—THE MORNING DAILY Guardian can be obtained at Laferty's Tourist Parlours, Summerside.

—FUNERAL TO-DAY.—The funeral of the late Capt. Ellis Kennedy, of Sydney, formerly of Summerside, takes place to-day at 11 o'clock from St. Mary's Episcopal Church to St. Eleanor's Cemetery.

—TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Owing to the increasingly heavy demands on space, The Guardian cautions its correspondents to be as brief as possible in their contributions. Only Real News will be inserted.

—AWAIT TRIAL.—Deft. Sheriff Wright and Constable George Harris, arrived in Summerside on Friday morning having in charge the three Lewis boys, Calvin, Irving and Archie, of Alberton, the former two are charged with jail-breaking and Archie with interfering with officers in the discharge of their duties. They have all been committed for trial at the next sitting of the Supreme Court.—H.

—THE LATE CAPTAIN KENNEDY.—The death took place suddenly about noon yesterday of Capt. A. E. Kennedy, at his residence, 258 Bentinck street, in his 85th year says the Sydney Record of March 24th. The deceased had been unwell for several weeks, although not confined to his bed. He was born at Summerside, P. E. I., and came to Sydney about 10 years ago, where he has lived with his family ever since. The deceased followed the sea practically all his life until his retirement after coming to Sydney. He leaves three sons, Herman, Nelson and William of his majesty's customs, and four daughters, Mrs. Crocker of Boston, Miss Daisy, who lives with her aunt, Miss Schurmann of Bridgetown, N. S., Georgia, who is a nurse at the Holy Cross hospital in Calgary, Alberta, and Miss Margaret, who resided with her father. The remains were sent this morning to Summerside, where interment will take place. The remains were accompanied by the late captain's son, Herman, Capt. Kennedy's wife predeceased him some 14 years.

—LIEUTENANT SHARES MEAL WITH PRIVATE.—LONDON, March 26.—Some excitement was created in a Piccadilly grill this morning at luncheon time when a private English "Tommy" walked in and sat down at a table with a young lieutenant. The private is the young officer's father, and before the war held a high position in a London Bank. His luncheon with the officer caused some discussion, and some said it was too much democracy even for the English army. After the meal the young officer said: "Should you refuse to let the Governor buy you a lunch merely because he is a 'Tommy'?"

WESTERN PERSONALS

—SNAKE CAVE ON HIS FARM.—PINDLAY, O., March 26.—James Bookwalter while ploughing on his farm in Amanda township saw a snake crawl into a small opening in the ground. He investigated, picked up a shovel, and with a little digging discovered a small cave occupied by scores of snakes. Mr. Bookwalter called for help, and when the small army of men were through with the slaughter 125 had been killed. All were of blue racer variety. Several of the larger ones showed fight, but they were killed without much trouble.

—MR. CHARLES B. McNUTT. The passing away of Mr. Charles B. McNutt of Kensington on Monday morning, March 22nd caused a wave of sorrow and gloom to pass over a very large section of country. Few business men were so universally known and so highly respected by all classes, and extensive business as a buyer of live stock, dressed pork and other farm products, brought him into touch with the farmers and commercial men of a large part of the Island, where his keen business capacity and his upright honorable dealing won for him a name and respect not often attained by a man who has been dealing with the public for such a long time. His generous hospitality, coupled with his rare kindness of heart won for him a place in the hearts of all with whom he came in touch, and many acts of kindness done in his own unassuming way will keep his memory green in the hearts of all who knew him. He leaves to mourn a devoted wife, formerly Miss Emma Dennis of Margate, two daughters Jean and Irene and one son Charles, also two brothers Peter S. of Spokane, Wash., and James of Kensington and four sisters, Mrs. McKelvie of Calgary, Mrs. Montgomery of Clifton, Mrs. Lindly and Mrs. Humphrey of Boston. The unusually large number of people who assembled on Wednesday afternoon to pay their last tribute of respect to all that was mortal of a good and just man, bore strong testimony to the esteem in which he was held. A short service was held at the house led by his Pastor Rev. G. A. Sutherland after which the remains were removed to the Presbyterian Church where a very impressive funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Sutherland who called upon Rev. Mr. Morris to lead in Prayer, Rev. Mr. Watson to read the lesson, Rev. Mr. Rattee to give the address and the Rev. Mr. Irving to pronounce the Benediction. The remains were then viewed by the large assembly who completely filled the church and the schoolroom, after which a long funeral procession formed and followed the remains to the Malpeque Cemetery where they were laid to rest. The casket was completely covered with wreaths of flowers from friends far and near. The pall bearers were Donald McKenzie, Thomas Donahoe, Wm. Pidgeon and Herbert Moase of Kensington; Malcolm McGougan, Malpeque, and George B. McNutt of Darnley.

IN MEMORIAM

LATE CAPT. JOHN NICHOLSON.

At the advanced age of four score years and nearly three, another well known and much respected citizen, Captain John Nicholson, has gone to his reward. He was a familiar figure on the streets for long years; he was one of the very few land marks of this county. The late Captain Nicholson was a native of Orwell, and at the early age of sixteen years he went to sea, which calling he followed for almost half a century. Those were the days of the sailing ships, or, as they were called, the clipper ships, whose sails whirled every ocean. He sailed in ships owned by such well known ship builders and owners as James Duncan, the Hyndmans, Richard Heartz and the Peakes, his voyages being chiefly to the Old Country and to the United States. While still in youth, by his alertness, ability and intrepidity, young Nicholson rapidly forged to the front as a seaman and navigator, and while still in his early manhood gained his master's certificate. In the many years as sailor, mate and master, he circled the world four times and entered the principal seaports of almost all civilized and savage countries. His experience as a mariner would equal the thrilling tales and romance of the sea. He passed through many dangers and more than once faced shipwreck and what appeared to be certain death. The late Captain Nicholson was a man of vigorous health, powerful physique and splendid constitution. Coupled with his ability as a navigator were his fearlessness and indomitable determination. Hence it is not to be wondered at that he won success and an enviable reputation as a master mariner. Twenty-five years ago he retired from the sea and became proprietor of the City Hotel, which he had conducted up to the time of his death. He was appointed caretaker of the Marine Pier, the duties of which position he faithfully discharged until the end. He married Euphemia Ross, of Gibraltar, who, with one son, Mr. John Nicholson of this city, survives, and will ever cherish the memory of him who has gone. The late Captain Nicholson was a member of the Presbyterian Church, a man of praise-worthy habits, who did his duty as he saw it, to both his Creator and his fellowmen. He was eminently respected by all who knew him, and although of late he had lived in comparative retirement through failing health, many will regret to learn of his passing. Mrs. Findlay McEachern, of Newtown, and Mrs. James N. McLeod, Orwell, are sisters. To the bereaved widow, son and relatives is extended sincerest sympathy.
