THANK OFFERING SERVICE —The Thankoffering of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, New London was held on Sunday evening, October 9. A large congregation was present and listened with intense interest to the eloquent address, which was so clearly described by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Ayers. A very pleasing part of the program that deserves special mention, was a sweetly rendered solo—"My Heavenly Father Watches O'er Me" by Mr. J.B. Lewis of Freetown, who possesses a voice of very fine culture. Messrs Auld and Lewis sang the duet, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," which was very beatiful throughout, and which was very appropriate for the occasion. The many flowers which were of a great variety added much to the service. The women of this society are to be congratulated on doing such remarkable work as was shown by the past year's report.

FISHING EXPERTS OFF—Thursday's Montreal Star says Dr. Cyrus Macmillan, Molson Professor of English and Literature and chairman of the Department of English at McGill University, recently appointed member of the Royal Commission to investigate the fishing industry in the Maritimes, meets the other members of the commission today at Campbellton, N.B., where they will hold a preliminary meeting before proceeding for a brief survey of the Maritimes. Dr. Macmillan left Montreal last night with Mr. Justice A.K. MacLean, president of the Exchequer Court of Canada and chairman of the commission. It is probable that following the survey in which the commissioners hope to secure much of the material they will require for their investigations there will be an adjournment. Commenting on the commission prior to his departure, Dr. Macmillan indicated that it is the logical outcome of the famous Duncan report drafted by the previous commission with which he was associated and which investigated the present situation in the Maritime Provinces.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT — A musical treat was afforded the large audience which assembled in the Mt. Herbert Consolidated school on Thursday evening. The program was under the direction of Miss Roberta Spencer of Ch'town, and was splendid in every respect. Mr. Percy Mutch ably presided. The program consisted of two brilliant piano duets by Miss Spencer and Miss McKenzie. Three numbers by the male trio, Messrs Quigley, Dingwell and Sterns, whose voices blended harmoniously, and were never heard to better effect. They were deservedly encored after each number. The vocal solos of Miss McNeil and Miss McKenzie were heartily applauded, while the inimitable reading of Miss McNeil, rocked the house with laughter and drew repeated encores. Mr. Littlejohns gave two violin selections, to which he was compelled to respond. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. E. Rayner seconded by Mr. E. Mutch and heartily carried. Following the program, a large number of dainty boxes containing tempting delicacies were auctioned by Mr. McLeod. Before departing, the entertainers were invited to sit down to a wonderful repast, served by the Mt. Herbert Ladies. After doing full justice to the same Mr. Leigh Dingwell struggled to his feet, and in behalf of the party thanked the ladies in a very neat speech. The hostesses sang "For they are jolly good fellows," to which the guests responded "For they are jolly good cooks." The financial result of the concert was most gratifying and will help defray the cost of renovating the Mt. Herbert Church.

'A Babe in the House is a Well-spring of Pleasure"

Mrs. Francis Bouck

St. Catherines, Ont.—"During Motherhood I was all rundown, nervous and weak, when, upon advice, I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It strengthened me, quieted my nerves and I had no more trouble. I kept well and had a fine, big, healthy baby—he has scarcely had a day's sickness. The Favorite Prescription was so helpful to me that I believe it is the only medicine for the expectant mother to take."—Mrs. Gorden Bouck, 33 Wiley St.

Pownal News

Miss Florence Murray, M.D., Medical missionary of Korea, India, who is now on furlough, addressed a public missionary meeting in the United Church here on Tuesday night. Dr. Murray's message was followed with intense interest and pleasure, as she took her attentive listeners on an imaginary journey to Korea and there spent a day with them going the rounds of the hospital of which Dr. Murray has complete charge. After such a trip one cannot help but say surely this is the work of the Master who went about doing good. Not only are the physicial needs of the patients ministered to but the spiritual needs as well. This surely is Christianity in action. One would but need to hear the speaker to understand the urgent need there is for urgent prayer, willing courageous Christian workers, and finance to help to carry on this glorious work, among our heathen brothers and sisters in the far off land. Dr. Murray leaves the Island shortly for Halifax, where she will take an X-ray course. Mrs. W. Thompson of Ch'town also gave a short talk while Mrs. Littlejohns welcomed the missionary to our Church.

At the evening service at the Alexandra Baptist Church on Sunday last the pastor spoke from the words "For God Hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of Power and of love, and of a sound mind." The speaker emphasized the need of fearlessness in preaching the gospel he delivered his message not with the hope of catering to some, but with the spirit of love and power striving to help all. A solo by Mrs. Holden MacLure and a duet by Misses Gladys Burhoe and Evelyn Ward was much enjoyed by all.

Mr. Linkletter, Summerside, was a visitor to Pownal on Tuesday on a business trip. He returned to Ch'town on Wednesday.

Miss Helen Hamilton of Ch'town spent the week end in Pownal, the guest of Miss Lona Acorn.

Miss Viola Ballem, Waterside, motored to the City Saturday evening.

Mr. Thorley Mutch and party motored from Bunbury to Summerside on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sephus Ross, Vernno, were visitors by the Murray Harbor train to the City on Wednesday.

Mr. Helen Moore Ch'town was a visitor in Hazelbrook on Wednesday.

An Australian National Event

(By British United Press.)

MELBOURNE, Australia, October 15.—On the long broad sweeps of Flemington racecource, in this city, will be decided on November first the horserace for the Melbourne Cup, one of the most historic and richly endowed handicap events in the world. The prize for this day's winner is worth nearly 55,000 dollars in cash and a 1000-dollar gold cup, while second and third horses win 10,000 dollars and 5000 dollars in prize money.

Established in 1861, when Victoria was a sparcely populated British colony, this year's contest is the 67th annual unbroken race for the trophy. In that time about $2,000,000 has been given in prize money and owners' sweepstakes.

The event has been run over a distance of two miles since its inauguration, and to win it is the ambition of every racehorse owner in this racehorse-loving country. Success crowns a horse's career on the turf, and if the winner is an entire, his stud value is enormously enhanced.

That the race is difficult to win is proved by the fact that in its long history the only horse to win it twice was Archer, the winner of the first and second Cups. Since then many great horses have tried to win a second Cup, but none has succeeded in breaking the hoodoo that seemingly clings to such a performance.

Among the greatest feats in the history of the race was that of Carbine in 1890, who as a five-year old carried 145 pounds to Victory. Carbine was probably the greatest horse ever bred in this country, and after that great win he was bought at a high price by an English Peer, the Duke of Portland, and his blood had an important influence on the thoroughbred. Among his best sons was Spearmint, winner of the English Derby, and a notable sire himself. Poitrel, another great Australian-bred stayer, carried 140 pounds successfully in 1919, and this year, Spearfelt, the greatest Australian stayer of recent years, and a grandson of the famous Carbine, will endeavor to put the seal on his fame by lumping 142 pounds. Last year Spearfelt carried 131 pounds and won in the record time for the race of 3m 22 1-2s.

Spearfelt is one of the romances of Australian racing. He was bought as a yearling for 650 dollars and has now won nearly 200,000 dollars in stakes. He was thought to have irretrievably broken down six months ago, but a clever trainer has cured him of his trouble and he is now said to be in fine fettle for winding up for the Cup.

Racehorses in the southern hemisphere have their birthdays on August first, and on that date this year Spearfelt was a six-year-old.

Over 300 horses were weighted for the Melbourne Cup last June but out of that number, probably not more than 30 will face the tapes. Many fail to come up to their owners' expectations, others fail when the exigencies of training are placed upon them. One way and another, the numbers are thinned down until it is considered a big field if more than a score and a half are saddled up for the event. Despite this, heavy wagering goes on from the time the weights are issued, both straight-out and in conjunctions with another race or three weeks earlier, the Caulfield Cup in double betting. A million dollars can be won in bets by a stable either straight-out on the Melbourne Cup or on the "two Cups double."

A hundred and fifty thousand people, probably more, will be watching this race. The huge stands will be packed so thickly that the onlookers can hardly breathe, and surrounding hillsides will be dense with spectators. This is the glorious Spring season, and the brilliantly dressed women-folk as ardent racegoers as their males, will splash lawns and pathways with color. Flemington is a roomy course, but on Melbourne Cup day it is always a problem for the Victoria Racing Club's officials to pack the people in. The course itself is one of the most trying for a horse in Australia, and has a final stretch two and a half furlongs long. It is considered by race enthusiasts to be one of the finest and most exhilarating sights in the world to see the Melbourne Cup field sweep into that stretch for the last desperate battle to the winning post.

The Melbourne Cup is an Australian National event, not a mere horserace. It really reflects the history of the country's development, for its stakes rose from a thousand dollars in the first year to $50,000 in 1890, a "boom" year, and then sank to $15,000, when a financial crisis ensued in the next two or three years, to rise again gradually to the present standard with the greater development of the country.

Warship Mystery

(By British United Press.)

LONDON, October 15.— Built as a mystery ship, H. M. S. London, which is to be launched shortly by the Lady Mayoress of London will remain a mystery ship for some years. No one outside official circles knows the full particulars of the ship which embodies all the latest improvements. The new London, which is the ninth of that name, was built under the provisions of the Washington Treaty, and will possess a speed of 32 knots. Except that she is to displace 10,000 tons, mount eight 8 in. and four 4in. guns, and be protected by a curving deck again attack from the air, no details have been revealed.

There was a London in the Royal Navy so far back as 1636, and the immediate predecessor of the new battleship was scrapped at the end of the war.

700 Feet Of Hair

(By British United Press.)

LONDON, October 15.—A yachtsman's inquiry at the Bethnal Green Museum concerning a rope of human hair has resulted in the exhibiting to the public of a Japanese relic of great interest.

The rope, which weighs five hundredweight, is over seven hundred feet long. It has been stored away for many years.

It was bequeathed to the museum fifty years ago by a Mr. E. Watson, a British merchant in Yokohama," Mr. Arthur K. Sabin, curator of the museum said the other day.

"The history of the rope is very curious. About 1862 the Government of the then Tycoon wanted a rope of considerable strength for some particular purpose. From 1863 to 1869 all the available women's hair from the province was collected and utilised for the making of the rope.

"When the Tycoon and his Government gave way to that of the Mikado, the more enlightened ruler, having discovered that there were such things as steel hawsers, rejected the hair-rope.

"Dad, I need a new hat."

"But you go without a hat."

"Yes, but I must have a hat to go without."

Someone has defined a jury as "a body of men organized to find out which side has the cleverist lawyer."

Fifteen Years' Repair Work

(By British United Press.)

LONDON, October 15.—An early start is to be made with the repair of the Houses of Parliament buildings, which is estimated to cost five million dollars and to last for fifteen years.

It is likely that during the autumn session of Parliament the Speaker's Green (at the foot of Big Ben) and the Victoria Towers Gardens will be turned into stone yards, to be used mostly for assembling the finished stones.

The authorities are now looking for accommodation near the river, and within a short distance of Westminster, where the main work on the stone will be done.

Decisons have been reached regarding the detailed nature of the repairs, and it is understood that there will be no change in the general silhouette of the building. This means that all the small pinnacles, bannerettes and other decorations will be retained. Many of them will have to be replaced entirely.

Better a little chiding than a lot of heart-aches.

"O world as good as God has made it, all is beauty; and, knowing this is love, and love is duty, what further may be sought for or declared."

To its own impulse every creature stirs; live by thy light and earth will live by hers.

Are there going to be any regrets tomorrow about that good meal you're all set to stow away tonight. Better take Seigel's Syrup. Any drug store.
