

ECZEMA LOTION

We guarantee this lotion to cure any case of Eczema or such skin troubles. It has cured hundreds of cases. If you are troubled with any such disease, try it, only 25c. Money back if it fails to cure.

H.A. ELLIS,
Charlottetown.

45c Post Free

Pretty Cushion Tops, stamped with any of the following town names:

CHARLOTTETOWN
ALBERTON,
MONTAGUE,
GEORGETOWN,
SOURIS,
SUMMERSIDE.

Name enclosed in a garland of tinted Autumn Mapleleaves. State whether tan or cream color preferred.

Weeks & Co.,
Charlottetown.
3 dwf

Good Glasses

And Good Eyesight

If one must wear glasses, only good ones can give good eyesight. The very cheap class of glasses are not only not a help to the eyes, but are in the long run a positive detriment. We cannot too insistently urge upon those who are about to adopt glasses or those who are already wearing cheap, unsatisfactory kinds the great importance of buying glasses of an experienced and capable optician, who has both the knowledge and the instruments for properly testing and fitting your eyes. Come to the E. W. Taylor Store for any need whatsoever in the line of glasses. Gold-filled spectacles, warranted 10 years, complete with lenses $3.00 and many other kinds of both spectacles and eyeglasses.

E. W. Taylor,
Cameron Block.

SANITARY PLUMBING.

How often disease and sickness comes in the home, and very often the cause is with the plumbing. We always pay particular attention to the sanitary laws, as this is very important to the maintenance of health. Our plumber is a first-class man, and can be relied upon in fitting up this class of work in the most up-to-date and sanitary manner. We use none but the very best quality of goods on the market and we can guarantee entire satisfaction in every respect. Give us a call when in need of any plumbing work done.

Bruce Stewart & Co.
Founders, Engineers, Machinists and Boiler Makers
Steam Navigation Co's Wharf,
Charlottetown, P. E. I.

CANNED CHICKEN

We have a nice quality in 2 lb tins put up by W. A. Leard, Bedeque. It is highly recommended and the price is only 22c per tin.

Jenkins & Son

If You Would Be Well You Must Keep Your Kidneys Well.

Help them to work freely. Help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Are for this purpose only.

Have you suspected your kidneys as the cause of your trouble? If you have backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful sensation when urinating, specks floating before the eyes, great thirst, brick-dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs, then your kidneys are affected.

It is really not difficult to cure kidney trouble in its first stages. All you have to do is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They are the most effective medicine to be had for all kidney and urinary troubles.

Mrs. Mary Galley, Auburn, N.S., was cured by their use. She says: "For over four months I was troubled with a lame back, and was unable to turn in bed without help. I tried plasters and liniments of all kinds, but to no effect. At last I was induced by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After I had used two-thirds of a box my back was as strong and as well as ever."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or sent direct by mail on receipt of price.

THE DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO.,
TORONTO, ONT.

Souvenir Pins,

Brooches,

Paper Knives,

Book Marks,

Match Boxes,

Spoons, etc.

A Large Variety.

See our Spoons with picture of New Market on Bow, of which we have a large assortment.

W.N. TANTON,

Jeweler,
Sunnyside

Chautuqua School of Nursing, Jamestown, New York.

We teach nursing by mail, in two courses: the professional nurse's course and a course for home nurses. Diplomas are given at the end of the course. A book descriptive of either course and specimen lectures will be mailed free on application to the agent for P. E. I. MISS LAURA HUGHES
Box 59
Charlottetown, P. E. I.

MOLASSES KISSES

Chocolate Kisses and Coconut

Kisses at

W. A. HUTCHESON

Flies Carry Contagion

Wilson's Fly Pads

Kill the flies and disease germs too.

A dainty evening gown of cream cotton net over light yellow satin. The bodice adorned with yellow silk roses, yellow ribbon on the sleeves and a broad girle of yellow satin.

Little Willie - Say, pa, what is conceit? Pa - Conceit, my son, is the self-esteem elongating to our neighbors.

All the lung healing properties of this line are bottled up in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is the most satisfactory remedy for coughs and colds of all kinds. Price 25c.

Mr. Fuyter Lott - Well, you are no longer a spring chicken. Mrs. Fuyter Lott - Maybe so, but you're the same old goose.

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere.

Mrs. Ba - On - Which do you think is the best talker - he or his wife? Mr. Bacon - Well, do you mean for quality or quantity?

INSTANT RELIEF.

Mr. Robt. Jennings, Mansfield, Ont. writes: "I have used one bottle of Dr. Low's Toothache Gum for severe toothache and received instant relief. Besides this it acted as a splendid temporary filling. Price 10c."

English Lady to Irish Girl - How is it that you never speak of belonging to the Irish race, my dear? Irish Girl - Because it is sinful to boast of my race.

EARACHE CURED.

Miss J. J. Johnson, Innisfail, Alta., says "I was troubled with Earache for a long time, and nothing helped me until I used Minard's Yellow Oil, which cured me completely."

Young - Wonder why it is they call the best man that stand up with the groom the best man at the wedding. Elder - It means that he is the best off; he's the one that isn't married, you know.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.

Broker - No more margin to put up? Why, when the account was opened you told me you were well off. Landleigh - So I was but I didn't know it.

Minard's Liniment Cures Dandruff.

Bangs - Sir! The fattie was raging and in that dreadful, furious hour of danger I stood coolly upon the battlefield. Hango - Yes, I heard that you were shivering.

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns etc.

"Are there any new improvements in the auto line since I was here?" inquired the enthusiast. "Yes," said the salesman, "one has come in this morning. It is a folding horse to be carried under the seat and used in case of accident."

Supplying headaches are cured, the head cleared, and the brain brightened by Wilburn's Sterling Headache Powder. They do not weaken the heart. Price 10c and 25c.

"This thing of telepathic communication is a great thing. Do you think the time will ever come when we will cease to talk?" "Not you, my dear."

DOES CHILDREN GOOD.

Mrs. Joseph Langtry, Brookville, Ont. "I have used Dr. Low's Worm Syrup in my family, and it has always been effective and has done the children good. I can highly recommend it."

Uncle Elias at the grocery shop - "Well Jack, did you pick up any new ideas while you were in the big city?" Jack, just returned - "Yes, I found out that it cost you twenty shillings to sauce a policeman."

Laxative Pills are the ladies' favorite, as they do not grip or pain, taken or broken or cause the slightest inconvenience. Price 25c., all druggists.

Mackinnon & Williams

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc.
D. A. MACKINNON, LL. B., K. C.
E. BAYFIELD WILLIAMS.
Office - Cameron Block, Charlottetown.
Money to loan on Real Estate.
July 17th 1914

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 18.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings xii, 4-15. Memory Verses, 9-12-Golden Text, Neh. x, 38-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.] All that had been accomplished thus far in saving Josiah from the rage of Athaliah, in keeping him safely and in having him anointed king was through the faithfulness of Jehoiada, the priest, and his wife, Jehoshabeath, showing us how much may be accomplished for God by a faithful, fearless, devoted man or woman. Jehoiada lived to be 130 years old, and when he died they buried him in the city of David among the kings because he had done good in Israel both toward God and toward His house (II Chron. xxiv, 15, 16). His name signifies "known of Jehovah," and that is better than to be known and honored of all men. To be truly the Lord's and to live for Him is every thing. All else is nothing, no matter how men may praise it. While Josiah had such a counselor he did right in the sight of the Lord, but not perfectly, for the high places were not taken away, and the people still sacrificed and burned incense there (verses 2, 3). The Bible records only one who always and in everything did right before God.

Under the teaching and guidance of Jehoiada the young king was minded to repair the house of the Lord and to that end sent priests and Levites into all the cities of Judah to gather money for the work, and they were commanded to hasten it, for the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God and had bestowed the dedicated things upon Baalim. But sixteen years passed, and the house was not repaired. There was something of God and something of man in this; hence the delay, for man's way of doing always hinders God's work. It was no doubt of God to repair the temple, but to go after the people for the money with which to do this was not the Lord's way; hence it failed. I cannot believe that we are to wait upon people individually for money with which to carry on His work, yet there is so much of it done and so many ways devised to get money from all sorts of people to this end.

I believe it to be all wrong. I do not wonder that the priests under the reproof of Josiah would consent neither to receive money nor to repair the house (verses 6-8). So the king's plan failed. But now see a better way: At the suggestion of Jehoiada a chest with a hole in the lid of it is placed beside the altar at the entrance to the house of the Lord, and willing people brought their offerings to it, and thus money was gathered in abundance day by day. Again and again the chest was emptied and put back in its place to receive more. All the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in and cast into the chest until they had made an end. So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state and strengthened it. The overseers of the work were unusually faithful, for those who gave them the money with which to pay the workmen kept no reckoning with them (verse 15).

Compare carefully the account in II Chron. xxiv, with our lesson for today. The work being finished, they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada (II Chron. xxiv, 14), and thus the Lord was honored again in His own house which had been so desecrated by the ungodly, and all through faithful Jehoiada and his wife. If we will say as Josiah did, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. xxiv, 15), God will surely bless us and make us a blessing to many. The heart of this lesson is the house of the Lord, its desecration and restoration.

Both tabernacle and temple, built for God to dwell in among His people (Ex. xxv, 8), were typical of the True Tabernacle, Jesus Christ (Heb. viii, 1, 2), and every good priest and prophet and king is also a type of Him in whom God dwelt perfectly. The church is now His dwelling place on earth, not any building made with hands nor any so-called denomination, but the company of all true believers wherever found, and all who are true believers are expected to yield themselves and their possessions wholly to God that He may make use of them to gather from all nations the members of His body who are not yet gathered, that so the temple may be finished and the kingdom come.

There is very great need for Jehoiadas who will fearlessly and faithfully honor the Lord alone. Individual believers are also temples of the Lord, and there is great need of such as are willing to be wholly consecrated to Him (I Cor. vi, 19, 20; II Cor. vi, 14-18), whose constant motto is, "What wilt thou, Lord?" "Where wilt thou?" and whose whole heart says gladly, "Whose I am and whom I serve" (Acts ix, 6; Luke xxii, 9; Acts xxvii, 23). It was a sad day for Josiah when the good priest, his faithful counselor, died, for then came the princes of Judah and persuaded the king to forsake the house of the Lord and serve groves and idols, and although the Lord sent prophets to turn the people again to Himself, the people would not give ear, and the king went so far as to cause to be stoned to death Zechariah, the son of Jehoiada, because by the spirit of God he reproved their sin.

Thus Josiah, the king, remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada, his father, had done to him, but slew his son (II Chron. xxiv, 17-21). The Lord noted it and made mention of it when on earth in His humiliation (Luke xi, 51). All the iniquity on earth cries to Him and He will in His own time see to it (Gen. iv, 10; Hab. ii, 11).

A Gentleman's Hat!
The King Edward VII Hat
Celebrated Tress make worn by King Edward Weeks & Co., Sole Agents.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 18.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings xii, 4-15. Memory Verses, 9-12-Golden Text, Neh. x, 38-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.] All that had been accomplished thus far in saving Josiah from the rage of Athaliah, in keeping him safely and in having him anointed king was through the faithfulness of Jehoiada, the priest, and his wife, Jehoshabeath, showing us how much may be accomplished for God by a faithful, fearless, devoted man or woman. Jehoiada lived to be 130 years old, and when he died they buried him in the city of David among the kings because he had done good in Israel both toward God and toward His house (II Chron. xxiv, 15, 16). His name signifies "known of Jehovah," and that is better than to be known and honored of all men. To be truly the Lord's and to live for Him is every thing. All else is nothing, no matter how men may praise it. While Josiah had such a counselor he did right in the sight of the Lord, but not perfectly, for the high places were not taken away, and the people still sacrificed and burned incense there (verses 2, 3). The Bible records only one who always and in everything did right before God.

Under the teaching and guidance of Jehoiada the young king was minded to repair the house of the Lord and to that end sent priests and Levites into all the cities of Judah to gather money for the work, and they were commanded to hasten it, for the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God and had bestowed the dedicated things upon Baalim. But sixteen years passed, and the house was not repaired. There was something of God and something of man in this; hence the delay, for man's way of doing always hinders God's work. It was no doubt of God to repair the temple, but to go after the people for the money with which to do this was not the Lord's way; hence it failed. I cannot believe that we are to wait upon people individually for money with which to carry on His work, yet there is so much of it done and so many ways devised to get money from all sorts of people to this end.

I believe it to be all wrong. I do not wonder that the priests under the reproof of Josiah would consent neither to receive money nor to repair the house (verses 6-8). So the king's plan failed. But now see a better way: At the suggestion of Jehoiada a chest with a hole in the lid of it is placed beside the altar at the entrance to the house of the Lord, and willing people brought their offerings to it, and thus money was gathered in abundance day by day. Again and again the chest was emptied and put back in its place to receive more. All the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in and cast into the chest until they had made an end. So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state and strengthened it. The overseers of the work were unusually faithful, for those who gave them the money with which to pay the workmen kept no reckoning with them (verse 15).

Compare carefully the account in II Chron. xxiv, with our lesson for today. The work being finished, they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada (II Chron. xxiv, 14), and thus the Lord was honored again in His own house which had been so desecrated by the ungodly, and all through faithful Jehoiada and his wife. If we will say as Josiah did, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. xxiv, 15), God will surely bless us and make us a blessing to many. The heart of this lesson is the house of the Lord, its desecration and restoration.

Both tabernacle and temple, built for God to dwell in among His people (Ex. xxv, 8), were typical of the True Tabernacle, Jesus Christ (Heb. viii, 1, 2), and every good priest and prophet and king is also a type of Him in whom God dwelt perfectly. The church is now His dwelling place on earth, not any building made with hands nor any so-called denomination, but the company of all true believers wherever found, and all who are true believers are expected to yield themselves and their possessions wholly to God that He may make use of them to gather from all nations the members of His body who are not yet gathered, that so the temple may be finished and the kingdom come.

There is very great need for Jehoiadas who will fearlessly and faithfully honor the Lord alone. Individual believers are also temples of the Lord, and there is great need of such as are willing to be wholly consecrated to Him (I Cor. vi, 19, 20; II Cor. vi, 14-18), whose constant motto is, "What wilt thou, Lord?" "Where wilt thou?" and whose whole heart says gladly, "Whose I am and whom I serve" (Acts ix, 6; Luke xxii, 9; Acts xxvii, 23). It was a sad day for Josiah when the good priest, his faithful counselor, died, for then came the princes of Judah and persuaded the king to forsake the house of the Lord and serve groves and idols, and although the Lord sent prophets to turn the people again to Himself, the people would not give ear, and the king went so far as to cause to be stoned to death Zechariah, the son of Jehoiada, because by the spirit of God he reproved their sin.

Thus Josiah, the king, remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada, his father, had done to him, but slew his son (II Chron. xxiv, 17-21). The Lord noted it and made mention of it when on earth in His humiliation (Luke xi, 51). All the iniquity on earth cries to Him and He will in His own time see to it (Gen. iv, 10; Hab. ii, 11).

A Gentleman's Hat!
The King Edward VII Hat
Celebrated Tress make worn by King Edward Weeks & Co., Sole Agents.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 18.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings xii, 4-15. Memory Verses, 9-12-Golden Text, Neh. x, 38-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.] All that had been accomplished thus far in saving Josiah from the rage of Athaliah, in keeping him safely and in having him anointed king was through the faithfulness of Jehoiada, the priest, and his wife, Jehoshabeath, showing us how much may be accomplished for God by a faithful, fearless, devoted man or woman. Jehoiada lived to be 130 years old, and when he died they buried him in the city of David among the kings because he had done good in Israel both toward God and toward His house (II Chron. xxiv, 15, 16). His name signifies "known of Jehovah," and that is better than to be known and honored of all men. To be truly the Lord's and to live for Him is every thing. All else is nothing, no matter how men may praise it. While Josiah had such a counselor he did right in the sight of the Lord, but not perfectly, for the high places were not taken away, and the people still sacrificed and burned incense there (verses 2, 3). The Bible records only one who always and in everything did right before God.

Under the teaching and guidance of Jehoiada the young king was minded to repair the house of the Lord and to that end sent priests and Levites into all the cities of Judah to gather money for the work, and they were commanded to hasten it, for the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God and had bestowed the dedicated things upon Baalim. But sixteen years passed, and the house was not repaired. There was something of God and something of man in this; hence the delay, for man's way of doing always hinders God's work. It was no doubt of God to repair the temple, but to go after the people for the money with which to do this was not the Lord's way; hence it failed. I cannot believe that we are to wait upon people individually for money with which to carry on His work, yet there is so much of it done and so many ways devised to get money from all sorts of people to this end.

I believe it to be all wrong. I do not wonder that the priests under the reproof of Josiah would consent neither to receive money nor to repair the house (verses 6-8). So the king's plan failed. But now see a better way: At the suggestion of Jehoiada a chest with a hole in the lid of it is placed beside the altar at the entrance to the house of the Lord, and willing people brought their offerings to it, and thus money was gathered in abundance day by day. Again and again the chest was emptied and put back in its place to receive more. All the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in and cast into the chest until they had made an end. So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state and strengthened it. The overseers of the work were unusually faithful, for those who gave them the money with which to pay the workmen kept no reckoning with them (verse 15).

Compare carefully the account in II Chron. xxiv, with our lesson for today. The work being finished, they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada (II Chron. xxiv, 14), and thus the Lord was honored again in His own house which had been so desecrated by the ungodly, and all through faithful Jehoiada and his wife. If we will say as Josiah did, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. xxiv, 15), God will surely bless us and make us a blessing to many. The heart of this lesson is the house of the Lord, its desecration and restoration.

Both tabernacle and temple, built for God to dwell in among His people (Ex. xxv, 8), were typical of the True Tabernacle, Jesus Christ (Heb. viii, 1, 2), and every good priest and prophet and king is also a type of Him in whom God dwelt perfectly. The church is now His dwelling place on earth, not any building made with hands nor any so-called denomination, but the company of all true believers wherever found, and all who are true believers are expected to yield themselves and their possessions wholly to God that He may make use of them to gather from all nations the members of His body who are not yet gathered, that so the temple may be finished and the kingdom come.

There is very great need for Jehoiadas who will fearlessly and faithfully honor the Lord alone. Individual believers are also temples of the Lord, and there is great need of such as are willing to be wholly consecrated to Him (I Cor. vi, 19, 20; II Cor. vi, 14-18), whose constant motto is, "What wilt thou, Lord?" "Where wilt thou?" and whose whole heart says gladly, "Whose I am and whom I serve" (Acts ix, 6; Luke xxii, 9; Acts xxvii, 23). It was a sad day for Josiah when the good priest, his faithful counselor, died, for then came the princes of Judah and persuaded the king to forsake the house of the Lord and serve groves and idols, and although the Lord sent prophets to turn the people again to Himself, the people would not give ear, and the king went so far as to cause to be stoned to death Zechariah, the son of Jehoiada, because by the spirit of God he reproved their sin.

Thus Josiah, the king, remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada, his father, had done to him, but slew his son (II Chron. xxiv, 17-21). The Lord noted it and made mention of it when on earth in His humiliation (Luke xi, 51). All the iniquity on earth cries to Him and He will in His own time see to it (Gen. iv, 10; Hab. ii, 11).

A Gentleman's Hat!
The King Edward VII Hat
Celebrated Tress make worn by King Edward Weeks & Co., Sole Agents.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 18.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings xii, 4-15. Memory Verses, 9-12-Golden Text, Neh. x, 38-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.] All that had been accomplished thus far in saving Josiah from the rage of Athaliah, in keeping him safely and in having him anointed king was through the faithfulness of Jehoiada, the priest, and his wife, Jehoshabeath, showing us how much may be accomplished for God by a faithful, fearless, devoted man or woman. Jehoiada lived to be 130 years old, and when he died they buried him in the city of David among the kings because he had done good in Israel both toward God and toward His house (II Chron. xxiv, 15, 16). His name signifies "known of Jehovah," and that is better than to be known and honored of all men. To be truly the Lord's and to live for Him is every thing. All else is nothing, no matter how men may praise it. While Josiah had such a counselor he did right in the sight of the Lord, but not perfectly, for the high places were not taken away, and the people still sacrificed and burned incense there (verses 2, 3). The Bible records only one who always and in everything did right before God.

Under the teaching and guidance of Jehoiada the young king was minded to repair the house of the Lord and to that end sent priests and Levites into all the cities of Judah to gather money for the work, and they were commanded to hasten it, for the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God and had bestowed the dedicated things upon Baalim. But sixteen years passed, and the house was not repaired. There was something of God and something of man in this; hence the delay, for man's way of doing always hinders God's work. It was no doubt of God to repair the temple, but to go after the people for the money with which to do this was not the Lord's way; hence it failed. I cannot believe that we are to wait upon people individually for money with which to carry on His work, yet there is so much of it done and so many ways devised to get money from all sorts of people to this end.

I believe it to be all wrong. I do not wonder that the priests under the reproof of Josiah would consent neither to receive money nor to repair the house (verses 6-8). So the king's plan failed. But now see a better way: At the suggestion of Jehoiada a chest with a hole in the lid of it is placed beside the altar at the entrance to the house of the Lord, and willing people brought their offerings to it, and thus money was gathered in abundance day by day. Again and again the chest was emptied and put back in its place to receive more. All the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in and cast into the chest until they had made an end. So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state and strengthened it. The overseers of the work were unusually faithful, for those who gave them the money with which to pay the workmen kept no reckoning with them (verse 15).

Compare carefully the account in II Chron. xxiv, with our lesson for today. The work being finished, they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada (II Chron. xxiv, 14), and thus the Lord was honored again in His own house which had been so desecrated by the ungodly, and all through faithful Jehoiada and his wife. If we will say as Josiah did, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. xxiv, 15), God will surely bless us and make us a blessing to many. The heart of this lesson is the house of the Lord, its desecration and restoration.

Both tabernacle and temple, built for God to dwell in among His people (Ex. xxv, 8), were typical of the True Tabernacle, Jesus Christ (Heb. viii, 1, 2), and every good priest and prophet and king is also a type of Him in whom God dwelt perfectly. The church is now His dwelling place on earth, not any building made with hands nor any so-called denomination, but the company of all true believers wherever found, and all who are true believers are expected to yield themselves and their possessions wholly to God that He may make use of them to gather from all nations the members of His body who are not yet gathered, that so the temple may be finished and the kingdom come.

There is very great need for Jehoiadas who will fearlessly and faithfully honor the Lord alone. Individual believers are also temples of the Lord, and there is great need of such as are willing to be wholly consecrated to Him (I Cor. vi, 19, 20; II Cor. vi, 14-18), whose constant motto is, "What wilt thou, Lord?" "Where wilt thou?" and whose whole heart says gladly, "Whose I am and whom I serve" (Acts ix, 6; Luke xxii, 9; Acts xxvii, 23). It was a sad day for Josiah when the good priest, his faithful counselor, died, for then came the princes of Judah and persuaded the king to forsake the house of the Lord and serve groves and idols, and although the Lord sent prophets to turn the people again to Himself, the people would not give ear, and the king went so far as to cause to be stoned to death Zechariah, the son of Jehoiada, because by the spirit of God he reproved their sin.

Thus Josiah, the king, remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada, his father, had done to him, but slew his son (II Chron. xxiv, 17-21). The Lord noted it and made mention of it when on earth in His humiliation (Luke xi, 51). All the iniquity on earth cries to Him and He will in His own time see to it (Gen. iv, 10; Hab. ii, 11).

A Gentleman's Hat!
The King Edward VII Hat
Celebrated Tress make worn by King Edward Weeks & Co., Sole Agents.

What Sulphur Does

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tab spoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small, soluble, coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidotes for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the