You can keep the youthful elasticity of your skin

Compare face with shoulder skin. You'll find shoulders look 5 or more years younger. That's because shoulder skin retains its elasticity—while facial skin pores are clogged with make-up, unable to breathe for hours at a time. And when pores can't breathe skin starts to age prematurely. But Palmolive can help maintain youthful elasticity in your skin.

Look younger in 14 days: Each time you wash, (use a face cloth) massage warm, rich, vitalizing Palmolive lather thoroughly into your skin for one full minute. Now a quick rinse and pat dry. Palmolive's 60-second Beauty Massage has been scientifically tested by 2,301 women and 36 doctors. Their reports prove conclusively that . . . in just 14 days, it brings lovelier complexions.

building up from the greatest combination ever thrown into war—the system of those who conceived it and the spirit of the men carrying it out—is not localizing the Allied war effort in one particular area.

The overall planning of this coordination of long time strategic attack with the immediate tactical tasks is in the hands of Air Chief Marshal Tedder, Gen. Eisenhower's deputy — the Scottish officer who is the least publicized figure of this invasion.

Tedder meets frequently with the commanders of the various British and American air forces and works out targets according to what is needed by Eisenhower in terms of the overall campaign and what is needed by Gen. Montgomery, commander of the Allied ground forces, in terms of the mainland battle.

Evidence that the strategic attack is losing none of its weight is the fact that heavy bombers smacked down 1,500 tons of explosives and incendiaries on Gelsenkirchen, more than 2 1-2 times the weight ever dropped in a single raid on Britain.

Hardest ground fighting, meanwhile, apparently still rages in the Caen area which is in the British-Canadian sector. Gen. Montgomery seems to be bypassing the town and it is impossible to say whether he is attempting immediate capture or is content to let it submerge behind the rising tide of the Allied advance.

The effect of the speedy forward move in leaving pockets of resistance for later clean-up is seen in the fact that more than 10,000 prisoners already have been taken.

Unloading conditions improved today all along the beach. There, special beach groups are doing a great job in landing personnel and equipment.

The British home front takes the invasion characteristically in stride. There was far less comment on this morning's small enemy raids on London than on Saturday's derby. There is plenty of airplane thunder over London and southern England these nights. But Britons know the planes are going the right way

MAKINGS REQUESTED

BATH, England — (CP) —Wartime restrictions have struck at clerical hospitality. The Archdeacon of Bath, Ven. W. M. Selwyn and Mrs. Selwyn, issuing an invitation to their parishioners stated, "Tea will be provided, but the guests are sadly asked to bring their own milk, sugar and 'eats."

Miss K. MacLennan Re-Elected To Head Nurses' Association

Miss Katherine MacLennan was re-elected President of the Registered Nurses' Association of Prince Edward Island at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon and evening in St. James Church Hall.

Other officers elected were:—Vice President — Miss Georgie Brown (re-elected); Treasurer and Registrar — Sister Mary Patricia; Secretary — Miss Mabel Grant; Chairman: Hospital and School of Nursing section — Mrs. Lois MacDonald; Chairman: General Nursing — Miss Mildred Thompson; Chairman: Public Health—Mrs. (Dr.) C. H. Beer.

The president, Miss MacLennan, presided at both sessions, which were attended by seventy nurses, approximately.

Following the President's report an enjoyable supper was served by the Guild of St. James Church, after which Dr. J. A. MacMillan gave an instructive address on "Health Insurance."

During an intermission musical selections were rendered by Miss Caroline Kenny, and Mrs. N. D. MacLean, accompanied by Mrs. Keith Rogers.

At the evening session, routine business was transacted, and encouraging reports submitted by the chairmen of the various committees.

The guest speakers were Miss Dorothy Cox and Miss Elizabeth Jenkins. The former dealt with one phase of Public Health Nursing, while the latter related her impressions while a student at the school for Graduate Nurses at McGill University.

President's Report

The following is a summary of the report read yesterday evening in St. James Church Hall by the President of the Registered Nurses' Association, Miss Katherine M. MacLennan.

Despite the loss of many nurses to the Armed Forces, to other Canadian Provinces, the Association has succeeded in carrying on its functions and in serving the public, Miss MacLennan said.

The grant of $3000.00 from the Dominion has aided the Association materially in raising the standard of nursing in the Province, she said, and it was hoped the grants would be continued. The grant had also made it possible to procure part time travelling instructors to teach Chemistry, Dietetics, Public Health Nursing, and the nursing of Communicable Diseases to the Association members.

The Dominion Government, Miss MacLennan continued, has again made bursaries available on condition that the recipients accept (a) duty with the Armed Forces; (b) duty with any of the organized health services of the Province; and (c) service in hospitals of all kinds.

"On behalf of the retiring executive, I wish to thank the members of the Association for their co - operation and again, on behalf of the Incoming Executive, I ask one and all for their loyal support which counts for so much during these trying days," Miss MacLennan concluded.

divisions, even the first-rate 21st, are using 1940 model French tanks extensively, and the German ground divisions have been none too good in performance. They are well sprinkled with foreigners under German non-commissioned officers.

To the Allied surprise, the Germans have reacted much more slowly than expected to the Allied landings. They have brought up divisions so slowly that they have been thrown into the line immediately to plug gaps instead of being marshalled for big counter-attacks.

Little Air Reconnaissance

The German command is said to have been almost blind as far as reconnaissance is concerned. The air forces report that not only in the past six days but in two months the Germans have not had enough reconnaissance planes in the air to obtain even a partial picture of the operations.

While the German soldier is still a formidable fighting man all these factors which have come to light in the first week of the newly-opened western front are leading many military men to believe the Germans are much weaker than they first thought.

C. W. L. National Convention Opens

LONDON, ONT., June 13—(CP)—Most Rev. Philip F. Pocock, Bishop-elect of Saskatoon, speaking to the national convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada today suggested a campaign of parental instruction in sex education of children.

The best way to teach sex education is in the home according to the need of the individual child, Bishop Pocock said. It was possible to bring children through the period of youth to maturity innocent and pure. The purpose of marriage was training of children, and the answer to impurity lay in co-operation with the grace of God and the proper home education of the child.

Bishop Pocock said three kinds of education were necessary: Intellectual, moral and religious.

Miss Mayme Barrieu of Moncton, N.B., said approximately $16,000 was raised by junior sub-divisions and junior committees of the League during the last year.

Total membership of juniors is about 1,700, she said.

Mrs. Frank Murray of Charlottetown, P. E. Island, reporting on the Girl Guides, said there was a total enrolment of 4,298 Rangers, Guides and Brownies. Increases were noted in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, and Saskatchewan.

Mrs. P.J. McGarry of Kitchener, National President of the League, spoke of the increase of juvenile delinquency in the Dominion and urged delegates to encourage women to "return to the sanctuary of the home."

Mrs. J. T. Glennon of Montreal, executive secretary, reported membership in the League now totals 50,000.

Dealing with immigration and child refugees, Mrs. D.J. Purtill of Halifax said 18 guest children now were being cared for.

The speaker in his remarks stated that Mr. Hughes had been connected with this Church for a great number of years, having served as secretary of the Sunday School for fifteen years and for over twenty-five years has been and still is the efficient and painstaking financial steward of the church.

The speaker stated that he knew that he was voicing the sentiments and feelings of every person connected with the church when he said that he hoped that Mr. Hughes will be spared for many more years to serve in the same capable capacity.

Mr. Hughes although taken completely by surprise thanked the Board for their thoughtfulness and kindness in remembering him at this time and stated what a pleasure it was for him to work for Trinity Church.

The Pastor, Rev. T.E. McLennan, also added words of commendation and congratulation to Mr. Hughes on this occasion.

airfields west of Paris at Evreux-Fauxville, Dreux and Illiers L'-Eveque, the communique said.

Allied warships and planes kept German E-boats interference to a minimum as reinforcements poured into the widened invasion area on the eighth day of attack.

The capture of Troarn by the British and Canadian troops cut Caen's east - west communications on both sides of the city, but Field Marshal Rommel's troops still had possession of several roads leading into Caen from the south.

The British forces were fighting what was described as a terrific "road-blocking" and offensive action at the Eastern hinge of the front.

A "big advance" was reported southeast of Bayeaux in the Tilly direction as the Allies strove to get commanding high grond around that junction.

It was estimated officially that the Germans had hurled 260,000 men into the Normandy fighting—one-fourth of the total Axis strength in Western Europe.

German broadcasts said the Americans again had landed Airborne troops during the night on the west side of the Cherbourg Peninsula near Coutances.

LONDON, June 13 — (CP) — French women in the Savoy district have been called up by the French underground. In a leaflet circulated among the women by stealth, they are urged to join their menfolk in the Maquis ,to hide with them in the mountains, ready for whatever job the second front may bring.

The underground document states that these steps have been taken to prevent conscription of French-women by the Germans and the threatened deportation to Germany.

In the Maquis the women will act as nurses, and messengers, as well as carry out sabotage and rescue work with the men.
