QUEEN'S CANADIAN FUND DONATIONS

Repeated bombing raids on British port areas and the industrial Midlands has attracted fresh attention to the frightful suffering of the many thousands of civilians in Great Britain who are harried from shelter to shelter and finally driven into the open country by successive raids. Eventually places are found for them all places of relative security, but their belongings of all kinds are destroyed. The task of emergency feeding alone is difficult. The task of setting them up once more with some quantity of clothing and bedding is much more difficult.

To meet these enormous needs, funds have been started in various parts of the world. Her Majesty uses of her name in connection with the Dominion campaign, which is officially known as "The Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims."

Every dollar contributed to the Queen's Canadian Fund goes without deduction to the Lord Mayor of London for distribution to the homeless and needy.

Contributions from this Province should be forwarded to the Royal Trust Company, Charlottetown, which reports the following receipts to date:

Received yesterday:

Miss Laura Clapp, Charlottetown, $1.00.

Clyde River Red Cross Branch, $5.00.

Previously acknowledged $4,471.85.

Total—$4,477.85.

FAST ACTION HELPS PREVENT MANY COLDS

At the first sign of a cold, put a few drops of V-a-tro-nol on each nostril. Its stimulating action aids Nature's defenses against colds.

And remember—when a head cold makes you suffer, or transient congestion "fills up" nose, spoils sleep, 3-purposes V-a-tro-nol gives valuable help as it (1) shrinks swollen membranes, (2) relieves irritation, (3) helps flush out nasal passages, clearing clogging VICKS mucus. Enjoy the relief it brings.

They swooped to within about 100 feet of the destroyers off starboard. The battleship made a quick turn as the first torpedo exploded harmlessly in the sea. The second exploded through the water in front, and the third raced harmlessly past our stern. Then the planes zoomed upward into the blinding sun and disappeared. The gunners thought they got one of them.

Large crowd Attends the Hospital Bazaar

The biggest crowd ever to patronize a Charlottetown Hospital Bazaar since the inauguration seven years ago thronged the Sporting Club last night. All the games, without exception, were patronized. The ladies who attended the Bazaar paid special attention to the Home Cooking Booth and the Fancy Needle Work Booth. From eight to eight-thirty the League of the Cross Band made their second appearance in front of the Sporting Club rendering favorite band music. The first appearance this band made was the opening night when they paraded through the streets to the scene of the Bazaar.

The "Murnaghan Barrel" was on display last night giving the crowd quite a number of good advantages of the chance to buy their tickets and try their luck for the grand drawing. The entertainment last night was produced by the Don Messer's Islanders group and was very well received. The old time numbers played in the Messer manner drew the plaudits of the crowd and the songs of Charlie Chamberlain were once again well received. The program last night was in the capable hands of L. A. McDonald. Tonight another "bang-up" program is scheduled with singing and orchestral numbers supplied in the modern manner. So if you haven't already been to the Bazaar make a point to be there tonight and besides enjoying yourself to the full help out in a most worthy cause. There's games for both old and young alike with the surroundings clean and comfortable. If you like to play Bingo, Crown and Anchor, win a box of chocolates for your sweetheart, or a doll or a fuzzy dog for the children the Hospital Bazaar at the Sporting Club is the place to go. Then if you want to purchase some real honest to goodness home cooking or purchase some expert needle work you should visit these booths at the Charlottetown Hospital Bazaar which will come to a close on Saturday night with the drawing for the grand prizes.

The door prize last night was won by Carl Trainor, a pair of pants donated by Tip Top Tailors.

Interpreting The War

Rzhev, 75 miles south of Tork, is also taken. The fall of Rzhev would give the Germans two routes to Moscow from the northwest.

Berlin contended, unofficially, that on the southwestern front Tula, 110 miles due south of Moscow, is in Nazi hands. That was rumored in Berlin several days ago but never confirmed.

North of Tula—on the Smolensk-Vyazma, Roslavl-Melin and Bryansk-Kaluga rail lines converging on Moscow—Nazi forces are battering at the inner ring of the capital's defenses, 60 miles or less from the city. If the Germans are in fact in Tula in force the next wave of attack is likely to see that inner ring beset from the south as well as the west.

There is another grave menace for the Russians in the reported capture of Tula. After the fall of Orel, 100 miles or more southwest of Tula a stubborn defence was organized along the Oka drainage basin in north and northwest of Orel. At Tula the Nazis would appear to be well in rear of the Russians in the Orel region. Another encirclement pocket could develop there even before the Bryansk pocket, from which long trapped Red forces have been trying to cut their way eastward, is "liquidated" as the Germans phrase it.

There is still another ominous possibility for the Russians on the south Moscow front. At Orel their quick and direct communications with Kharkov and Russian armies defending the Donets Basin were already cut. From Tula communication lines farther eastward leading to the south are endangered.

In effect, the half encirclement of Moscow has split the whole Russian front into three huge sectors. Communication between Moscow and Russian armies either northward to Leningrad or southward to the extreme Ukraine or on the sea flank before Rostov and in the Crimea has been rendered increasingly difficult.

The breadth and ferocity of the German attack from north of Moscow to the Azov Sea coast has made it impossible for Russian armies in the Red Army to aid each other effectively.

Victoria Junior Red Cross Wins Banner

The "Princess Alice" Junior Red Cross branch of the senior department of Victoria School won the banner or best Red Cross unit in the inspectorate of Malcolm MacKenzie for the school year 1940-41. The society which had a membership of twenty-one raised a goodly sum of money by presenting concerts, refunding coupons, by collections, etc.

Following is a summary of work done by branch:

Contribution to Soldier's Fund—$14.00.

Contribution to Crippled Children's Fund—$4.40.

122 magazines sold at 5 cents each—$6.10.

35 calendars sold at 10 cents each—$3.50.

For school improvements—$1.00.

Total—$29.00.

$100 worth of veteran poppies were sold at Canadian Legion of the B. E. S. L.

419 coupons and 153 empty tubes were saved.

Two portfolios were made and sent to schools in United States, along with tourist literature.

An agnion was knit, also 8 wash cloths, 12 pairs wristlets, 5 refugee sweaters, 8 pairs mitts, 1 refugee cap, 2 pairs socks.

Many other citizenship and health activities were carried out.

Officers of the branch were: President, Jack Holland; Vice President, Lynne Wood; Secretary, Eileen Miller; Circulation Manager, Harold Bouter.

Service Committee: David Boswell, Ken Miller, James MacEachern, Vera MacLeod, Evelyn MacRae. Teacher director was Health Nurse MacQuarrie.

While the work of one Junior Red Cross branch might not appear very comprehensive, the training in these attributes of patriotic citizenship are of vast importance. The Junior department of Victoria School did work during the school year which was also very creditable. A large amount of money was raised, collections of tinoli, empty tubes and coupons were made. Many other activities were taken up. A portfolio was also made. A concert was staged in aid of Soldier's Fund, President was Donald MacDonaid, Vice President, Adele MacEachern, Secretary, Ruthie Boswell, Treasurer, Billie Pigeon; Service Committee, Frankie Miller, Clare Thomas; Tea-
