STRIKE ME PINK AT THE CAPITOL—The proprietor of the Capitol Theatre has certainly provided a good bill of fare for its patrons this week. "Strike Me Pink" presented last night and again tonight is a riot of fun, definitely Eddie Cantor's most entertaining picture. Ethel Merman is grand and puts over some of the film's smash Harold Arlen-Lew Brown song hits in her inimitable style. The picture from start to finish is riotously funny with plenty of the latest song hits and dance music. The costumes by Omar Kiam are brilliant and the background superb.—S.

Simple But Impressive Remembrance Day Service Is Held At Summerside

A very large number of citizens turned out yesterday morning to take part in the Remembrance Day memorial service in Dominion Square, Summerside. The scene was very impressive with the returned men standing in a group facing the monument. Members of the P.E.I. Light Horse and Highlanders, Boy Scouts on either side and the school children carrying flags massed to the north. Hon. W. G. Ernst, M.C., of Bridgewater, N.S., gave the address and was on the platform with Mayor Robinson members of the council, clergy, members of the Provincial and Federal Governments. The Summerside Citizen's Band rendered the music on the program assisted in the hymns by the children's voices.

Mayor Robinson's Remarks
Speaking very briefly Mayor Robinson welcomed the gathering. He recalled the first Armistice Day celebrated in France eighteen years ago, and what that day meant to the Empire. There was a feeling of victory and the achievement of an ideal. But the years have lengthened and many who stood round this monument have passed on and the ranks grow thinner and the day has been changed to Remembrance Day. Those who are left and the younger generation come to pay their respects to those who died in that great struggle for peace. Some think we have not attained the ideal for which they fought, but there are many things that are better in the world today and we as a part of the British Empire enjoy many privileges which would not have been possible if they had not died, so surely we can feel that their sacrifice has not been in vain.

Hon. Mr. Ernst
Hon. Mr. Ernst, who also was in France on that first Armistice Day spoke very eloquently of those days in France and made an earnest appeal for those who returned from that terrible conflict. He asked that we be patient with them those returned men who have been through hell, they need our sympathy, our kindness and our generosity. He said the memory of those dreadful days is becoming dim. But it is fitting that we come to meet at this stone of remembrance to pay our tribute to those 60,000 fellow Canadians who sleep in Europe's foreign soil. Many come to mourn, perhaps in triumph, but still to mourn. The speaker pointed out the need to guard against the possibility of another war. It would mean the shattering of our present civilization and our Governments. The younger generation are apt to think war is a glorious thing, but it is not. War is a sin, a squalid thing to be shunned. Another war would destroy the world and it is our duty to strive to maintain peace. Mr. Ernst closed his address with the two first verses of Kipling's "Recessional".

The program was as follows:

"O Canada," sung by pupils and citizens. Music by Summerside Citizens' Band.

Remarks by Chairman, His Worship Mayor B. W. Robinson.

Hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," sung by pupils and citizens. Music by Summerside Citizen's Band.

West Prince Fox Show Opens Today

—The West Prince Fox Show opens this morning with large entries of silver beauties from the ranches of Prince County. Prominent fox men are in attendance.

Mr. Clifford Rogers, of the Dominion Fur Sales, Ltd. and past President of the Prince Edward Island Fox Breeders Association is the Judge in chief, with Mr. Brenton Clark assisting.

Islander Named President Of Fox Club

Mr. Simon P. Friars of Sussex, N. B., who arrived in Summerside last evening to visit his sister, Mr. James Arthur was appointed president of a newly formed club of fox breeders at Sussex.

Mr. Friars is visiting the Island with the intention of purchasing some high class breeding stock for his fox ranch.

The following item clipped from a Sussex paper shows the interest that is being taken in the fox industry in New Brunswick.

Realizing the importance of the silver fox industry in Kings and adjoining counties, a large number of local ranchers and others interested in the future of the industry, assembled at the Agricultural School last Thursday evening and formed a local fox club.

It is the intention of the club to hold subsequent meetings at regular intervals throughout the coming months at which various problems of interest to fox breeders will be discussed. It is planned to bring several outstanding authorities to Sussex to lead the discussions at some of the future meetings.

Incidentally, the next meeting of the newly-formed club will be held next Monday evening in the Agricultural School and mating problems will be the topic for discussion.

It is expected that the club will have a few live foxes on the table for demonstration purposes which should make the discussion more interesting.

At last week's meeting a skeleton slate of officers was elected as follows:
