cellars and trays all made by Lady Gertrude Crawford and Mr. A. L. Hetherington, of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research. Two of the most talented amateur turners in the country. They have been made on an ornamental lathe, employing complicated chucks, and have been designed to show utility and beauty for form. The Queen has accepted some examples of the work.

In addition to the wares made from this new substance, there are also on view at the exhibition articles turned by the same craftsmen from an analogous material, also recently produced experimentally by Imperial Chemical Industries. This is also a glass-like substance with an identical refractive index to glass made from coal, but in quite a different way from that discovered by the department.

REQUEST INDIANS TO SHOW CULTURE

(By The Canadian Press) PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Dec. 30.—A letter written in Wardha, by Mahatma Gandhi was brought to this colony by two Indians, Babu Shri Kuarasinh and Babu Bholosingh, who came from India. The letter, a message to Trinidad Indians, was addressed to "Dear Friends," and read as follows:

"Please tell the Indians living in Trinidad that the Motherland expects them to show in that distant foreign land the best of Indian culture. I would like them to send some boys and girls with sufficient scholarships to carry on their studies in India, so as to fit them for better service on their return. This means that the boys and girls who are selected should have good character to their credit, and have the spirit of service in them."

Stork Races Train And Wins Event

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 26.—For the second time in three days a Canadian National freight train had a race with the stork and although the train was hitting it up at forty-five miles an hour, the stork got there first, with the result that an eight-pound baby girl was left in the caboose in one case and in the other a bouncing baby boy. Both mothers and children are doing well. In the first case the freight train picked up a siding to meet another freight eastbound and Conductor J. H. Allan, of Winnipeg, finding that the stork was going to win out, arranged for the wife of a section hand living near the siding, Mrs. P. Gaignault, to ride along with the mother also. The conductor suggested to the husband that he get in touch with a doctor from a station on the way and arrange for a nurse as well as for the doctor. All speed was put on to reach the station, Elma, where arrangements had been made to have the doctor and nurse on hand, but four miles out the stork with the baby arrived. A good fire was put on in the stove in the caboose and all available blankets were pressed into use. On arrival at Elma the nurse was on hand but the doctor had not reached up and was being brought to the hospital at Port William but the stork again won the race and at Kashabaw he arrived with a bouncing baby boy.

Centenarian Celebrates Birthday

Robert Evans Reputed To Be Oldest Resident in N. B., Observes 106th Birthday.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) FREDERICTON, N. B., Dec. 26.—In the little back settlement of Zionville, six miles from the nearest telephone and the postoffice of Taymouth, York County, Robert Evans today quietly celebrated what he thinks was his 106th birthday. He is reputed to be the oldest resident of New Brunswick.

Although he has not been so active during the past year, he rests lightly on his ancient shoulders. He now spends his days at the farm of a nephew, Richard Evans, where there were four generations of the Evans family to join in the birthday observance. Robert Evans, while having spent his lifetime as a teacher, is a great great uncle, and member of the four generations reside on the same property.

Expect Saw Her In the years when lumbering was booming in the Nashwaak Valley, Evans was an expert logger. He and his older brother, Richard, who died last year at the reputed age of 107, were active in the lumber woods and mills of the Valley. Robert doing much of the work at Maryville. A third brother, Thomas, younger than the others, two died a quarter century or so ago, was the farmer of the family. It is on his homestead that Evans and his son, lives. Nearby, the latter's son, Malcolm, resides with his wife and two small daughters.

Last fall the centenarian did his share of potato digging and picking, 16 barrels having been his accomplishment for one week. This winter he stays indoors most of the time.

Buffalo Hides

CHURCHILL, Man., Dec. 26.—(By Canadian Press)—Reports that 300 green buffalo hides are being shipped here for distribution among Eskimos are not finding favor with tribesmen along the northern shores of Hudson Bay. A shipment was sent to Chesterfield Inlet, 150 miles north of here, two years ago but only those in dire straits would accept one.

The native, constantly on the move, must travel light. Even when rough-tanned, the buffalo hides are so heavy that the Eskimo who must take his family and equipment with him, soon discards them. The women find great difficulty drying the hides in their igloo.

Caribou skin is the favorite of the northern native for both garments and sleeping bench covering. It is light warm and easily tanned. A buffalo covering for sleeping bench and igloo and a sleeping bag would weigh in the neighborhood of 100 pounds.

Of Welsh Ancestry

Born in Ireland of Welsh ancestry, Robert Evans and his four brothers and two sisters were among the pioneer families at Zionville. Robert is the only surviving member of that early settler family who went into the forest in 1851 and cleared a place for their home.

Together with their parents, Richard and Susan Matthews, Evans, they sailed for New Brunswick in the spring of 1838, arriving at Saint John "the year after the cholera." At that time Queen Victoria had been on the throne but one year.

The party, after being set on from Ireland, suffered shipwreck near Plymouth, Eng., and had to continue their voyage on another ship. They resided in Saint John 13 years before removing to the Nashwaak.

According to his belief and that of his late brother, Robert was born in 1828 at Aldredgia, a small village near the City of Cork. It is said, however, that a fire destroyed the church where the documentary evidence of his birth and that of other members of the family could have been.
