UNEQUAL DISTRIBUTION OF MEN AND WOMEN

300,000 Wifeless Husbands and Millions of Husbandless Women Separated by Continents. Suggested Remedy is Controlled Emigration.

(Special to The Guardian)

LONDON, Aug., 30— The growing excess of women over men as revealed in the recent census in England and Scotland had actuated a special correspondent in the Times to revive and discuss the remedy of the emigration of women to relieve the disparity. The writer of the Times has discovered however, that the excess of marriageable men in the overseas Dominions does not lend encouragement to the idea in Canada. He points out there are two hundred thousand excess male eligibles in the marriage market in Australia, fifty thousand in New Zealand, twelve thousand and South Africa thirty thousand or roughly speaking about three hundred thousand husbands for the some millions of English and Scotch lassies who are likely to remain husbandless in the Old County. The preliminary report of the Scotch gives the population of Scotland as 4,882,000 including 2,345,000 males and 2,533,000 females, the gross total representing an increase of 121,000 over 1911.

MANY POSSIBILITIES FOR VACANT GOVERNORSHIPS

Manitoba and Ontario Governorships are Vacant. A Number of Names Mentioned in Both Provinces.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug., 30—The government has upon its hands the task of filling two Lieutenant Governship's, one in Manitoba where Sir James Aitken's term has expired and the other in Ontario where Lieut Governor Clark has passed away. There are apparently difficulties in connection with the filling of both vacancies. For the Manitoba position several names are mentioned including those of George Allen, M. P., for South Winnipeg and Hon. Robert Rogers ex-minister of public works. It is believed here that the government would be better pleased to give Sir James Aitken's another term if he can be induced to accept. No body is definitely in view at present for the vacant position in Ontario. The incumbent of this position is called upon to maintain an establishment which is in the nature of a castle erected some years ago by the provincial authorities and the expense of whose upkeep is a discouragement to any but most wealthy aspirants for the office. In the meantime Sir William Mulock who has been administrator since the illness of the late Lieut Governor commenced, has ceased to be administrator with the latter's death. It is stated that Sir. Edward Kemp may have the position if he desires it, but Sir Edward has just recovered from a serious illness and it is not believed that his physicians would agree to his undertaking the labors of he positions.

Four Hundred Slain by Soldiers In India

SIMLA, British India Aug. 29—A general staff report from Malabar, issued Sunday night, said disturbances had occurred south of Ponnani. The steamer Nawb had arrived at Calicut with supplies. Both Calicut and Dudalar were reported to be quiet.

The official communication of Saturday from Calicut said a column returning from Lapalum came into action with the rebels Friday at Pukktaur. The casualties of the Moplahs were about 400 killed. The British loses were two men killed and six wounded, including one officer.

Prince Likely to Go.

LONDON, Aug. 29—At the present moment there apparently is no idea that the troubles in India will affect the approaching visit of the Prince of Wales to the Indian empire. Earl Cromer, who once held the post of aide-de-camp to the vice-roy of India, will head the personal staff of the prince.

Religious Fanaticism

The revolutionary trouble in Malabar arises primarily from religious fanaticism, and from the intense hatred of the Moplahs or Mohammendans of Arab descent for Europeans and Hindus. Of politics and home rule they know nothing as they virtually are barbarians, but the religious torch will always stir them to bloodshed as they live mainly for their religion and are willing to die for it. Self-torture is not uncommon among the Moplahs in the hope that they will thus arrive in Heaven and they believe that death on the battlefield is the sure road to a happy hereafter.

Close observers here of Indian affairs express the belief that the uprising is also in part due to the widespread propaganda of the native Indian nationalists. To this agitation has been added reports of great wrongs done Turkey and the caliphate by the treaty of Sevres. This propaganda has been spread not only in the Malabar region but throughout India.

Reports circulated among the Moplahs that Afghanistan was sending troops to assist them apparently were without foundation, but it is not considered surprising here that the Moplahs should have believed them, since the Afghans are noted as religious fanatics.

The situation for isolated Europeans and Hindus in the Malabar region is grave as the Moplahs in the past have halted at nothing in their frenzied hatred.

Air Patrols Frustrate Smuggling

(Special to The Guardian)

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—Air patrols have been instrumental in frustrating to a large extent at least the efforts of smugglers to land huge quantities of liquor illegally in the Pacific coast, according to reports reaching Air Board officials from the Customs Department at Vancouver, where seaplanes have been placed at the disposal of the customs officials in their fight against the dope smuggling. A recent suspect, a longshoreman, was arrested while trying to smuggle ashore $1500 worth of opium from one of the vessels travellin between Canada nad the Orient. The circumvention of the drug smugglers is a game which keeps the customs officials on the qui vive as new landing places are tried almost for every shipment nad it has been found that the use of seaplanes is the only method of transportation speedy enough to enable the Customs Department to meet the situation. In a recent case information was received of a new landing place and preventive officers were able to reach there before the smugglers had time to remove the drugs from the steamer.

Little Girls Says That Levine is Not The Man Wanted

ST. JOHN, Aug 30—The three little girls who saw the original suspect saw George Watson Levine last evening about 7 o'clock and all were of the opinion that he was not the crominal wanted in connection with the murder of the little McAuley girl, according to a statement made by Phyllis Wilson last night. The detective department refused last night to give out any information in connection with the suspect other than that the little girl had seen him.

According to the story told by the little Wilson girl, she and the two other girls viewed Levine in the jail last evening about 7 o'clock. The prisoner, she said, had the same dark brownish colored skin as the murderer but was not nearly tall enough; did not have the same hunch to his shoulders, nor did his features closely resemble those of the man whom she had seen on the day of the murder. She was positive, she said that this was not the same man. She said that the other two little girls also were convinced that this was not the same man they had seen on the day of the murder.

Following the examination of this suspect the girls were taken to the provincial hospital, where they saw a patient who was slightly under suspicion but she said, this man did not resemble the suspect to any extent. She also said that none of the photographs which she has seen so far had borne a resemblance to the murderer. She remained positive that she could recognize his face no matter how he changed his clothes or otherwise altered his general appearance.

Sergeant Detective Power said last night that the three little girls had seen the prisoner early in the evening. He refused, however, to give out any information whether the girls had identified him or not. When asked fegarding other local rumors, he said that so far nothing of an important nature had developed in the city. He expected the photographs of the suspect who is held at Sydney would arrive in the city some time today. He said that the suspect there was being held by D. A. Noble, chief investigator of the Dominion Steel Company. The detective expected to show the little girls several photographs today.

There was an attendance of about 300 members. The guest of honor was Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, lieutenant-governor, who welcomed the convention and also conveyed a welcome from Premier Meighen.

President Sir William Pope in his annual address warned against a too slavish imitation of German methods in the direction of synthetic chemistry and predicted that the present generation would see an immense development in the application of organics chemistry to industry.

Carvell, chairman of the Railway Commissioners has expressed the view that something must be done to meet the present situation and is hopeful that some immediate action will be taken as a result of today's conference in support of a reduction of freight rates. The view is taken that falling wages and cheaper materials have reduced operating costs.

THE BODY OF THE COMMODORE FOUND

HULL, ENGLAND, Aug. 29—The body of Air Commodore E.M Maitland of the British Flying Force, who lost his life in the disaster of the ZR-2 last week, was recovered from the wreck of the dirigible late this afternoon.

Inquests were opened this afternoon on the last four bodies recovered from the ZR-2, those of Lieut.-Commander Emery Coll, of Marietta, Ohio, H. Pettit, of New York City, Albert L. Loftin, of Lake Charles, and Flight Sergeant A. P. Martin, of the British personnel.

As in the previous cases this was a mere formality to enable the coroner to issue burial certificates and after identification testimony was given the inquests were adjourned to Oct. 4, by which time it is expected that all the bodies that can be recovered will have been found and the inquests can proceed.

Three other bodies were also recovered by the indefatigable salvagers from the wreckage. They are those of Mr Campbell, superintendent of the Royal Air Works, where the dirigible was built; C. W. Duffield, of the National Physical Laboratory, and Charles S. Aller, an American rigger.

Commodore Maitland's body was enmeshed in wires and before it could be secured these wires had to be cut. The body was badly mutilated and his hand was still grasping a control cord.

The control car of the airship is believed to be among the wreckage brought ashore today.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 28.—Acting at the request of Peoria, (Ill.) police, Birmingham authorities have arrested as a suspicious person Piedro Gussman, whose marriage to Miss Ruth Stephenson early this month resulted in the killing of Father James E. Coyle, Catholic priest, by the bride's father, the Rev. Edwin R. Stephenson, a Methodist minister.

The request for Gussman's arrest was contained in a letter to Chief of Police Shirley, which stated "a man named Piedro Gussman" was wanted in Peoria for cutting to death a woman on November 8, 1920.

The letter said attention of Peoria authorities had been directed to Gussman's indirect connection with the Stephenson case and an investigation was asked to ascertain if he is wanted in the Illinois city.

Probable Purchasers View Toronto Railway

(Special to The Guardian)

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—The Toronto railways assets were viewed by the purchase arbitrators and by counsel representing the city and the company today. Sir Adam Beck, the city's representative on the board of valuatorfs evinced the keenest interest in following the brief descriptions given by company officials. While declining to give his opinion following the inspection of what he saw, Sir Adam let fall a few significant remarks. "Why don't they show us what can be done with them," he asked in passing a line of ancient chariots in the Dundas car barns. "Its maintenance that costs money in running a street railway," declared Sir Adam. When the party reached Yorkville barns they were told that here it was that the old horse cars and horses used to be housed. "I can smell the horses," laughed Hume Cronin Sharim of the arbitration board. Sir Thomas White the company's nominee maintained discreet silence for the most part when the party was inspecting the car building at Frederick and Front streets. He brought out that twelve cars were constructed and assembled in that very barn. The arbitrators made its most thorough tour of this building, going over every floor. Sir Adam was careful to note the kind of wood used in construction and repair and carried a sample away with him.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—George V. McLaughlin state superintendent of banks, today confirmed reports that the National Thrift Bond Corporation, which has $700,000 worth of thrift bonds outstanding with workers who purchased them by weekly pay envelope deductions had placed its affairs in his hands.

The corporation is insolvent, he said, but it deposited a group of government, state and municipal securities in a trust fund at the Equitable Trust Company to secure the thrift bonds, and if the holders of these wait until the maturity, between 1943 and 1954, they should receive the full face value. At this time, Mr. McLaughlin asserted, the market price of the securities averages thirty per cent. below par.

SWINDLE TORONTO BANK FOR $35,000

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—It leaked out today that the Bank of Commerce head office here on Saturday was victimized to the extent of $35,000 by a quick check switching and stamping scheme. It was during the busy hours when the checks were presented to the paying teller by two different men within a few minutes of each other. The men were told in each case to "get it marked please." Within a few minutes they presented the checks again—they were payable to "self and bearer"—and apparently duly stamped by the "accepted" stamp of the bank. The money was paid over, but it afterwards developed that there was no such account in the bank and the checks were marked apparently by a forged facsimile of the ledger keeper's stamp.

Only the helmsman and one man were on deck at the time of the collision which occurred two miles off the gas buoy at Low Point. The other men of the crew were below, and Captain Richards said today that if the collier had struck one foot further aft most of them would have been killed in their berths. The steamer was outward bound for Montreal and the schooner was coming in for bait.

The fishermen warmly praise Captain Morgan, of the Kamouraska, for prompt measures for their relief and for standing by them through the night.
