 The stmr. Christian Knudsen which sailed for Montreal yesterday took 6,000 tons of coal, the largest cargo that has ever left Sydney harbor. On her previous trip she took about 6,000 tons. This was because the ship was sent away in a hurry and no coal was taken in her bunkers. On that trip also, owing to lack of time, the coal in the top of hatches was not levelled, and the hatches could not be put on. On this trip, however, everything has gone smoothly, the coal in the tops of the hatches was levelled off, and the hatches placed.—Sydney Post.
