Unable to Form New Japanese Cabinet

(Canadian Press)
TOKIO, Jan. 4.—Viscount Kiego Kiyoura, summoned by the Prince Regent Hirohito to form a cabinet to succeed that of Premier Yamamoto, yesterday announced his inability to complete his ministry. He declared that he had been unable to obtain the support of any political party in the Diet. At the further request of the Prince Regent, he has accepted the task of forming a new cabinet.

IN MEMORIAM

GEORGE J. CREED
On Christmas day, while the most of humanity were rejoicing over the birth of the Saviour, the angel of death was on his way to take home another faithful servant of God, George J. Creed of Dundas, where his spirit left its earthly habitation to receive its reward, yond are determined by character. That the reward will be rich and glorious can not be doubted by those among whom he lived and who went in and out, doing good and manifesting the spirit of Him who led by the Rev. Robert M. Brodie, came, "not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The deceased was 58 years of age and was a native of Sturgeon but came to Charlottetown where he settled down to farm- ing. Yet he found time to be or to My Soul" and "Nearer My God to hold the positions of steward, society representative, Sunday School superintendent, and local preacher of the Methodist Church at Dundas. He was also manager of the local egg circle. Hence he will be missed, especially so by a loving wife with his two daughters and his son Bentley for whom the prayers and sympathies of the district ascend. The funeral of the deceased took place on Friday the 28th inst. The Revs. R. M. Brodie and H. A. Brown, officiating, the same being one of the largest on a week day ever held in the district. Friends were present from Sturgeon, Miramichi, Charlottetown, St. John, N. B., Montague, Souris besides of the surrounding districts. The hymns sung were "A Charge to Keep I Have," "There is a Happy Land," "Looking Thus Way" and "Saved by Grace." Mrs. H. McDonald being the organist. The body was laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery at Dundas, this morning. May it find us all ready as it will find the late George J. Creed.

FRANK MUTTART
In the midst of Christmas rejoicing the home of one of the finest old ladies in P. E. I. or anywhere else was plunged into sorrow, when the son of the late Dr. Muttart was taken sick on Wednesday afternoon, his spirit leaving his body on Thursday morning. This once again "in the midst of life we are in death." The deceased was 59 years of age and had never known the meaning of a day's illness. He was the joy of the Gussie's heart and of his sister over the birth of the Saviour, the angel of death was on his way to take home another faithful servant of God, George J. Creed of Dundas, where his spirit left its earthly habitation to receive its reward, yond are determined by character. That the reward will be rich and glorious can not be doubted by those among whom he lived and who went in and out, doing good and manifesting the spirit of Him who led by the Rev. Robert M. Brodie, came, "not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The deceased was 58 years of age and was a native of Sturgeon but came to Charlottetown where he settled down to farm- ing. Yet he found time to be or to My Soul" and "Nearer My God to

These" being sung. Practically every home in Souris was represented at the service. The casket was covered with wreaths of flowers which were sent by the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church. Matthew & McLean, F. Cox and family, M. S. Acorn and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Leard. After the service the remains were laid to rest along side that of his father in the Souris West cemetery. The pall-bearers being D. F. McDonald, Patrick St. John, James E. Paquet, W. D. Currie, F. E. Conroy and A. E. Clark. (Summerside papers please Copy.)

ALBERT E. HOWATT
Albert E. Howatt died Monday afternoon, Dec. 24, at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Roy L. Keith, Plympton, Mass., in his 82nd year. He had been in poor health and a great sufferer many months, in spite of illness and weakness he persisted in working almost until the end.

The deceased was a native of Tryon, Prince Edward Island, and came to Plympton from Milford, N. H., in 1913. He was a skillful and enthusiastic farmer, and cultivated intensively the small acreage at his disposal. Since coming to Plympton he has seldom fared forth beyond the immediate vicinity of his home; but he has enjoyed those who came there, and they have enjoyed him. It gave him pleasure to be consulted about the gardening methods of which he was master, and many have profited by his instruction. Funeral services were held at his late home Wednesday at 10.30 a. m., conducted by Rev. John A. King, minister of the Congregational Church. Burial was in the family lot at Peabody, Mass. Mr. Howatt leaves three other granddaughters, Mrs. W. Gordon Armstrong of Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. J. Carleton Bagnall of Attleboro; and Miss Ruth Howatt of Waterbury, Conn. (From the Middletown Gazette.) (Patriot Please Copy.)

ing practiced medicine here for nine years prior to his entering the Canadian Expeditionary Force. He was born in Pictou, N. S., and received his earlier education in New Glasgow. His father, Rev. Dr. James Carruthers, a Presbyterian minister who held charges in Charlottetown, Pictou and New Glasgow, and who was for twenty-one years a lecturer in elocution at Pine Hill Presbyterian College here. Col. Carruthers received his Arts degree from Dalhousie University, Halifax, and graduated in medicine from Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, in 1915. Col. Carruthers enlisted in the 4th Battalion at Halifax and was appointed Medical Officer. In 1916 when the S. F. X. University Hospital Unit was formed, he transferred to that unit with the rank of Major and sailed for overseas in June, 1916. Soon after arriving in England he was attached to the A. D. M. S. staff at Branshott and thereafter until the end of the war, served in various staff capacities in England and France. On the conclusion of his service he went to Vancouver, to which place his father had removed, and took charge of a hospital there.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH.—Rev. Dr. Genge, pastor of the Central Christian will occupy his pulpit tomorrow (Sunday) at both services. At the evening service 7 p. m. the fine music rendered at last Sunday's sacred concert, will be repeated (by special request) and the pastor Rev. Dr. Genge will give a short address.
FIRE SCARE.—What might have proved to be a very disastrous fire occurred Thursday at Mount Stewart, but was fortunately averted by the promptness of Jonathan Affleck and Harry McKay the Station Agent. The fire started in Mr. Tom Smith's barn and standing in a direct line was the dwelling house of Mr. Tom Smith and just across the track was the Station house and freight shed, Methodist Parsonage, and a dwelling house occupied by Mr. Daniel McWilliams. Had the fire got under way, with the high wind blowing at that time, and no apparatus to fight the fire with, it would seem that these buildings must have been destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.
