FORMER ISLANDER PASSES—Winchester, Mass., Nov. 26.—Alexander Macdonald, who had been superintendent of parks in Winchester for a number of years, died on Sunday at his home, 141 Washington street. He was born in Charlottetown, P. E. I., was in his eighty-first year, and had lived in Winchester for more than fifty years. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. J. Winchester and Mrs. A. O. Weld, both of Winchester; and Mrs. Lawrence T. Nutting of Waterman, Calif.

ANOTHER OCCUPANT FOR JAIL—Another occupant was added to the already crowded quarters of the Summerside Jail yesterday when a party from Bloomfield confessed having illegally operated a still and was sentenced to three months in the County Jail by Magistrate Ernest H. Strong and Frederick Cannon, S.

CASE WITHDRAWN—The assault case which has been occupying the attention of the Police Court at Summerside for the past two days was withdrawn yesterday morning by the complainant. The Magistrate concurred in the withdrawal as stated the matter had developed into more or less of a family difference which he considered would more easily be adjusted if the case were dropped. He ordered the complainant to pay the Court costs each party to pay his own witness fees.

KENSINGTON HOCKEY PROSPECTS—Hockey enthusiasm is high in the town and surrounding districts. The nucleus of a formal team has already been organized. The "busy town" team has a chance to lift the MacLean Cup Manager Preston Kennedy is looking for "bets" in the way of getting together a hockey sextette with at least an even chance of winning in the Prince County League. A grand old time social and concert will be staged in the King George Hall, Kensington, on Thursday night, Nov. 27th, in order to help to provide the finances for the hockey war of the coming season.—K.

CHAMPION FOXES—Of all the P. E. Island fox exhibitors at the Amherst Winter Fair, it is quite probable that the Kensington exhibitor, Layton Rogers, came out "high line" on championships. Of total ten foxes shown, he reaped six firsts, three seconds, two thirds, also having the Grand Champion adult male fox reserve champion adult male and seven reserve championships, also Mr. Gen. Hon. Hugh McLean's medal, best matched pair and the cup, donated by Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, K.C., Premier of Nova Scotia. For champion adult male fox two years old or over. According to first reports of the judging of foxes at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair, Kensington showmen are also in the front.—K.

OUR NEW FORUM—Every patriotic P. E. Islander will take a pride in the grand arena erected in Charlottetown during the past summer. It will do credit to the city and province. It is a source of pleasure to everyone to know that it is as good as the best. We have something in public buildings which we can show with pride to tourist visitors and those of us who go abroad and visit other similar arenas will not be obsessed with the "inferior complex" with which we are often handicapped. The men who have been instrumental in building such a grand playhouse deserve credit and emolument for their initiative and enterprise. Prince Edward Island hockey fans and patrons of the great Canadian winter pastime of ice skating will enjoy hockey games on skating "de lux" in our beautiful Forum.—K.

Strongly Urges Mixed Farming

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Nov. 26.—Australian butter is able to compete in the Canadian market because there is a bounty of about nine cents on every pound exported, thus giving the antipodean exporter leeway in price cutting. J. A. Calder, former President of the National Dairy Council of Canada told the Electric Club at Luncheon in the Royal York. For every four pounds of butter produced in Australia, he pointed out, one is for export. The domestic producer pays three cents per pound to a central agency which in turn gives the exporter a bounty of 9 cents per pound. Sixty per cent of the area of the Canadian Prairie Provinces was suitable for dairy production and he strongly recommended introduction of more mixed farming to overcome present wheat depression.

Son: "Nothing, father but what with diligence, economy, and stern self-denial you will be able to pay."

MANSLAUGHTER

other witness noticed one car track on the left hand side. McLeod said that it was his track. There was no sign of a horse and wagon. There was a wagon track on the right side in the gutter of the road. The man's left arm was under him. He was able to move his right arm. There was a tear on the right sleeve of his coat. Clow used two crutches, but witness saw none there. Witness saw no crutches at 5 o'clock. Witness did not know whether Clow had been drinking or not. There was some clay on Clow's clothes and on his hair. Clow weighed about 120 pounds. He lost the leg in a saw mill.

Geddie McLeod stated that he passed over the road about 8.30. Thomas Beer was with him. Witness noticed a team on the right side of the road. They saw a man in the wagon. He pulled up. Witness and Beer went back. There was a man in the back of the wagon. His head was resting on one side of the wagon. They were unable to make him up. They heard some person directly across the road. Witness did not know the party in the wagon. They decided to call at the nearest house and inform them of the circumstances, as they did not know what to do. Mr. McKinnon to whom they spoke stated that he would investigate.

The witness was examined by Mr. Bell.

The charge against McInnis was withdrawn, but it was decided to hold him as a material witness.

Dr. Renwick Mathieson, physician and surgeon, Springfield, testified that he was called to Bradalbane, at 9.30 on Nov. 15, by Ivan Kennedy. The injured man was in a truck at Kennedy's store. He was taken into the store. The man was unconscious, and at that time showed no improvement. On examination it was found that there were three distinct wounds on the head, matted with hair. One was on the left side of the head, one on the back of the head to the right side. The wound was about two inches long, fairly clean cut through the scalp. The skull showed on examination a distinct depression, showing a fracture. The third wound was to the lower left of the latter wound, circular in form. The wounds were dressed.

The man was taken to the Prince County Hospital. There was a consultation of the staff. Witness saw the injured man on the day following. There was a contusion found on the groin on the right side. (Jacket exhibited similar to one worn by Clow.) There was blood stains on the clothing as well as on the head and face.

Cross-examined the witness stated that the scissors were used freely in cutting off the clothing.

Donald B. McDonald, Shamrock farmer, testified that on the evening of Nov. 15, as he was going home from Bradalbane, he saw a horse standing quietly in an express wagon on the west side of the road, heading toward Bradalbane. Witness saw nobody in the wagon, or on the road.

Cross examined Mr. McDonald stated that he did not report the matter to any person. He did not know what time it was that he saw the horse and wagon on the road.

Lester McLeod, butcher, Victoria, testified that he was driving a delivery car. He left Capaud about 9 o'clock bound for Bradalbane. The distance is about eight miles. Witness saw a man bring on the road near Bradalbane. He met no cars or wagons on the road. Witness had good lights. The man wore a yellow jack-

Summerside Supreme Court

(Special to the Guardian)
SUMMERSIDE, Nov. 27.—The case of the King against Roy Yeo and Bayfield Yeo for assault occasioning actual bodily harm, was continued when the Supreme Court reopened Thursday morning at 10.30. The following witnesses for the Crown were examined by Attorney General Mr. Campbell, K. C. Florence Enman, Mrs. Loretta Williams, Leigh Paugh, Roy Enman, Lloyd Milligan, Angus Enman, Edgar Ramsay and Charles Enman who gave similar evidence to that given the day before. Charles Enman the injured man, was put on the stand and stated that he did not remember anything that happened on the night in question. He did not remember going to the place or anything at all for fifteen days afterwards. He did not feel as well as he did before that time. This closed the case for the Crown. The witnesses were cross-examined by counsel for the defence.

Mr. C. D. McCallum opened for the defence. As to the accused Bayfield Yeo, the defence is denying that he committed any attack. Roy Yeo will admit having struck Enman, but claims that the latter had first struck his brother, Kenneth with a bottle and had also struck him, Roy Yeo with a similar weapon. Kenneth Yeo, brother of the prisoner, was the first witness for the defence and testified that he remembered lying on the floor and that Charles Enman threw a bottle at him. Court adjourned until 10.30 this morning.

Many of our residents here have read with pleasure and, we hope, profit, the strong article by Adrian MacDonald, teacher in the Peterboro Normal School, on "Enslaving the Young Idea." It is hoped all parents and teachers will keep this before them and remember that the child has enough of brain-testing in school to do for the whole day.

Miss Irene Kennedy has arrived home after a pleasant visit with friends and relatives at Montague.

home and we are pleased to report that it was successful. Mrs. Ives of Montague is attending the patient and her recovery has been so marked that we believe she has passed the danger point.

On Friday morning the doctors of this vicinity performed an operation on Mrs. Alexander Graham for the removal of a tumor. This also was a successful performance and we believe Mrs. Graham is now on the fair way to recovery, and no doubt will soon be around her usual duties feeling much improved in every way.

Rev. Thos. A. Rodger, Presbyterian Minister at Belfast, and Rev. C. R. Ashdown, who is at present supplying the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church at Wood Islands, were visitors in our locality on Friday, of last week. Rev. Mr. Ashdown will give an evening with Robt. Burns the great Scottish poet in Wood Islands Church Thursday evening. It may be that he will give a similar evening in this district at a later date.

A schooner loaded with Nova Scotia coal arrived at Clow's Wharf at the end of the week and supplies were handed out to those that use such commodity. The schools of the district were stocked up for winter.
