

No irritation for baby's skin

Do this and keep his clothing soft, pure and comfortable

Nothing is so sensitive as baby's skin! Even the slightest roughness in his diapers, shirts and bands will inflame and irritate.

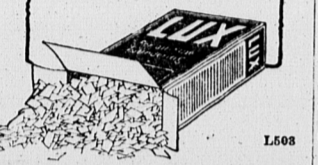

Much trouble is directly due to washing diapers with harsh soap—soap containing free alkali. The alkali clings to the little garments in the form of a fine, white powder—almost impossible to rinse out. This causes "diaper rash."

To save baby's skin, use Lux for washing all his clothes. It is the mildest, gentlest cleanser in the world. Lux contains no free alkali, and the pure soap rinses out completely. Lux keeps baby's garments soft, clean, comfortable and safe!

How to wash diapers

Remove solid matter at once and soak diapers in cold water. Whisk two table-spoonsful of Lux into thick suds in a tub of very hot water. Let diapers soak a few moments, then dip up and down, pressing suds repeatedly through them. Rinse thoroughly in three waters.

ANOTHER OLD COIN—Speaking of old coins, a new record seems to be set by Mr. Harold Worth of North River Road who has in his possession a small silver British coin dated 1795. It bears the head of George III, and on the obverse side this inscription: MAG. BRI. FID. ET HIB. REX. On the same side is the large Roman numeral one, surmounted with a crown. The coin which may be a silver penny has evidently been a keepsake and is punched, but its history is unknown.

POLICE COURT—At Saturday morning's Police Court three men, H. Ottaway, Sr., H. Ottaway, Jr., and John Gallant appeared on a charge of having stolen goods in the possession of Mr. Seth Henderson, whose premises were entered last November and overcoats and other articles stolen, was the first witness and identified two overcoats produced in court as the missing ones. Officer Higgins, the next witness, also recognized the coats, and testified that he had found one in the possession of Harry Ottaway, Sr., and the other in the possession of John Gallant, H. Ottaway, Sr. was at his height of nerve when he stated he had bought the coat from Gallant through his son, the understanding that it had been stolen from the States. After adjournment, Attorney General Stewart and Mr. W. E. Bentley, K. C., counsel for the prisoners, the two all were dismissed and John Ottaway held for sentence, which will be imposed this morning.

24th Annual Report Of The Daughters Of The Empire

Following are the reports presented at the 24th Annual Meeting of the Daughters of the Empire on Monday last.

Regent's Remarks.

Ladies: As the work of past year will be fully covered by splendid reports of your officers, there seems nothing left for me to say other than a little reminiscencing and retrospection.

In a general and unorthodox way let me emphasize and stress the duty laid upon us all as Daughters of the Empire, to help fulfill our pledge to complete the great War Memorial fund.

Our National Educational Secretary, Miss Gordon, says: "It is not so much that this great undertaking, this one great National effort of the Order should be set aside or given half-hearted support. No matter what local interests are pressing, what claims are asserted, what needs seem urgent, this is our foremost duty."

But first let me express by pleasure at seeing so many of you present at this our 24th annual meeting of the Royal Edward Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, and not the independent as is so often misprinted.

Being so near the quarter of a century mark, the "Silver Wedding" so to speak, of the order, and testified that to our origin may be of interest to our younger and more recent members.

While the South African war was at its height, there came to Montreal Mrs. Clark Murray, a Scot, lady who had witnessed the distress and sore dismay of Britain over the reverses the British Army was meeting in South Africa.

Being the situation keenly, as one of us did who can remember that dark period, she talked with us, and ladies and decided to call together a group of women and put before them her proposition. In a stirring and remarkable patriotic address, she blazed a path for the women to follow and to organize without further loss of time a Federation of the Women of the Empire on a firm and permanent basis.

The pressing need of an organization to grapple with the situation, to work for and encourage and cheer our soldiers, and at the same time to help the European Nations, which were gloating and gleeful over Britain's distress, know that the women of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, and the islands of the ocean were united in one hand to support the Empire, called forth a very ready response from the present. So in January, 1900, the Foundress of the Order, Mrs. Clark Murray, of Montreal, had an unanimous vote adopted as follows:

"That the women of Montreal here present, heartily approve of the formation of a Federation of the Daughters of the Empire with the objects suggested in the Constitution, and do hereby constitute themselves a committee for the furtherance and promotion of the same, accepting the Constitution now read as a basis of organization for the present."

Acting on this resolution, a telegram was sent to the Mayors of the Provincial Capitals as follows: "Will the women of Charlottetown join the women of Montreal in federating as Daughters of the Empire in inviting the women of Australia and New Zealand to join the Federation, and in sending to the Queen (Victoria) a message of our devotion to the Empire, and in raising an emergency fund to be expended as Her Majesty shall deem fit?"

Prompt and enthusiastic replies were almost unanimously received. Some cities were a little slower than others in organizing, so to Federation of the Women of the Empire in the honor of being the first Chapter to be formed in the Maritime Province, and known as the Provincial, until recently, when it was re-organized as the Governor Carleton Chapter and celebrated its 25th anniversary three weeks ago by a special service in the Cathedral at which Rev. Mr. Bodeaux delivered an address on Patriotism.

At a reception and tea given in the Provincial Chapter of Mrs. Brunwick was accorded to Mrs. John Black, their first regent and organizer.

Eleven of the 37 original members are still in Fredericton, five of whom have been continuously in the work of the I. O. D. E.

Much about the same time a number of ladies of Charlottetown met to consider and discuss the same telegram, and after several meetings were finally organized in April, 1901, taking the name, The Royal Edward Chapter, and the motto: "Ever Loyal" which was suggested by Mrs. Hobbick, the mother of our first regent, Mrs. James Warburton.

Just here, if time permitted, might be given a resume of the many activities that occupied our attention during the days previous to the Great War of 1914-18. Some day this duty should be undertaken, and a clear and concise record written and preserved of so momentous and historical a period through which we have passed since the organization of the Royal Edward Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, 1900 to the present time.

The Maritime Provinces have formed a conspicuous part in the glorious achievements of the Order, as they have always done in our organizations and interests in the Dominion since Confederation.

There are now over 700 Chapters in Canada, several in India, and many in the United States. The latter are no, under the jurisdiction of the National Chapter of Canada and are in affiliation and usually well represented at the annual meetings in Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and the Bahamas in count of the unveiling in your younger.

lands have their Chapter and are allied with us as is also the Victoria League of London, formed about the same time and for the same purposes.

During the past fortnight most of the Primary Chapters have already held their annual meetings, which according to the Constitution must be held during the month of February. Many have celebrated the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Order by some special function, and in this way are doubling their contributions to the War Memorial. Teas, sales, bridge and birthday parties have been held with the one object in view—to complete the $500,000.00 fund.

This in itself is a very commendable and educational advance to the children of our men, who fell in the War, or who were totally disabled. Let me here quote from old records the beginning of this fine memorial.

It was in 1917, at Victoria, B. C. that the young vice-regent of a Chapter in front of 2000 girls who worked in offices etc., and invited their evenings to patriotic work, spoke as follows: "Perhaps some of you noticed that the Salvation Army has been appointed the guardian for soldier's orphans in Canada. We all know the splendid work of the Salvation Army, but it always means that they are patriotic and 'out there' who are held by that organization, and it did seem to me" (this is Lucy Doyle a young newspaper reporter of Toronto who is speaking) "that we were not following our Constitution when we were allowing a chance like this to slip through our fingers."

We have helped everybody but we have forgotten that clarity of duty begins at home. For are not the soldiers children the most precious material of this whole country. They are the children of the men who answered the call of the Motherland. Their fathers proved themselves the sons of the Motherland and while our sons are Daughters of the Empire, can they help our boys of so large a membership, any of those men be said to have no friends or relatives? It seems to me the first aim of the Order (according to the Constitution) is that we help the widows and orphans of British Soldiers and Sailors in time of war and in time of peace, in case of sickness, in time of accidents and reverses. We are also urged to cherish the memory of brave deeds, to erect memorials, etc., etc., and why should we merely erect monuments when we can erect human lives? This memorial should not be rushed at, the wisest heads of the Order in the country should be consulted and a thorough system laid down. Why we should expend on brick and mortar, from which there is but cold return, instead of helping to form human lives, etc., etc. it was delivered in a firm and fearless manner. The President, Mrs. Gooderham, then asked Miss Doyle, "How would it be if you referred this question to the Dominion and our work at home and at the Head Office?"

With increased circulation, we might secure some advertisements and so advertise our Province. I'm sure some of you are going to interview the Tourist Association on this matter. Which of you—how many of you will try and boost P. E. I. with some ads in Echoes? I will be sorry to learn that the Chapter at Alberton "Active Service" has disbanded leaving only the one at Summerside, "Abegest" a flourishing and enthusiastic Chapter to keep us company. We are now the only Province in the Dominion without a Provincial or Municipal Chapter, and what are we going to do about it? Retain our unique position or rather singular identity? For after all, isn't there some distinction in being the one Province without a Provincial Chapter. There is need of another Chapter in Charlottetown, and many young people are ready to join. C. G. I. T. girls would form themselves into Chapters they would find splendid opportunities to carry on their work coupled with the schemes of the Order. To them we must look in future for inspiration and help if we would keep abreast of the times. Think of Lucy Doyle with her 200 office girls meeting in the evening for patriotic, historical and educational work? Surely we have Lucy Doyle in our midst who should be keen to take up Empire work and help along in the National and Patriotic endeavours of our great and glorious order.

You must have read in the Patriot last week (Feb. 17) of the I. O. D. E. Bursaries so clearly and intelligently put forth by our Provincial Secretary, Mrs. J. A. MacMillan. We hope to have applicants, some day from those entitled to the Bursaries and that benefit. In the Educational War Memorial, the greatest of monuments yet erected to our fallen heroes.

There is so much to say when I let myself loose on the National points of the Order that I don't know when to stop. But nearly having reached our silver anniversary we are about to let our work wider view that comes with time. We are not a society organized for charitable or philanthropic purposes, so when people ask why don't we do this or that, or raise money for or help the many numerous demands, we have to fall back on our constitution and remind them of our aims and objects, which are: "1st. To stimulate and give expression to the sentiment of patriotism which binds the women and children of the Empire around the throne and person of their Gracious and Beloved Sovereign."

2nd. To supply and foster a bond of union amongst the daughters and children of the Empire.

3rd. To provide an efficient organization by which prompt and united action may be taken by the women and children of the Empire when such action may be desired.

4th. To promote in the motherland and in the colonies the study of the history of the Empire and of current Imperial questions; to celebrate patriotic anniversaries; to cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds and the last resting places of our heroes and heroines, especially such as are in distant and solitary places; to erect memorial stones on spots that have become sacred to the nation, either through great struggles for freedom, battles against ignorance, or as a sign of heroic and patriotic self-sacrifice.

5th. To care for the widows, orphans and dependents of British soldiers and sailors during the war in time of peace or under sickness, accident, or reverses of fortune.

6th. To promote unity between the motherland, the sister Dominions and themselves; to promote loyalty to King and country; to forward every good work for the betterment of their country, and to assist in the progress of art and literature; to draw women's influence to the betterment of all things connected with the Empire and to instill into the youth of their country patriotism in its fullest sense."

With no proper book-keeping can be done, or annual reports prepared by the Head Office if the Chapters are dilatory in forwarding returns, so an order has been issued by them requiring all fees and reports to be received early in March. The National Echoes Secretary too, asks that we very materially increase our subscriptions. Our list of so large a membership, and the number of subscriptions is far too low. Echoes ask for 20,000 names so they may secure advertisements enough to carry on.

This may sound peremptory but believe me it is only business. Ladies, and we want to be helpful and not make any more work than is necessary for our officers at home and at the Head Office.

Christmas number of Echoes, Lieutenant-Colonel Beer and others representing the I. O. D. E. looked after our interests. Colonel Beer is a son of the Late Dr. Beer of Charlottetown. You may wonder why we were so long in having that number unveiled, but I must not spoil a good story by relating the cause—just please read for yourself. The account as printed, is well worth the price of Echoes for the year.

There is so much in the past 24 years that I would like to refer to, but the fear that you will be accusing me of garrulity or old age, which you know dearly loves to reminisce, makes me skip over much that is of interest and hasten on to the present and its activities, which are the affairs of this meeting and the coming year, and here is one of them: The need of promptness in paying annual fees and Echoes subscriptions. For the first time our annual fees are paid in full for 1924. But that is not enough. These fees are expected to go into advance or on an annual meeting so that a proper record may be received at Head Office. An order has been issued to that effect and all fees and subscriptions to Echoes must be paid and forwarded to the proper authorities at Toronto by the first of March, 1925. This means that if any of you has come unprepared, you must see that they are paid to Miss McLeod and Miss Longworth early next week, as their reports have to be sent forward. It is putting too much on these officers to have them solicit and collect these fees, so please pay up and look pleasant.

4th. To promote in the motherland and in the colonies the study of the history of the Empire and of current Imperial questions; to celebrate patriotic anniversaries; to cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds and the last resting places of our heroes and heroines, especially such as are in distant and solitary places; to erect memorial stones on spots that have become sacred to the nation, either through great struggles for freedom, battles against ignorance, or as a sign of heroic and patriotic self-sacrifice.

5th. To care for the widows, orphans and dependents of British soldiers and sailors during the war in time of peace or under sickness, accident, or reverses of fortune.

6th. To promote unity between the motherland, the sister Dominions and themselves; to promote loyalty to King and country; to forward every good work for the betterment of their country, and to assist in the progress of art and literature; to draw women's influence to the betterment of all things connected with the Empire and to instill into the youth of their country patriotism in its fullest sense."

With no proper book-keeping can be done, or annual reports prepared by the Head Office if the Chapters are dilatory in forwarding returns, so an order has been issued by them requiring all fees and reports to be received early in March. The National Echoes Secretary too, asks that we very materially increase our subscriptions. Our list of so large a membership, and the number of subscriptions is far too low. Echoes ask for 20,000 names so they may secure advertisements enough to carry on.

This may sound peremptory but believe me it is only business. Ladies, and we want to be helpful and not make any more work than is necessary for our officers at home and at the Head Office.

With increased circulation, we might secure some advertisements and so advertise our Province. I'm sure some of you are going to interview the Tourist Association on this matter. Which of you—how many of you will try and boost P. E. I. with some ads in Echoes? I will be sorry to learn that the Chapter at Alberton "Active Service" has disbanded leaving only the one at Summerside, "Abegest" a flourishing and enthusiastic Chapter to keep us company. We are now the only Province in the Dominion without a Provincial or Municipal Chapter, and what are we going to do about it? Retain our unique position or rather singular identity? For after all, isn't there some distinction in being the one Province without a Provincial Chapter. There is need of another Chapter in Charlottetown, and many young people are ready to join. C. G. I. T. girls would form themselves into Chapters they would find splendid opportunities to carry on their work coupled with the schemes of the Order. To them we must look in future for inspiration and help if we would keep abreast of the times. Think of Lucy Doyle with her 200 office girls meeting in the evening for patriotic, historical and educational work? Surely we have Lucy Doyle in our midst who should be keen to take up Empire work and help along in the National and Patriotic endeavours of our great and glorious order.
