WANT NEW TRIAL FOR CHAS. BECKER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.— A motion for a new trial for Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant convicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was made in the Supreme Court today Martin T. Manton, Becker's counsel based his motion on newly discovered evidence to the effect that one of the state's witnesses to a material fact had testified falsely at Becker's second trial.

ANGUS DILLARD ISLAND CHAMPION

The final series of the Championship pace was run off yesterday afternoon. The ice was in pretty good condition, there being only a few bad places. The race resulted in a great contest between Princess Etta and Angus Dillard. The Princess won the first heat by about 2 feet in the fastest time of the race, 1.02. In the second heat she went to a bad break and Dillard won. The third heat Etta came back strong and won after a neck and neck struggle all the way, in 1.2½. The fourth heat was very close and was pronounced a dead heat by the judges. The fifth and sixth heats were won by Angus Dillard. This finishes the championship series and as Angus has beaten all the pacers he is entitled to the title of Champion. Angus is a chestnut coming 5 years. He was purchased from W. C. Crummer, of Chatham, Ontario, last fall after he had paced the fastest fifth heat ever paced over a Canadian half-mile track, his time for the half being 1.4½. In Princess Etta he has, however, met his match and whenever they meet there is uncertainty as to the outcome.

A PRIZE COW.— On Wednesday evening, February 24th, "Milkmaid 7th" the world's record Ayrshire Cow presented Andrew McRae & Sons with a pair of calves one a heifer and the other a bull. Mr. McRae sold "Milkmaid 7th's" last calf to Laurie Bros., Ontario for $500.00 when 6 months old and was offered very tempting prices for this calf before it was dropped. Now however, she has given a pair and Mr. McRae is very proud as they are both quite the ... Ayrshire calves of their own ... they have now 10 heads of the ... "Milkmaid" family, which has not only contested the herd of McRae ... the would-be leader, but has made P... opponents last week the Ayrshire ... them the Triple Alliance ... used the ire of the latter to such a degree that they threw love to the winds and went after the cockey belligerents hip and thigh and knocked the German feathers out of them, and with the feathers the hope of getting into Paris. The two former champions are running neck and neck at the rear of the ranks, the proper position for generals to occupy. The following actions took place: General Worthy defeated Brigadier Louson; Cavalry Commander Tanton placed Colonel Woodman hors de combat; Field Marshal Mutch won a signal victory over General Tanton's squadron; Surgeon-Colonel Ross of the Heavy Brigade defeated Veterinary-Brigadier Lundie. A movement is on foot to form a second contingent of raw recruits, as the first contingent is now almost annihilated. The next engagement takes place next Wednesday, when the raw recruits will be put in the trenches.

FAMOUS NOVEL "CALLED BACK" MAKES GREAT FILM PLAY

"Called Back" was the title of an intensely interesting drama which was shown at the Prince Edward Theatre last evening to crowded houses. The plot centres around a Nihilist gang and Pauline, the pretty daughter of its leader, and it is developed in a clever manner. Vaughan, a rich young Londoner, temporarily loses the use of his eyes and goes to a noted eye specialist, who informs him that an operation will restore his sight. On his way home his valet, who accompanies him, leaves him to go to the druggist's to have a prescription filled. Unhappily the man is knocked down by a passing cab and Vaughan, after a tiresome wait at the corner, induces a drunken man to take him to his house. The man takes him to a house bearing the right number, but in the wrong street. Vaughan's key, by a coincidence, fits the strange door and he feels his way into what he supposes to be his own drawing-room, but which, as a matter of fact, is the rendezvous of the Nihilists, who happen at the moment to be quarrelling with a young man, the brother of Pauline. In the heat of the quarrel one of the gang kills the young man and the shock of the incident stuns Pauline, who loses her memory. Observing the blind man Vaughan in their midst, the gang force him to drink an opiate, and ascertaining from his papers his residence, they take him secretly to his own door and leave him there. Two years later Vaughan, his sight restored, is in Venice on pleasure bent and meets Pauline, whom he eventually marries under peculiar circumstances, after several futile attempts to make her acquaintance.

He discovers that she has lost her memory. After a long and exciting series of events the leader of the gang is arrested in Russia and sent to Siberia, while one of the gang in London murders one Petroff, a traitor to the society, and is consequently a fugitive. He enters the home of Vaughan and tries to force Pauline to give him assistance. The police rush in at the critical moment and shoot him down. In these circumstances the girl regains her memory and, in the full realisation of her husband's love for her, she falls into his outstretched arms. The other pictures were excellent. "The Submarine Spy" being particularly interesting at the present time. "The Hoodoo Letters" and "One on Jones" furnished the necessary comedy. The singing of Mr Huskins in "A Wee Hoose Amang the Heather" was loudly applauded.

Once More From New Brunswick

Comes a Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

William Nash, Well-known Farmer, Tells How They Cured Him After Two Years' Suffering.

Marchbank, Kings Co., N. B., March 1.—(Special.)—After two years' suffering from Kidney Disease, William Nash, a well-known farmer here,, is a well man and, like many another in his neighborhood, he is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My trouble started from a strain," Mr. Nash says, "and for two years it gradually grew worse. My appetite was fitful, I had dark circles around my eyes and my skin had a harsh, dry feeling and itched and burned at night. I was troubled with headaches, cramps in the muscles and stiffness of the joints Rheumatism finally developed and I was a sick man generally, when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills They helped me almost from the start, and two boxes cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply cure sick kidneys. They cured Mr. Nash because every one of his ailments is a symptom of Kidney Disease. Anybody who has any two of these symptoms needs a Kidney remedy, and the greatest of all Kidney remedies is Dodd's Kidney Pills.
