PLEASANT GROVE

Pleasant Grove semi-annual examination was held in the school house on Thursday, January 28th which, although the day was very stormy, was largely attended by twenty visitors, three members of the school board, and four pupils who came as visitors. The junior grades were carefully examined by their teacher and showed by their ready answers that they had been carefully taught in their various subjects. The school was very prettily decorated in the Christmas color scheme. The Christmas tree which was prettily decorated with rope, tinsel and candles, was well laden with gifts for pupils and teacher.

The following program was nicely carried out by all who took part. Opening chorus, Jingle Bells, with bells. Welcome, Helen Caswell. Class II Grade, There is a Santa Claus. Willard Murray. No Place for Boys to Go, Francis Lawless. Class III Grade, Taking the Census, Helen Caswell and George Lawless. The Dead Doll, Gertrude Lawless. God's Children, Pearl Roberts. An Interrupted Recitation, Pearl Roberts and Willard Murray. Class IV Grade, A Lengthy Recitation, Rita Curran. A Little Boy, Arthur Clow. Class I Grade, Christmas Star Drill and Song by 10 pupils. Class VI Grade, A Naughty Boy, Norman Caswell. Which One Are You Going to Drown?, Rita Murray.

The Christmas Gifts were distributed by Kathleen Curran and Helen Caswell. The treat of candy was donated by the Pleasant Grove Institute and the treat of apples donated by Messrs. E. Hardy and W. W. Dick. The teacher thanked the donors. The remarks by the secretary and others pointed out the changed appearance of the school, the great men of the day rising from obscure villages and the possibilities of the young of Pleasant Grove was stressed if they take advantage of the opportunities at their doors. The progress of the school was noted and a vote of thanks extended to the W. L. and the teacher Miss Bowen as its originator in the district.

Honor Roll for the months of December and January: Grade X-1 Vincent Doyle, 2 Kathleen Doyle, Grade IX-1 Marie Doyle, Grade VIII-1 Laura Watts, Grade VI-1 Helen Caswell, 2 Joseph Caswell, Grade IV Sr.-1 George Lawless, 2 Alfred Clow, 3 Everett Clow, Grade IV Jr.-1 Brenton Clow, 2 Kathleen Curran, Grade III-1 Gertrude Lawless, 2 Pearl Roberts, 3 Doris Curran, 4 Willard Murray, Grade II-1 Lloyd Clow, 2 Norman Clow, Grade I Sr.-1 Allie Caswell, 2 Rita Curran, Grade I Jr.-1 Rita Curran, 2 Francis Lawless, 3 Arthur Clow.

The regular monthly meeting of Pleasant Grove Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Parnell Curran on February 3rd with thirteen members and two visitors. Meeting opened by the reading of the creed. Minutes were read and approved. Bills of last dance were presented and ordered paid. Sick and school committees gave their reports. Mrs. Simon Power and Mrs. E. McDougall were appointed on the school committee. Miss Kathleen Power and Mrs. Doyle were appointed on the sick committee. Welcome was extended to two new members. It was moved and seconded that the school is to be scrubbed and stove blackened once a week. The supplies required to be bought by Institute. Roll call was answered by wild herbs and their uses.

At next meeting, roll call to be answered by spelling words, spelling of some to be both ways.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ALEXANDER A. RITZI

It was with sincere regret that friends and relatives here learned of the death of Mrs. Alexander A. Ritzi, which occurred at her home at 610 West Boylston St., Worcester, Mass., on Friday, Jan. 15th, 1932. The deceased, who was formerly Miss Emma Mullen, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mullen, of Tracadie, was of a kind and cheerful disposition, and by her genial nature made a host of friends both here and in the land of her adoption.

A few months previous to her death, she contracted a fatal disease, and despite the fact that everything possible was done and the best of medical aid and kind nursing was procured for her, surrounded by her heart-broken husband and children and a few intimate friends, her gentle spirit took its flight to Him, who gave it, fortified by the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. During the last few weeks of her illness she was attended by her niece, Miss Lillian Hughes, R. N.

Her funeral took place on Monday, Jan. 18th, and was very largely attended. Following a High Mass of Requiem in the Church of Our Lady of the Rosary, Worcester, Mass., celebrated by the Rev. Richard P. Rilly, her remains were laid to rest in St. John's Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Harold E. Taylor, Robert I. Publicover, Charles E. Cadwell, Myles R. Burke, Richard D. Burke and John R. Cummings. There were a large number of Spiritual and Floral Offerings.

Besides her sorrowing husband, and two children, Earle, aged 17 and Audrey, aged 5, she leaves to mourn her passing, five brothers and two sisters: Edward, Scotchfort; William, Donaldston; Walter, Ten Mile House; Fred, Tracadie Cross; Alfred, Huntingdon Park, Cal.; Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Millcove, and Mrs. John Heron, Webster's Corner; another sister, Mrs. Arthur Heon, Worcester, Mass., predeceased her thirteen years ago.

MRS. GEORGINA CAMPBELL

Many hearts were saddened when a telegram was received conveying the sad news of the death in Malden, Mass., on Jan. 27th of Mrs. Georgina Campbell, widow of the late Noah Campbell, of Milltown Cross. Mrs. Campbell who was in her 65th year had undergone a serious operation in the P. E. Island Hospital last July and had not been enjoying her usual health, yet her cheerfulness of spirit and her optimism led her many friends to believe she might through time recover. In September she left with her daughter for Somerville, Mass., to spend the winter, and while there had gone to spend a few weeks with her son in Malden, Mass., when she suddenly passed away. Her death, therefore, was a great shock to her loved ones who today mourn the loss of a dear mother, a loving sister, and a devoted grandmother. Death is always sad but its bitterest and sharpest sting is felt when a kind and loving mother is called to her eternal reward.

Mrs. Campbell was a native of Grand View and in her early years taught school, where she was much loved by young and old. There are left to mourn her passing, three daughters, Jean (Mrs. G. French, Everett, Wash.), Ella, Mrs. V. P. Brine, Somerville, Mass., Esther, Mrs. H. E. Carver, Lyndale, P. E. Island; also four sons, David of Malin, Oregon; Frank of Malden, Mass.; and Lawson and Russell of Everett, Wash.; also two brothers, D. H. Wisner of Charlestown and David of Everett, Wash.

A very impressive funeral service was held on Thursday at the home of her son in Malden, Mass., where many relatives and friends gathered to pay their last tribute of respect, after which the remains were conveyed to the North Station and accompanied by her son Frank, left for P. E. Island, arriving in Charlestown Saturday night. A service was held in the United Church, Montague, on Monday, conducted by Rev. C. U. McNeill, assisted by the pastor of the United Church, after which all that remained of a dear and loving mother was tenderly laid to rest in the Brooklyn cemetery beside her husband. The sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved ones, both home and abroad in this their hour of great sorrow.

IRIS SCHOOL CONCERT

The Iris School concert was held on the evening of Dec. 22nd, and a very interesting program was carried out by the pupils, which was enjoyed by a large audience and showed that they received careful training from their teacher, Miss May Herring. The program consisted of songs, recitations, drills and dialogues. Miss Myrtle Herring was organist and some excellent violin selections were rendered by Mr. James Hume. After the program, Santa Claus appeared and distributed the presents from the prettily trimmed tree, which was heavily laden and caused much mirth by his humorous and witty speeches. The evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem. A neat sum of money was realized.

On the afternoon of Dec. 23rd, the Semi-annual School examination of Iris was held in the school room, with a goodly number of visitors present. The pupils were examined in the different branches by their teacher, Miss May Herring, assisted by Mrs. John A. Stewart and showed by their prompt answers that they had been diligently taught. A prize was given to the pupil standing highest in each grade, by the teacher. Complimentary remarks were made by several of the visitors after which the meeting closed by singing God Save the King.
