What Some Nova Scotia Bakers Say about the success they have had with Royal Household Flour

The largest bakers in Eastern Canada, Moirs, Limited, Halifax, say:

In answer to your inquiry as to whether we could suggest any change that would be an improvement to "Royal Household," we emphatically answer "no." The great satisfaction we have had with your "Royal Household" this last nine months, using over 5,000 barrels in that time, has been an extreme pleasure to us. We are using this flour mostly for bread, also using nothing else for our pastry, for which we have a very large sale.

(Signed) MOIRS, LIMITED, Halifax, Sept. 2.

The oldest bakers in Dartmouth, say:

"Royal Household" flour is as near to perfection in the results obtained as it is possible for any flour to be. In the history of our baking business, now established for half a century, we have never had anything to equal it.

(Signed) JOSEPH H GENTLES, Dartmouth, N. S., Sept. 15th, 1904.

The leading Baker in Annapolis says:

This is to certify that I have used considerable quantities of "Royal Household" flour during the present year and find it to be a good article indeed; suitable for family purpose in all the requirements of bread, biscuit and pastry. I regard it as equal to any flour on the market. It is the best hard wheat flour for pastry that I have ever used.

(Signed) R. P. SAUNDERS, Annapolis, N.S., Sept 12, 1904.

The Good Cook's Pride. Beaver Flour never fails—never disappoints. It makes the white, light, delicious bread and pastry that model Canadian housewives delight to serve.

Beaver Flour is a blend of Manitoba Spring Wheat and Kentucky Fall Wheat. It contains all the nutriment of one, and the delicate flavor of the other. Unequalled for all kinds of family baking.

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION

Made by Rev. W. H. Harrison, Cornwall.

Of Old Newspapers and Historic Records—Many of Interest in the Making of the British Empire.

Rev. W. H. Harrison has shown The Guardian interesting specimens of a collection of old newspapers and historic records among which are following:

Fac simile of the Magna Charta, granted by King John in 1215. The original is in Latin, of which a translation is appended.

Fac simile of the war act to execute Mary Queen of Scots, in 1587.

The English Mercury newspaper, 1588 with account of the defeat of the Spanish Armada.

The Gazette of September 1638 with account of the death of Oliver Cromwell.

The Intelligencer of February 1648 with full account of the execution of King Charles II.

The London Gazette of September 1668 with full account of the Great Fire.

The Weekly News of January 1668 with the story of the trial and execution of Guy Fawkes and others for the Gunpowder Plot of 5th November previous.

Fac simile of the warrant to execute King Charles I. in 1648.

Fac simile of the Boston News Letter, the first newspaper printed in America, dated April 24, 1704.

Fac simile of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776.

Copies of the London Times of 1793, 1797, 1798, 1801, 1805 and 1815, the two latter containing respectively the first published accounts of Nelson's victory and death at Trafalgar, and of Wellington's great victory at Waterloo.

The battle of Trafalgar was fought October 21st, 1805 and the news was announced in The Times of November 7 following. The battle of Waterloo took place on June 18 1815, and The Times published its report four days later. As the distance from London to Waterloo is a matter of only some 200 miles it will be seen that the news, even of the most important events travelled very slowly in those days.

CANADIAN WHEAT CROP.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—"As a result of my trip through the entire wheat belt, I think that it can safely be stated that the quality of this year's crop is so excellent that fully 98 per cent, of it will be good milling wheat," was the interesting announcement made by F. W. Thompson, vice-president and general manager of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Limited, on his arrival today from a trip of several weeks over the entire wheat belt. "Earlier in the season, in reports received from the company's representatives," added Mr. Thompson, "we made a conservative estimate that the total output of the west would be about 53 million bushels. During my trip I found that the conditions had been so favorable that the total yield will be very close to the 65 million bushel mark."

Mr. Thompson said that on Saturday morning last he was present when the first pile was driven on the new big flour mill that his company was building at Fort William. The elevator would be ready for next season.

HARVESTERS HARD LUCK.

TRURO, N. S., Oct. 11.—A contingent of Colchester men, who went west on the harvest; excursion, arrived in Truro this morning, en route home. There was still about a month's harvesting in the west when they left, but they say they could not more than pay expenses.

Fritz Dennis, brother of William Dennis, manager of the Halifax Herald, was among the returned men and told the correspondent that his party at arrival at a district near the Dakota boundary line had to work the first two weeks for their board. After that they got $1.75 to $2.00 per day for every fine day, lost all dull days and paid 50 cents a day for board all the time. The pay time only amounted to fourteen days in a month.

ON THE SAFETY OF OVER-EATING.

The Rule of Choosing the Lesser of Two Evils Applies to the Way You Eat.

I want to know how a man is to know when he has had enough? The Pilgrim Fathers, I believe, had a quaint saying to the effect that you should always rise from the table feeling as if you could eat some more.

But the question is, how much more? Just when to stop? That's the point.

The rule is wrong, because it's no rule at all.

It is inexact and unscientific. It is likely to lead to the dangerous habit of eating too little.

And eating too little—or digesting too little, which amounts to the same thing—is the cause of nine-tenths of the diseases from which humanity suffers today.

What is disease? It is simply uneven balance between waste and repair.

Some organ lacks strength to carry on the special work for which it was created.

Where shall it find the strength it lacks? In drugs? Ten thousand times, NO. Better die than become a hopeless drug fiend.

No, in food.

"But," you say, "I eat a plenty of good food every day!"

True, dear friend; but you don't digest it.

And food, undigested, is mere poison.

So, to make food do you good, you must take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

The great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is, that their action does not depend upon stimulative drugery. They cannot create a habit.

They contain no ingredients to "pick you up," "tone up your nervous system" or furnish whip energy, by calling out your vital reserve force.

They CREATE new strength, force and energy—out of your Food.

If taken sparingly, they will do you no good at all.

So, eat to live, and live to eat, with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The curse of our present civilization is exhaustion.

And exhaustion, whether of brain, nerves, physical strength, or vital force, is caused by starvation.

Of two evils, it is better to overeat (and prevent indigestion with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets), than to rise from the table, not having eaten enough to repair the exhaustion of your vital forces.

For exhaustion or starvation leads to the most varied forms of sickness disease, brought on by inability of the weakened vitality to combat the disease—poisons, and microbes.

Whereas the well-fed and well-nourished person, without ever feeling the worse for it, can expose himself to dangers, the mere thought of which would drive the weak, starving dyspeptic into a panic fit.

Good food, well digested, is the great secret of a healthful existence here on earth.

So eat heartily, every day, of the best food you can get, and regulate the working of your digestive machinery with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

As a result, you will be astonished to find how much stronger and livelier you feel, how much more and better work you can do, how much more pleasure you will get out of life, and how your old enemy, that chronic trouble which has fastened upon your weak spot, wherever it is, will up and away, and ever after leave you in peace, health and content.

There's more truth than poetry in all this.

Try it once.
