Many People Wonder

why it is that glasses are worn more commonly in the present generation than in the past. Some say that the race is deteriorating, some that is for style, but the real reason is that our modern civilization requires the eye to do more work than was even the case before.

Consequently, the eyes, if in the least defective, may give you a lot of trouble though in reality they are no worse than those of your grandfather who did not wear glasses till he was an old man.

If you feel the least symptom of eyestrain, remember that it is natures warning to you and consult us at once.

A WISH

Mine be a cot beside the hill,
A bee-hive's hum shall soothe my ear;
A willowy brook that turns a mill,
With many a fall shall linger near.

The swallow oft, beneath my thatch
Shall twitter from her clay-built nest;
Oft shall the pilgrim lift the latch
And share my meal, a welcome guest.

Around my ivy'd porch shall spring
Each fragrant flower that drinks the dew;
And Lucy, at her wheel, shall sing
In russet gown and apron blue.

The village church among the trees,
Where first our marriage vows were given,
With merry peals shall swell the breeze,
And point with taper spire to heaven.

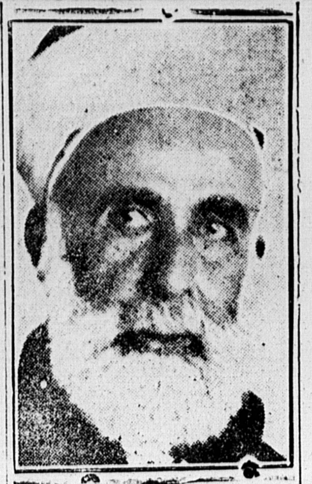
—Samuel Rogers.

HUNT FOR MISSING LUNATIC.

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, July.—George Roberts who escaped from Sussex Country Asylum, at Hellingly, recently has so far eluded all attempts at this recapture.

Roberts who is believed to be hiding in the woods, has had previous experience of dodging pursuers, when for several months he retained his freedom during a previous escape. He is a native of Lewes, and it is in his favour that he knows the country in that part. Police forces in the country have joined in the lookout, especially at news, were it is thought Roberts may attempt to get home. Having no money he will probably come into the open for food.



King Hussein of the Hedjas has refused to sign the British-Arabian protocol, unless Britain agrees to nullify the Balfour declaration.

Handwriting Sent By Wire

(By Dominion News Service)

PARIS, July 24.— Absolute facsimiles of telegraph messages in the original handwriting of the sender are now being sent every day over the French government lines by the Berlin system, which is an adaptation of the inventor's method of transmitting photographs by wire.

The sender of the telegram writes it on ordinary paper which is placed on a revolving cylinder and by the play of lights and mirrors, as in the case of transmittion of photographs, the exact script is sent over the wire. It is much cheaper than the ordinary telegram is a flat rate of twenty francs, the number of words being limited only by the size of the writing.

For instance in one case a stenographer sent from Lyons to Paris a message of 1,453 words, in shorthand notes, which was written on the cylinder of about the same size as an ordinary telegraph blank. In this way about one column of a newspaper could be sent for about $1.25. This system is very fast. The operation of sending the setnographic message from Lyons took only six minutes,

If the telegram had been written in ordinary script and sent by a fast telegrapher it would have required twenty-five minutes, at a rate of sixty words a minute, and the cost, at the current rate would have been about $16. This method fo automatic transmission of telegrams is now open to the public, the necessary apparatus having been installed in the government telegraph offices of the larger cities. There is no reason why a person could not actually send his own photograph with an inscription in his own handwriting over the wire.

How to Make the Most Delicious Raspberry Jam You Ever Tasted

New Certo process astonishes housewives

Never fails—only one minute's boiling—retains the delightful, natural flavor of the raspberries—so easy to make—and your jam costs less—keeping quality excellent

Raspberries are now plentiful at very moderate prices. Sugar is cheap and housewives are putting down more raspberry jam than ever because they have discovered that by the use of Certo they can make the most delicious jam with so little work and at less cost than the old way.

Just take 4 level cups or 2 lbs. crushed raspberries, add 7½ cups or 3¼ lbs. of sugar. Stir and bring to a vigorous boil over a hot fire. Boil hard one full minute, continually stirring. Take from fire and add while stirring, one-half bottle (scant half cup) of Certo. Allow jam to stand a few minutes to cool and then stir again and pour into glasses. This recipe will make, from two lbs. of raspberries, about fourteen 6-ounce glasses of delicious raspberry jam for less than six cents a glass.

Certo is just concentrated fruit pectin. Contains no gelatine or preservatives. It is Mother Nature's "jell-maker." Try it right away with fresh fruit like cherries, currants or raspberries, then you will do all your preserving the new and modern way—the easy, economical and better Certo way.

If your grocer does not have Certo we will mail you a bottle, to save delay, postage paid, for 40c in stamps. Send us his name and we will send you a recipe book of fifty-three recipes for making jams and jellies.

ROSEBANK SCHOOL

The closing exercises of the Rosebank School were held on Friday afternoon June 29. Despite the heavy fall of rain there were about forty visitors present. The pupils were examined in the various subjects by their teacher Miss Ruth Allen assisted by Miss Pearl Craig teacher of an adjoining district and their ready answers showed the results of their teacher's honest work during her stay for the last two years in the school.

After an interesting programme of songs, dialogues and recitations was carried out a Public School Certificate was awarded to one of the pupils, Johnny Murray and the following pupils received prizes for highest marks during the term; Keir Murray, Burton Stewart, Leslie, Hardy, Marion Williams and Johnny Murray. Each of the remaining thirty pupils were then remembered by a gift from their teacher and she, though taken by surprise responded very fittingly to the following address read by Vera Ramsay and accompanied by a well filled purse presented by Leslie Hardy on behalf of the pupils.

Miss Allen
Dear Teacher:

The pupils of Rosebank School wish to express their sincere regret on learning that you have resigned your position as teacher in our school.

We look back over the time we have received instruction from you with only feelings of sincere pleasure.

Please accept this gift as a very small token of our love and esteem for you and we would ask you in remembering us, please do not remember our dullness and disobedience we seemed to have so often shown, but only remember we shall try to profit by the careful instruction you have given us and when you are far seperated from us may it give you pleasure to know we are far better as well as wiser from the instruction we have received from you.

Let me assure you that on leaving here you are taking with you the love and good wishes of not only the pupils of this school but that of their parents as well.

Signed
THE PUPILS

ONE FARTHING DAMAGES AWARDED IN LORD ALFRED DOUGLAS' LIBEL SUIT

LONDON, July 21. —Winston Churchill testified today in the libel action of Lord Alfred Douglas against the Morning Post. He emphatically denied charges made by Douglas that he was implicated with "Jewish financiers" in the "Jutland plot" by which, it was alleged, they made fortunes by selling stocks on the New York Stock Exchange and, on the news of the British defeat, buying them back at a profit.

Lord Douglas said that Sir Ernest Cassel gave Churchill £40,000 for drawing up a missing communique.

The jury returned a verdict of one farthing damages for Douglas, who sued the paper because it printed a letter saying he had "invented vile insults against the Jews." Justice Balter ruled each side should pay its own costs.

After Lord Douglas, on cross-examination had refused to give the name of the "high intelligence officer of the Admiralty" who he said was his authority for his corruption and treason charges, Churchill took the stand. He was asked:

"Is there any truth in the suggestion that after the Jutland battle Sir Ernest Cassel or anyone else paid you for the part you played in the matter?"

The former First Lord of the Admiralty replied:

"That's an absolute lie."

Lord Churchill testified that he was not at the Admiralty when Balfour was First Lord, but at the request of Lord Balfour he did draw up an appreciation of the battle for publication. He said he wrote the account of the battle under the instructions of Lord Balfour.

A secretary who had charge of Sir Ernest Cassel's books during the war testified that Cassel brought £2,400,000 of war loan bonds, but had no dealing in German or neutral stocks during the war.

To Lay Stone For The New Basilica

QUEBEC, July 24.—On Thursday of this week the blessing of the corner stone of the new Ste. Anne de Beaupre basilica will take place and will give occasion to one of the greatest religious ceremonies ever held in this district, the Feast of Ste Anne also being celebrated on the same day.

The ceremonies will open with pontifical high mass which will be celebrated by His Grace, Mgr. A. O Gagnon, Auxiliary Bishop of Sherbrooke. In addition to His Eminence Cardinal Begin, five archbishops and ten bishops are expected to be present.

All the precious ornaments which were saved in the conflagration which destroyed the church will be used on the occasion and His Eminence, Cardinal Begin, will perform the blessing of the corner stone, attended by two bishops.

The high mass will be chanted in the open air on the altar, which is now erected, with the statue of the saint, which was preserved in the fire, being placed over the sanctuary. Accommodation will be provided for the sick and the aged. Should the weather turn bad, the ceremonies will be held in the temporary church.

The officiating bishop will wear the sacred ornaments presented to Canada in 1666 by the Queen of France, Anne of Austria. The chalice used from 1670 to 1770 for the celebration of mass will also be used for the great event. All the souvenirs of olden days will be used and the ceremonies will take on an unprecedented splendor.

The blessing of the corner stone will be performed by His Eminence, Cardinal Begin, immediately after mass.
