MISS B., of L., sends us through our British Depot, Messrs. F. NEWBERRY & Sons, London, E. C., a strand of soft glossy hair cut from her own head and measuring fifty-five inches in length which she attributes to the use of CUTICURA, was dry, thin, and lifeless, and came out in handfuls, to such an extent that she feared she would soon lose it. She attributes her magnificent head of hair to frequent shampooing with CUTICURA SOAP, followed by light dressings of CUTICURA gently rubbed into the scalp.

The War In South Africa.

Will be drawing to a close shortly. This cruel war that called so many of our brave men to fight, many of whom will never return. When before was there such a battle? that men from all parts fought side by side and the bravest of the brave were Canadians. Should we not hold our heads and be proud of being one of them? Of course we have read the papers and have nearly all of it off by heart, but then some day we are bound to forget some of it and that will never do, so a book "All about it," is the thing to have and the best that is printed, one that has the war from beginning. Say, when Portugal, Colenzo, Africa first, and following on until the closing of this war, telling and illustrating the memorable scenes of the war, the battles, sieges, the contingent's escapes, marches, counter marches, night attacks, crossing the rivers, and the mounting of kopjes. The photos of our brave Canadians that gave their lives for our Queen will fill no small space in this valuable, interesting and instructive book. The book will contain no less than 800 pages comprising 136 pages of engravings. The name, number, rank and form corps and military district of every Canadian contingent is also found there. We claim our book is superior to all others in authorship, quality of material, in manufacture, and workmanship. The authors are Pro. John C. Redpath L.L.D., Prof. Edward S. Ellis, A. M. John A. Cooper Toronto and J. H. Aitken, London Ont. pro tem, who has travelled in S. Africa. Also men following up the war and sending photos and information direct to The World Pub. Co, Guelph, Ont. Thousands of these books are ordered. Every one should have one and every one is getting one. They are not out yet but will be when everything is settled. The agent will call on you and show you her prospectus, 11, 2i.
