'Song Of Bernadette' Is Screen's Mightiest Emotional Triumph!

— As long as the human heart has the power to feel, to love, to suffer, to triumph, "The Song of Bernadette" will be remembered as a great motion picture, wondrously conceived and enthrallingly unfolded.

It is beyond all question the fulfillment of all you had hoped it would be...beyond all comparison in its emotional sweep and power ...beyond all conception in the miraculous spell it cast over all who saw it last night at the Capitol Theatre, where it had its premiere.

Accolades will be bestowed—and with a lavish hand—upon 20th Century-Fox for the remarkable manner in which it has bridged the transition from the novel to the screen. Great and universally beloved as was Franz Werfel's story of "Bernadette" between book covers, it is infinitely greater and more compelling as a motion picture.

Only the highest praise will suffice for the director, Henry King, and the producer, William Perlberg, into whose hands the destiny of bringing the novel to the screen was entrusted. Each, in his respective capactiy, records the outstanding achievement of his career. All credit is due, too, to George Seaton for his screen play, which faithfully follows the pattern of Werfel's story.

In the title role of the Maid of Lourdes, Jennifer Jones makes the most auspicious debut in Hollywood history. Here is a star—and one who has flared into being with a brilliance that shines with the mark of greatness. A bow to David O. Selznick for her discovery!

COMMONS HEARS—

Finance Minister Ilsley, acting Prime Minister, who said Premier George Drew of Ontario had requested that a minister of the Ontario Government and one of the Federal Government go to the strike to attempt a settlement.

Mr. Ilsley also told how the Ontario Government has asked that the Dominion assure support to provincial forces sent to Windsor to maintain law and order. The Federal Government has agreed to send a detachment of Royal Canadian Mounted Police solely in the interests of maintaining law and order.

He outlined the danger of the fire hazards at the plant, reading letters in which the Canadian Underwriters Association called on the Province to take steps to remove fire hazards resulting from the strike. Insurance on the plant amounted to $35,000,000.

The House devoted its entire night sitting to further discussion of the Ford situation, with Mr. Hazen Motions Minister Howe suggesting the Ford Company was to be "severely condemned" for not having created better managment-union relations in its plant.

Other Business

After the House opened the Commons gave first reading to two bills. One would bring water carriers on the MacKenzie River, with a capacity of more than 10 tons, under regulation of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The second would amend the Criminal Code so it would be an offence "to print, publish, import, sell or distribute, magazines on the cover of which appear pictures depicting the pointing by one person of an offensive weapon at another person." It would also prevent publication or sale of magazines depicting hold-ups, robbery or other criminal act.

Veterans Minister Mackenzie said he hoped Mr. Mitchell would be able to make a statement within two or three days on whether veterans would have any claim to their peacetime civilian job after serving two years in the interim post-war forces.

TO PRESENT BRIEF — Mr. W. W. MacPhee, a former Prince Edward Islander and now president of the Maritime Provinces Association at Toronto will present a brief for the P.E.I. Travel Bureau at a Dominion-wide meeting of tourist officials at Toronto this week, it was learned yesterday from Mr. B Graham Rogers, supervisor of the travel bureau in this Province. No one will go to Toronto from here. Mr. Rogers said the local travel bureau was contributing Malpeque oysters for the annual dinner this week of the tourist organizations.

MARITIMERS WILL—

Edward Island members intend getting in their licks not only for a better break from the railways but for cheaper, quicker and more adequate transport facilities between the Island province and the mainland.

Prime object of the Prince Edward Island members is to win concessions or rather justice from the Federal Government in the matter of transportation charges as an inducement to industry.

The Island members, Liberal and Progressive Conservative alike will argue before the Commons and keep the members sitting there until some decision is reached that for a sounder economy industry must be established on a larger scale. They will contend that one of the first lines of manufacture or processing required will be canning plants.

They will underline the economic necessity of Island fish, fruit and vegetable interests having facilities for the packing of their own produce.

Transportation

They will make it plain that unless something is done about transportation, industry likely will not rush to the Maritimes in any volume larger in the future than in the past.

The Maritime members will do some straight tough talking, pointing out that Government assistance through equitable transport charges, bonuses and subsidies can no longer be considered as applicable only to the central provinces and the prairies.

"This time", said Col. Brooks, "with members of both parties as one we are going to get somewhere."

NO DICISSION—

growth of the City and of the Province in general. He was strongly in favour of the project and thought, if at all possible, the matter should be arranged immediately.

Rev. T. E. MacLennan considered the project a splendid idea and expressed the belief the families accommodated there would soon make themselves into a self-governing colony. In view of the seriousness of the housing shortage in Charlottetown, Mr. MacLennan thought the project should be gone ahead with and he did not think the accommodation of people at the airport need be more than a temporary matter.

Mr. V. A. Ainsworth agreed with Mr. MacLennan in saying that he did not believe the project need be more than a temporary arrangement.

Col. K. S. Rogers considered the project feasible. Families, now in miserable quarters, would benefit greatly by the change to a better environment. He thought the execution of such a project would show the people that something could be done and it was an opportunity, the Colonel said, for demonstrating the establishment of an ideal colony. Such a project would solve the housing problem for many returned veterans who, having fought for the Province, find there is now no place in it for them to live.

Coun. Rogers announced 96 families had formally requested accommodations at the airport. Of these, 272 were adults, 80 were of school age, and 92 were infants. Applications had come in, Coun. Rogers said, from Tignish to Souris.

City Clerk J. A. Fullerton, on behalf of the City, made the formal request to the Government that it release its priority rights to the City and that it guarantee 50 per cent of any deficit arising from the proposed undertaking.

Mayor Blanchard outlined the City's proposals and Coun. J. T. McKee gave figures on the approximate cost of the project.

Mr. L. B. McMillan, fuel controller for the Province, said the coal question in the Province was a serious one. He did not think there would be any privation as a result of the shortage but that, nevertheless, the outlook for an adequate supply was never so poor as at the present time.
