PORTRAYAL OF CHARLOTTETOWN THEATRE

Preliminary arrangements for the construction of Charlottetown's new Theatre were completed this week by Mr. F. G. Spencer, on behalf of F. G. Spencer Co. Ltd. and Famous Players Corp. Ltd. A permit has been procured for the building of a theatre on the large property on Grafton St. adjoining the Capitol Theatre and purchased by his Company for that purpose a year ago from the Y. M. C. A. The above is a portrayal of the theatre which these combined interests have now in course of erection in Amherst and Campbellton, by the J. N. Kenny Construction Co. of Halifax and Yarmouth, N. S., with expected completion in the Fall, and will somewhat resemble the one to be built on Grafton St. However the Charlottetown Theatre will differ somewhat in frontal design and also be larger, having a seating capacity for more than one thousand patrons on one floor. Mr. Spencer also advises that construction of the Charlottetown Theatre will be started upon solution of the present tenant problem. The new "Paramount" will be operated just as are the present Charlottetown Theatres in conjunction with the Famous Players chain of Three Hundred and Fifty theatres throughout Canada. Famous players, in turn, it is explained is a subsidiary of the Paramount Theatre Corp., with its world-wide operations in Theatres, Motion Picture Production and distribution.

"MAN ALIVE" HILARIOUS

Hilarious results ensue when a husband forgets his wife's birthday in the hilarious screen comedy, "Man Alive" starring Pat O'Brien, Adolphe Menjou and Ellen Drew, with Rudy Vallee featured. O'Brien is the forgetful husband and Miss Drew is the neglected wife. When Vallee arrives on the scene with an armful of red roses, Ellen makes such a fuss over him that O'Brien goes out to drown his troubles with the most astonishing results. Menjou tries to fix things up, but only succeeds in making it worse.
"Man Alive" plays at the Capitol Theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

Bristol and Vicinity

Miss Mabel Stranger, one of Bristol's young school teachers, was in the city on Saturday making plans to enter the Charlottetown Hospital at the next class to train for a Nurse. The call for young girls with the necessary education to enter this profession is very great at present.

A man travelling to the city early Saturday morning informed this writer he was quite surprised east of St. Peter's Bay, near Five Houses, to see a dead horse on the road and to make it sadder the dead animal was still harnessed in the wagon, apparently left there just as he had been killed.

Friends here of Miss Helen Hughes who is a patient in the Provincial Sanatorium, will be pleased to hear she is much improved and able to be outside now during the day time. Helen is a good sport and at her young age it is hoped to see her back to good health real soon.

McAdam's bus which makes a Saturday night trip to the city from Morell and return is loaded each Saturday night. The return coach leaves the city at midnight giving those attending the late show time to eat before leaving for home.

Something new in the fish business has started here this season that is the purchase of gaspereaux, for canning at Mount Stewart. This it is believed is the first time there has been a market for this fish. In years gone by they were caught here by the thousands and left on the banks of the streams to rot.

It is understood work on a new bungalow for Hon. H. H. Cox has started at Morell.

Miss Sivilla Ferguson has taken a position with the Metropolitan Stores in the city.

Mrs. Maude Steele, R. N., is at present doing private nursing at the new Souris Hospital.

Mrs. Raymond Jay, who returned home sometime ago when her husband was transferred to the west in the R. C. A. F., has been informed that the only house available for them out there was twelve miles from fresh water. Rather far to carry a pail of water.

Mr. Arthur Meeley, who resided here for some years, later returning to his home in Boston, has arrived in Bristol, for a short stay with friends.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 24—(AP) — The United States' bid to sweep the first post-war Wimbledon tennis championship got off to a crackling start today when Jack Kramer, second-seeded star, smashed out an easy straight-set triumph over Dr. R. J. Sandys of Eire.
