

FOUND RIGHT MEDICINE AT LAST SAYS LORD

Worn-out Feeling and Indigestion Gone and He Gets Up Every Morning Ready For Work Since Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac has simply made a new man of me," declared Frederick Lord, well-known fisherman, living at Navy Island, West St. John N. B.

...would have to give up altogether. My brother-in-law was greatly helped by Tanlac, and when he saw what a weak condition I was in he advised me to try it, and I'm glad I did for it proved just the right medicine for me. The first time I could eat like a horse and never suffered a particle from pain or gas afterwards.

Address and Presentation

TO MISS LENA BARRETT, TEACHER OF THE PRIMARY CLASS OF THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday morning Miss Lena Barrett the talented teacher of the Primary Department of the Methodist Church who left Monday morning on an extended visit to Regina, was presented with the following address of appreciation from the Sunday School officers and workers:

"Dear Miss Barrett:—It was with profound regret that we learned that you purposed leaving the province. We cannot permit you to leave us without expressing our appreciation of your services in connection with this Sunday School. From childhood you have been associated with the school. As a scholar in the several classes through which you passed, your record was such as to leave the most pleasant impressions with your teacher. From scholar to teacher was the natural transition in your case. Your conduct of the Primary Class for a number of years has been such as to make this most important class a most proficient one. In no other department of the school are the same gifts or graces necessary as in that of the beginners. Your special qualifications, together with your willingness to serve, have made you pre-eminently successful.

We will miss you not only from the Primary Class, but also in connection with the public functions undertaken by the school. In all school entertainments you have ever taken a prominent part and the success attending such was in no small degree due to your enthusiastic work in connection with them.

The general public will also suffer a distinct loss in your departure. As the teacher of the only Kindergarten in this city you have endeared yourself to scores of the children of the place, and have won the esteem of the parents.

May we express the sincere wish that in the not distant future, the lure of this your island home may become strong enough to draw you back, if so you will find the heartiest of hearty welcomes.

That God abundantly bless you may attend you ever is our sincere prayer.

Signed on behalf of the school. G. W. GLENDENNING, Pastor, G. F. HUTCHESON, Supt. S. S.

HARDING SUGGESTS BARS AGAINST THE TRADE OF DOMINION.

NEW YORK, September 15.—The complete text of the speech delivered to a California delegation by Senator Harding at Marion, Ohio, yesterday, which was received here today, shows that the presidential candidate forecast the possibility of a Republican protective tariff against Canadian wheat. "It may well be that a long list of our farm products will require a Republican protective tariff policy," he said. He then included Canadian wheat in a list of products which he cited, and which he said "may threaten the life" of production in the United States.

Of Interest to Farmers

Producing One Pound of Pork

NO PROFIT IN FEEDING EXCLUSIVELY ON GRAIN AT PRESENT PRICES

When a man states that there is no money in hogs he bases his contention largely on more or less accurate records of feeding costs, and feeding costs only. If the market hog cannot even pay for his feed, what then of interest on investment, labor, risk, losses, marketing expenses, etc., etc?

The feed cost of producing one hundred pounds of pork may be calculated by including the cost of maintenance of the breeding stock responsible for the market hogs. Applying this method, one American farm survey figures indicate even a higher meal cost—615 pounds. Valuing meal and grain at $70.00 per ton which is conservative enough, the herd feeding charges per hundred pounds of pork would amount to $21.00 on the 6 to 1 basis. Even this does not cover all farm costs.

Figures available from herds on the Experimental Farm System compare very closely with those obtained in farm survey reports. It is that approximately 78 per cent. of the cost of pork production is for feeds and the remaining 22 per cent. to cover farm costs exclusive of shipping charges. To produce 100 pounds of pork under average Canadian conditions requires from 450 to 500 pounds of grain or the equivalent. At $70.00 per ton for meal this would represent a feed cost per cwt. of pork of $16.62 which figure represents only 78 per cent of the total cost. One hundred per cent. of the feed, plus the farm charge, would amount to $21.28 per cwt.

The above figures may appear startling. There are hundreds of small feeders who can feed a litter or so of pigs on a much cheaper basis. Otherwise there would be very little pork produced. Why can a few hogs be raised comparatively cheaply on the farm? Simply because of the fact that a considerable proportion of the feed is in the nature of a by-product or perhaps home-grown. Multiply the swine activities on the farm and it is necessary to purchase more meal and grain at market prices. The cost to produce mounts alarmingly. So with the farm flock of poultry.

What shall we feed hogs? Grain, milk feeds and by-product feeds are becoming scarcer than ever. Wheat market, the feed markets of the future are most discouraging in prospect. The wholesale price of hogs has not appreciated correspondingly. The man who can feed hogs profitably today must have a comparatively cheap or by-product to replace meal as largely as possible. Such are scarce. Milk produce form the greatest of all. City and hotel refuse is another. Green feed intelligently used, soiled or under the right conditions, pastured, is a third. Barley is one of the best.

Colliers at Reserve Idle

GLACE BAY, N. S., Sept. 15.—No. 6 and 10 colliers at Reserve were idle today as a protest against the time checking system adopted by the Company. At a meeting of the Reserve local of the U. M. W. of the afternoon a resolution was passed opposing the system and a committee appointed to confer with the management this morning. Upon reaching the lamp house it was found that the "check" would apply to all who reported for work today. Accordingly an impromptu meeting was held at which it was decided to refrain from work until the question was settled satisfactorily.

At 7 a. m. today No. 4521 local assembled in special session, committees being appointed to bring the question before the U. M. W. executive and the other locals of the district to ascertain their attitude. The Company officials point out that the system is not new, it was first put in reserve about 18 years ago, but owing to conditions was dropped for a time, and was revived about two years ago, and since that time has been continuing in force. No complaint was made with regard to it until about a month ago when the Company attempted to put in a checking system on the surface. This brought forth a protest from the men, and resulted in an agitation for the discontinuance of the lamp check system underground. The lamp check system is of no material advantage to the Company only as a record of the men underground at any particular time. The necessity of such record in the case of an explosion, or other serious accident, is very apparent, as it is the only means the company would have of knowing exactly what men were in the mine. Lamp checks systems are in use in all well regulated collieries, not as a means of time keeping, but for the protection of the men and company in case of a serious accident.

Verses 32, 33. No one who starts to drink expects to become a drunkard. It is "at the first" that the bite and sting come. In the present day we are using by prevention. We are stopping the leak instead of bailing out the boat.

Verses 34. The drunkard is benumbed so he sees not his danger. The burden of intemperance rests most heavily upon laboring people, yet they have failed to see it. The great English labor leader, John Burns said that the industrious poor were the worst victims of drunkenness.

Verses 35. The author of Proverbs said, "When shall I awake?" Our own beloved nation is getting awake, and we believe that we are arousing the rest of the world. The moral and the spiritual stupor caused by intemperance is hard to shake off, but it must go.

Practical Points

Those that claim that wine-distilling and wine-drinking should be encouraged as "true temperance" would do well to study these verses. In that land and time strong liquors—whiskey, brandy, and gin—were unknown; but the wise man sees many woes in wine: 1. Poverty (Verse 21)—In many cases dire poverty is caused by drink. 2. Strife, quarrels, and causeless wounds (Verse 29, 30)—Banish the saloon, and nine tenths of the arrests for violence and blows will be banished with it. Prisons are emptied when saloons are closed.

3. Disease—"Redness of eyes"—what do the bleared eye, bloated cheek, and red nose of the drunkard indicate? These are the outward tokens of disease in heart, stomach, kidneys, and brain. Drink is the greatest breeder of physical ailments not only in the drunkard but in his children. 4. Sensual lusts—"Thine eyes shall behold strange things." Liquor feeds the nobler impulses. No one is made purer or higher in character by drink; but it awakens every base passion. Drunkenness and social immorality go hand in hand. 5. Appetite—"When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again." The tyranny of habit is the iron chain that binds men to drink with all its woes.

NOTES.—1. The root of wisdom: hearing. The fruit of wisdom: guidance. 2. He who is "among" tends to be "of". 3. Gluttony does not usually kill as quickly or as awfully; but it kills. 4. No sleepy man will win today. 5. The drunkard has "Oh! I do his wife and children. 6. If alcoholic quarrels and misunderstandings had not been the world would not be a thousand years nearer its goal. 7. He who never touches, never tames. 8. Look not at the "now"; look at the "last". 9. May all this soon be "ancient history"! 10. No adder ever stung like alcohol. 11. With alcohol in, no virtue is safe. 12. The alcohol is not the only inebriable stimulant. 13. The nation found all charges proven, has convicted, sentenced to death. Now execute!

Sunday School Lessons

Printed Text—Prov. 23: 19-21, 29-35
Golden Text—"The drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty" (Prov. 23:21)

SETTING.—Proverbs are "the wisdom of many and the wit of one"; "what oft was thought, but ne'er so well expressed." "Words of the wise." The book of Proverbs, "the wisdom of the sage kept by the ages by the care of God," is set amid Hebrew surroundings, but its principles are universal and timeless. It needs supplementation by the other Old Testament, New Testament, books for the full ripe wisdom for both earth and heaven; but what could be better, for young or old than a daily dose of this inspired shrewdness? What pitfalls, follies, sins, and wild prevent! Pitifully powerful are its teachings.

COMMENTS
Verse 19. Solomon reigned from 1012 to 983 B.C., according to Beecher. The Book of Proverbs is a collection of practical maxims in poetic measure. The literary method is that of antithesis, comparison and imagery. There are independent sayings, epigrams and couplets. Two of the compositions are ascribed to Solomon. Some of them by unknown authors.

Verse 20. "Wine-bibbers" have always gathered in clusters. The modern places of gathering institution. It will soon be no more. The early drinking is not a mere habit. It was a social institution. It has been shown to be a hot bed of social disease, ill health, inefficiency.

Verse 21. Both the drunkard and the glutton are intemperate, but drunkenness leads to poverty and crime with far-reaching results, while gluttony is chiefly injurious to the glutton himself. Drunkenness, poverty and disease form a vicious circle in which the victim goes around and around in the vortex.

Verses 29, 31. Besides these results mentioned by the author of Proverbs consider the cost of the drink habit. A certain per cent. of the maintenance of well-known institutions is directly incurred because of the drink habit. Liquor's proportion of expense has been figured as follows: Hospitals, $4,000,000; insane asylums, $5,500,000; institutions for feeble-minded, $5,400,000; almshouses, $3,200,000; public orphan homes, $4,100,000; outdoor relief, $12,000,000; private charity $30,500,000; prosecution of drink-cause criminals, $40,000,000; estimated private burdens borne by families and children of drunkards not less than $220,000,000; This is a moderate estimate of the cost of the saloon.
