LOST HIS WHOLE FAMILY IN MESSINA

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Bringing the first refugees from the earthquake devastated district of Sicily and Calabria, the steamer D'Italia arrived recently from Sicilian and Southern Italian ports.

About seventy of the upward of one thousand three hundred passengers were from Sicilian villages near the earthquake zone and the shadow of the disaster cast a gloom over the entire voyage of the steamer.

The horrors of the situation were borne in upon the D'Italia's passengers and crew by the scenes they had witnessed in the various ports on the Italian and Sicilian coasts at which the steamer had touched on her run.

Capt. Gigonni said that he received his first word of the disaster by wireless on the voyage from Genoa to Naples. On his arrival at Naples he saw the survivors coming by many vessels into port by hundreds, nearly all mourning, the loss of relatives and friends and most of them utterly destitute.

At Palermo there were similar scenes and even more distress. The one passenger on the D'Italia who had a personal experience of the earthquake to relate was Guiseppe Guindre. He was in Messina when the disaster occurred and of his family of six, a wife and five children, only he himself got out of the stricken city alive.

Guindre said when the first shock occurred he and his family rushed to the streets. In the confusion they became separated. He searched for his wife and little ones until he had to abandon all hope of finding them alive. Then in despair he left the devastated town.

Notification Already Received of Ladies Who Intend to Compete—Tour Will Be Conducted By a Gentleman of The Guardian Staff and His Wife.

It was to be expected that The Guardian's announcement in Friday's issue of the presentation to the eight most popular unmarried Provincial ladies, as elected by Guardian subscribers, of a free trip through Eastern Canada and the Eastern States, would meet with approval everywhere, but the interest already taken therein is much greater than was anticipated.

The trip will be educative, interesting, and thoroughly enjoyable. Several points in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will be visited as well as quite a number in the United States, and the trip throughout will be one long to be remembered.

Long before the day of departure a comprehensive schedule will be gotten out giving a list of the varied points and places of interest and amusement which will be visited.

Even at this early date notification has been received from persons who intend entering the contest. Every reader should watch The Guardian for fuller particulars from day to day.

TRAINS COLLIDE 50 PEOPLE KILLED

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 16.—Rushing through inky darkness at thirty miles speed, the Denver west-bound passenger express crashed into the east-bound freight at Dotsero.

The death list is estimated at from twenty to fifty, with scores injured. Brief reports indicate that the wreck was most appalling.

Three monorail locomotives are standing on end amidst a tangled mass of debris. The Pullman cars remained on the track, but the majority of the occupants of the chair cars were injured or killed.

The freight was to have taken the siding, but only half of that train was on the siding when the express came along.

HOW BIG LIONS ARE KILLED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—"Nearly 150 natives bearers will carry the President Roosevelt's equipment. They will travel for a week or ten days, making for some point where game is found; there they will halt for a week or even a month at a time. In East Africa they should find plenty of giraffes, antelopes, buffaloes and lions. Elephants will be encountered more in Uganda. Small-bore rifles will be carried for antelopes and giraffes; these with expanding bullets, will be used for lions; and for killing elephants a heavy gun carrying a cordite loaded cartridge will be taken.

Lions you either come across accidentally, or you go out on horseback very early in the morning on a high plateau in the hope of catching a lion which has delayed too long in feeding and cannot get back to cover. When you are overtaking the beast he generally comes to a halt and faces you, growling. That is the moment when you slip off your horse and shoot him. Sometimes the lion will charge at you. If he does, you gallop out of his way and wait for another opportunity. If he charges while you are off your horse, and you fail to hit him as he comes at you, it may be awkward.

TRADE PREFERENCE TO WEST INDIES

LONDON, January 16.—A conference is being arranged probably for London in the spring, between Canadian ministers and representatives of British Guiana and West India Islands, excluding Jamaica, to negotiate a series of reciprocal treaties on the basis of concessions to Canada for flour, lumber and fish in return for Canadian sugar and sugar and other West Indian products.

Sir Neville Lubbock, who has just retired from the chairmanship of the West India committee, when interviewed said the Canadian market proved the salvation of the West Indies when the United States adopted a preference to Cuba and gave Hawaiian sugar free entry. It is anticipated there will be a large expansion of Canadian trade in the Indies.

DESPERATE BATTLE WITH A BIG BEAR

FREDERICTON, Jan. 16.—John Powney, a resident of Springhill, had an exciting encounter with a big bear on the Grand Trunk Pacific line near Plaster Rock a few days ago, in which his stiel was the only thing that saved his life.

Powney left Plaster Rock about dark on his way to the camp owned by Ayler Kitchen, one of the G. T. P. contractors, when he was attacked by the bear on the right of way between Plaster Rock and Sisson Ridge.

He was unarmed, and not expecting to encounter any wild animals, he was naturally very much frightened when his attention was attracted by a noise behind him, which turned out to be a large bear following him up. His first instinct was to run, but finding that he was overtaking him, he turned around and gave battle.

Powney's only means of defence was a hardwood stick and a desperate battle followed for about twenty minutes, when the bear struck the fatal blow with the stick. During the fight Powney had his clothes badly torn by the claws of the infuriated animal, but received no bodily injury of a serious nature.

John Powney is a native of Coalville, Leicestershire, England, and he has been in Canada only about nine months, residing at Springhill.

The temperature registered thirty-six degrees above zero at three o'clock this morning.

POPULACE WILD OVER RESCUE WORK

Believe Miracles Are Performed. Many Taken Alive From Ruins.

REGGIO, Jan. 17.—(Special)—The populace are greatly excited and insist for the continuation of the rescue work by alleged miracles in favouring the restoration of persons believed dead.

Saturday a five year old boy was taken out showing absolutely no signs of privation.

The boy said his mother fed him with bread and oranges every day. The mother was killed nineteen days ago.

The populace declare this a miracle and insist that many others are buried under the ruins being kept alive by Divine Will.

An old woman was also rescued Saturday at Messina.

The bodies of Consul Cheney and his wife, which were recovered Saturday morning have been despatched to New York.

WOMEN SAMPLERS

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—"These vells the women loaves are wearing, are a great boon for us all right, ain't they?" said a grocer recently.

"Women you know, are the greatest people on earth, and the greatest sample of anything you can get your hands on, and a taste of that while you're wrapping up something for them, and the first thing you know they've eaten up about five cents worth of stuff. We can't say anything to a woman, particularly those that are good customers. Now we don't have to, I haven't seen a woman taste anything in the store for a month or so. Those vells are put on so tight that the only way they can sample anything would be to take it through a straw."

TWO HUNDRED SALES IN ONE DAY

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—Trade at the Union Horse Exchange, West Toronto, was better than for some time past, both at Monday's and Wednesday's markets. Buyers were on hand from points as far west as Winnipeg, also from Montreal in the east, as well as Cobalt in the north, and many outside places adjacent to Toronto.

Two car loads were purchased for the northwest, one car load for Montreal and many smaller consignments to other places, several being brought to go to Cobalt. Mr. J. Herbert Smith, manager, reports trade as being much better, with good prices for extra quality horses. A few special quality drafters sold as high as $215 each and one extra pair of drivers brought $385. Prices ranged as follows: Drafters $160 to $185; general purpose and farm chums, $140 to $175; wagon horses, $130 to $200; drivers, $125 to $165; serviceably sound, $32.50 to $90. About 200 horses changed hands at the two sales.
