Face Powders

Advice to ladies—buy your face powders here.

Not because we sell better face powders than anybody else does, because we sell the same kind that other stores do.

The only thing is that we offer a larger assortment of the newer and better kinds.

If you want something new, ask us first.

FURS VERY VALUABLE.—Since the prices of furs of all kinds have advanced to such high prices, and the demand for them is so great, merchants who carry a stock have to take extra precautions to guard them, says the Black Fox Magazine. In nearly every city in the United States, but especially in New York numerous robberies of furs have taken place during the past season. Some of these have been quite extensive as from $20,000 to over $100,000 worth of furs have been taken in one haul.

RECORD LITTER OF BLUE FOXES.—Mr. F. M. Chastek, a subscriber, who has a ranch at Petersburg, Alaska, sends us a photo showing twelve young Blue Fox pups, born in captivity on his ranch, says the Black Fox Magazine. He states that he thinks this is a record. It has been equalled once before by Mr. Crisp Moore of Westmoreland, B. E. I., who some years ago raised, exactly that number, Mr. Chastek says the pups are all strong healthy little fellows, and the parents were last season pups. There is not a runt in the lot. He further states, that he was sceptical about giving these blue parents a ranch space, as every one claimed that they did not breed well in captivity, but that he was like the fellow that had to be shown.

Lachute, Que. 25th, 1918.
Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gentlemen,—Ever since coming home from the Boer war I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continually for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. After two bottles the sores completely disappeared and I have worked every working day since. Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH.

ISLANDER STARTS FOX RANCH IN U. S.—The Black Fox Magazine of New York says: A. L. McNally of Farmingham Mass., has bought a farm at Holliston, Mass., and is building a fox ranch there. He came originally from P. E. I. and is interested in three ranches there. He proposes to bring down enough pairs to stock his ranch. His brother, Dr. McNally, who has been a practicing physician in Maine will be associated with him in the venture. Holliston adjoins the town of Sherborn and the McNally ranch will be within two miles of Dr. Wadsworth's, Sherborn ranch. These two towns are about 22 miles southwest of Boston. Sir Charles Dutton, of P. E. I. visited Dr. Wadsworth's ranch a few days ago in company with his son, Dr. C. Howard Dutton who is a physician of Somerville a suburb of Boston. These men in company with Dr. McGuire, of Medford, own a number of foxes that have been raised in Maine for the past few years. They propose to establish these foxes near Boston where they can see them once in awhile. It was reported that they had secured a ranch at Sharon, Mass., but Dr. Dutton states that he was associated in the negotiations but that he hoped things would be straightened out in a short time. Sir Charles complimented Dr. Wadsworth on the fine appearance of his ranch and the foxes therein.

CLIMATE AND FOXES.—With regard to the question as to whether or not a change of climate affects foxes breeding an interesting case in point is furnished to us by Mr. G. M. Matthews of O'Leary, who owns a large ranch there. Last winter he contracted with a Massachusetts Company to ranch five pairs of their foxes. The foxes were shipped from Boston and arrived in Charlottetown on New Year's day and were placed in the Quarantine Station there. They remained in quarantine about ten days or until such time as it took to cut the requisite red tape to effect their release, when they were forwarded to Mr. Matthews and placed in his ranch on the 18th, January. The five pairs produced litters, the last litter arriving on April 15th or three months and two days after they were placed in the breeding pens. The company now have twenty very excellent young foxes from these five pairs and are naturally well pleased with the result of the experiment of having the foxes sent back to P. E. I. Island after a sojourn of four or five years in Massachusetts and the foxes were evidently well pleased to be back to their native soil again.

ISLANDER'S DEATH IN NORTH DAKOTA.—Hamilton Howatt, pioneer resident of Mt. Carmel township, passed away at his home last Friday night at eleven o'clock, following a several months illness of heart trouble. The members of the family, who had been out during the early part of the evening, reached home, and all of the immediate relatives were present when the end came. Mr. Howatt passed quietly away while conversing with those about him. He was first taken sick in September, 1918, and his health failed gradually until last year, when he went to Rochester, Minn., for special treatment. No hope was held out for his permanent cure, although he rallied later and was able to superintend the work at the farm. About six weeks ago he was confined to his home and required the constant attention of members of the family and friends until death claimed him. Hamilton Howatt was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Howatt, and was born at Summerside, Prince Edward Island, on March 4, 1869, a brother Mr. Joseph Howatt, French River, P. E. I. survives. When a young man of thirteen years his parents moved west and later located in Mt. Carmel township, Cavalier county, where they made their home until their death. Upon the death of his father, Hamilton took charge of the old farm, and the family has since resided there, and maintained one of the most hospitable homes in the county. Mr. Howatt was married when he arrived at the years of manhood to Miss Alice Bottrell, who survives. Ten children were born to them, eight of whom are living. Deceased was also survived by three brothers and two sisters. Mr. Howatt was known as one of Cavalier county's most successful farmers and stockmen, and he took an active interest in every movement that had for its object the betterment of home and farming conditions in Cavalier county. He was one of the founders of the town of Malda and was one of the directors of the farmers' elevator of that village. He was also an active member of the Masonic fraternity, prized very highly the teachings of the order, and delighted in the company of his brethren during the last days of his illness. Funeral services were held at the home on Sunday afternoon, July 25, and the remains were laid to rest in the Elkwood cemetery, beside those of his parents and his children, who had preceded him. The services at the home were conducted by Rev. Wm. Faucaite, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Langdon, and special music was furnished by the church choir. The services were held upon the lawn, as it was impossible to accommodate in the home but a small portion of the vast throng of neighbors and friends who came to pay their respects to the memory of the deceased. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in the country. At the grave at Elkwood cemetery the impressive service of the Masonic order was conducted by Wm. Stevenson, past master, assisted by the members of Lebanon Lodge and visiting brethren.

Faith And Understanding
FAITH is acceptance based on belief. Understanding is knowing through actual experience. Our years of experience in the drug business has won for us the respect and confidence of the community.
Faith is not lacking. But if there be some who for any reason have NOT had that faith transformed into understanding through actual business transactions we invite them to give us a trial.
This invitation is extended to rural residents as well as those who live close by.

ARMENIA HAS GRAIN

PARIS, Aug. 30.—The Armenian republic now has sufficient grain supplies for eight months, according to a telegram to the United States Grain Corporation executive here from Colonel William N. Haskell, Allied High Commissioner to Armenia, who has left that country to come to Paris with his staff of American army officers. The telegram says that the grain supply will come largely from the harvest, there being a small amount remaining of 40,000 tons of flour sent from America.
