

Want to try an experiment?
Then take any one of the hundreds of new medicines on the market. They come, they go, and are soon forgotten.

Or want to be cured?
Then take a medicine that has been tested and tried, generation after generation. A medicine that has been a household remedy for sixty years. Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Intelligent, thoughtful people are relying more and more upon this old standard preparation.

THE GUARDIAN LOCAL NEWS

Reporters and Correspondents Everywhere.

JAMES MUSICK, Picton, was a passenger to the city yesterday afternoon. He left on return last night.

JAS. PATON of Paton & Co., as The Guardian's thanks for a neat souvenir post card of Westminster Abbey, London.

SEVERAL small cases were disposed of at the County Court yesterday and then adjournment was made until Friday April 7th.

MAIL Clerk Cullen who has been at Sackville all winter and a few days ago was transferred to Picton came to the city yesterday afternoon.

DANIEL EWEN ROSS, North Grafton Mass., formerly of Pinette, P. E. Island, has passed his final examination in the Commercial Business Course receiving a grade of 95.

The Hamblers of Amherst have certainly achieved great things at hockey this season. They have scored in all their matches 119 goals and have had but 25 scored against them.

ANY persons desiring to see The Guardian's big Web Perfecting Press in operation should call at business offices any Wednesday at twelve o'clock, or Saturday at one o'clock sharp.

ADVERTISERS are again reminded that all ordinary "changes" should be in the office no later than one p. m. for daily, and Saturday noon for weekly, to insure insertion in following issue.

The numerous relatives and friends of Charlotte, wife of Rev. J. S. Allen, will hear with sorrow of her death, which occurred last week at the Methodist parsonage, St. Andrews, N. B.

ALAN Newson, Cornwall, brought to The Guardian Office yesterday some newly sprouted growing grass, three or four inches long, which he had picked from underneath the snow. Spring is coming!

ROUGH Rider Sergeant Major Gustav Hinrich Schoof, Missionary from the Dakotas, N. A., ex-soldier from Fort Mafeking, South Africa, under auspices of Prince St. School, May 7, 8, 9. Treat of life time.

A SUBSCRIBER writing from Sloan City, B. C. states, "I have heard there was a snow storm some where this winter, did you hear anything about it? This has been a very mild winter in B. C., less snow than for years previous."

At a meeting on Thursday of the residents of Cross Roads, Lot 18, held in the school house at that place, it was decided to change the name of Cross Road settlement extending from Molyneux corner to McKenzie's corner, to Millburn.

J. McKENNA, C. P. R. travelling passenger agent, passed through the city yesterday morning from Quebec where he went to see his brother, I. G. R. conductor McKenna, who has been ill for the past two months.—Moncton Times.

The increase in Boston of spinal meningitis, or "spotted fever," is most alarming, as the fatality is 80 per cent. Physicians are discussing seriously the increase of this disease and every precaution possible is being taken to stop its deadly ravages.

AN interesting story referring to the ice blockade, is told in an interesting way in John Newson's ad to-day. It explains how a limited number of Charlottetown's most progressive citizens were able to make a decided saving in some of their spring purchases.

The Halifax Chronicle says Mr. Fraser Marshall, of New Glasgow, is reported, intends to make his headquarters in Halifax.—If Mr. Marshall removes from New Glasgow, he surely will make his home in "Truro"—right in the hub of the important N. B. C. A. work that he has charge of in the Maritime Provinces.—Truro News.

Mrs. McDonald, formerly a resident of Victoria Road, Sydney, died yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Pippy, Commercial street. The deceased fell down stair in her residence at Sydney last fall, fracturing her skull and sustaining other injuries from which she never recovered. She was about 45 years of age and came to Sydney from P. E. Island a few years ago. She leaves a son who lived with her at North Sydney. The remains were sent this morning to her former home in P. E. Island for interment.—North Sydney ex. Mar 28.

MISS KATIE WELDON, formerly of this city, and for a time on The Guardian Composing staff, has this paper's thanks for a souvenir of the Brockton (Mass) explosion. It is in the form of a steel spring used in shaping the soles of shoes. It is impossible to secure anything of much value as the public are not even allowed to photograph the ruins. All souvenirs are to be offered for sale later in aid of those left destitute. Miss Weldon also sends some decidedly interesting paper imitations of wood, leather, cotton and satin which are made in the wall paper shop where she works.

P. D. BOWLEN, M. L. A., Cardigan, came to the city yesterday afternoon by the mail special.

The death of Hugh Ross occurred very suddenly at Darlington at the home of John R. McLeod, where he was spending a few days, on Wednesday the 29th inst. His health had not been good for some time, and on the morning of his death he had decided to go to the P. E. Island Hospital for treatment having been recommended to do so by his doctor. Mr. Ross is well known in many parts of Prince Edward Island and his many friends will be deeply sorrow to hear of his death. He was brother-in-law of the Rev. Mr. McIntosh of Cape Breton and also of the Rev. Alex. Sather and, for many years a well known preacher in Prince Edward Island. Two brothers were at one time ministers of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Charles and Edward. The almost impassable condition of the roads prevented many of his friends from being at the funeral services conducted by Rev. George Millar, Presbyterian Minister at Brookfield. Deep regret was felt that none of his relatives could be present.

Rev. David Price, North River, writing to the Messenger and Visitor says: More than three months have passed since settling on this field. In that time, unprecedented storms have been on lot. The snowbanks are not to be described, for fear of having one's veracity questioned. It has been a period of disappointment as far as doing special work is concerned. It is only now that we are able to get around amongst the people. Yet, in the midst of all the storms, we only missed one Sunday's appointments and we have been the recipients of much kindness from the people, so that we have not been, by any means unhappy and, further more, we are in the enjoyment of excellent health. Since coming here the great resper has been busy. The day after our arrival, I was called to bury Bro Allan McLean of Clyde River. The large number of people that attended his funeral, showed the high regard in which he was held. During the worst of the storms, Mr. Hector McLean, an agent friend of the cause at Long Creek, sickened and died, but owing to the impassable condition of the roads, it was impossible to get the pastor there. The Presbyterian pastor living nearby, kindly officiated at his funeral. At North River, I have officiated at three burials. Up the River, Mrs. Sanderson, an aged lady of the Presbyterian persuasion, and Mr. David Boismor, passed away. Mr. Boismor after a long and trying illness. Then in February, the church was called upon to part with Mrs. Bain, the wife of our faithful Deacon Jacob Bain. Mrs. Bain had spent a few weeks in the hospital in the fall, and from the time she was brought home, she gradually sank; but the sinking was a glorious rising to her into the eternal presence of her Saviour. She was always an active worker in the church, being deeply interested in all departments of its work. She will be very much missed. Deacon Bain and his family have our deepest sympathy, and pray that he himself will soon recover his full health.

The Colonial Standard, Picton, in the course of an article on the winter boats editorially says: "The barrier to navigation during the last few weeks is claimed by the officials to be an impassable blockade of ice about two miles wide, outside of this harbour. Whether it is impassable or not, at time of writing it is impossible to say. No determined attempt to break it was made previous to last Sunday. Possibly it is impossible, but from such information as we gathered we do not believe any such thing. It is a shame, a disgrace, and an injury to the route that for weeks no determined attempt was made by the S. S. Minto to break a passage. The talk around the streets is that P. E. Island is being punished for voting against the Liberals. Statements of that kind are very unfair to the Department of Marine, for the Minister has authorized the local officials to use 1000 men if necessary. Let us give fair play, even to our opponents. If the Minto had made any serious attempt to break through we should exonerate the captain, or whatever official is responsible. This lying-at-the-wharf system of winter navigation is not only a very grave reflection upon those in command, but it is a very serious matter to the port of Picton as well as to P. E. Island. The Islanders suffer very great loss and inconvenience. The route suffers in reputation and attempts are being made to change the route to a different port. Very many hundreds of dollars are lost to the laborers of this town and the port has received a very bad black eye. It is possible that the barrier could not have been broken by the steamers but a few engineers from Halifax with a few charges of gun cotton could have shattered the few very heavy parts and the steamers could have done the rest. An investigation should certainly be held, and if incompetents are found their places should be filled with better men."
