News of the sudden death of Rev. James MacDougall at his home in Cape Traverse, on Saturday morning, came as a painful shock to the many who knew him and esteemed him as pastor, friend and citizen. He had been in his usual health until the previous night when he became slightly indisposed, but nothing seriously was anticipated. About 10 o'clock Saturday morning a sudden turn came and he passed away within a few minutes. Rev. James MacDougall was born at Nine Mile Creek on March 8th, 1866 and had, therefore, just passed his fifty-sixth year. He was educated in the common school of his native district and in Prince of Wales College after which he taught school from 1886 to 1896. He then took up his studies in Dalhousie University and the Presbyterian Theological College at Halifax, whence he graduated after a distinguished career as a student. On October 8th, 1897, he was ordained and inducted into the pastoral charge of the congregation of Coleman, Cape Traverse, and De Sable, in connection with the Established Church of Scotland, one of the largest congregations in the Maritime Provinces. This position he held until his death, with credit to himself and spiritual advantage to the very many who looked to him as their pastor and friend.

He was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, having been initiated and made a Master Mason in Orient Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Souris in 1889. Later he became affiliated with Mount Moriah Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Cape Traverse and in this lodge he was elected successively to the offices of Junior and Senior Warden and Worshipful Master and in 1919 was elected Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Prince Edward Island. His wife predeceased him by some ten years, leaving two sons and two daughters, George, Emma, James and Ada, who were with him at the time of his death. There are also left to mourn his aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George MacDougall, of Bangor, this province, two brothers, Mr. Donald MacDougall, Banbrock and Rev. Ewen MacDougall, Charlottetown, and one sister, Miss Nellie Gertrude, of Bangor. To the bereaved family and relatives The Guardian tenders sincere sympathy.

Saturday morning's ice races brought a good attendance, despite the cold. A real March wind was blowing down the course, making it very uncomfortable for spectators. The ice was good and the wind rather helped than hindered the horses, as it was blowing from the rear. Zua Baugman, driven by her owner, Mr. C. H. Bennett, distinguished herself by coping the Class A pace in three straight heats, the average time of which, 1:02, is the fastest average three heats of the season, while the time in the second heat, 1:01, exactly equaled Kentucky Marquee's record, made last Wednesday, which by the way is the Maritime record for the season. Zua was in great shape and won each heat in impressive style, the fight being between John R. and Dongola for second position. John R. having from one to three lengths the best of it in each heat. The Class B. was a mixed event that took the full five heats to elect a winner. It was a "really" great race and fast time was made, particularly in the first heat, which Nellie D., owned and driven by Mr. R. White, marched off with 1:03, very fast time, and a performance which stamps her as a mare of class. Chief Aubrey made a showing in the second heat, when he captured in 1:04 1/2, but breaks after that ruined his chances. Juanita Aubrey, owned by Mr. H. Kelly, finally won out. Marjorie S., owned by Mr. Harry Murphy, showed up well in the fourth and fifth heats, pushing the Aubrey mare to the limit.
