THE GUARDIAN STILTS RACE LAST EVENING WAS A SANGUINE SUCCESS

Thousands of Enthusiastic Spectators Witnessed the First Event of This Kind Ever Held in the City.—Great Enthusiasm Manifested as the Boys Paced On Their "Wooden Legs"

Headed by the Caledonian Pipe Band and stepping off to a lively tune, the Guardian Stilt racers, and many were stirred by a with their stilt arms creating an imposing spectacle last evening as they left the Guardian Office and proceeded via Kent Street to the Prince of Wales College grounds, the field of battle, there to match their prowess and test their endurance and ability in the big classic.

Hundreds of citizens lined the route of march to the grounds, where thousands of additional spectators awaited the arrival of the young athletes, about 70 in all. The races were conducted in a roped enclosure, thereby not only giving the competitors plenty of scope, but affording the large assemblage a grand-stand seat in which to witness the big event. To the thousands who enthusiastically followed race after race with the keenest interest, fond memories of "the days of real sport" came drifting back from a dian Office Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 to be photographed.

For almost a month, ever since the Guardian made the announcement of a stilt race, citizens in general and especially the youthful competitors had looked forward to the evening of the races, and to say that everyone was well satisfied last night would be putting it mildly, as not a dull moment marred the splendid evening's sport; the League of the Cross Band, that splendid organization and the always welcome Pipers furnishing excellent intermittent music all the while.

At the conclusion of the races Mr. Chester S. McClure, president of the Guardian, briefly addressed the boys, congratulating them on their ability as stilt walkers and hoped that the event would be made an annual one. The speaker then introduced Premier Stewart who in congratulatory terms awarded the prizes to the winners of the different events.

To the officials and Police Officers Walker and Higgins the Guardian extends hearty thanks for the capable manner in which they conducted the meet, also to Messrs. Daniel Coughlin and B. Kelly for valuable assistance in roping and preparing the grounds.

The following is the summary:— NOTE—The winners of the events are asked to meet at the Guardian Office Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 to be photographed.

GEORGES CARPENTIER NOT ONLY AN ATHLETE BUT A FAMILY MAN AS WELL

(Canadian Press.)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Though Georges Carpentier is not a winner in the heavyweight class he appears to be a good sort and what is better than a mere punching machine he is an all-round athlete who keeps himself in good condition, it is related that in a workout at his training camp in Indiana two days before the encounter with Gibbons the little Frenchman in place of crawling under the ropes, from a practically a standing start, made a clean jump over, the height being four feet, six inches above the floor. No one but an athlete in condition can jump five feet with a running start and only the day before Carpentier ran a hundred yards in eleven seconds flat to prove that his system still carried all its ancient drive and dash. From all outward appearances says the press report the new Carpentier is in better physical shape than the drawn faced invader who met Jack Dempsey at Jersey City three years ago. He is seven pounds heavier, for today he weighed 184 in a light summer suit. His skin is clean and pink only slightly tanned and the drawn look of 1921 has been supplanted by the look of one who is supremely confident and in the best of health. Just sixteen years ago as a bantamweight youngster of 14 he began his ring career, earning $25 for a season's work. Sixteen years have slipped along since that modest beginning, sixteen years that have known 108 ring battles, and yet today there isn't a mark upon his features and there isn't a sprig of cauliflower showing in the mold of either ear.

Tommy Gibbons
Born in 1889 at St. Paul, Minn. Started fighting in 1913. Most important battle before meeting Carpentier: A 15 round one with Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Montana, last July. The result: Dempsey received a decision at an end of bout. Other important bouts were with Buck Crouse, Billy Miske, Gus Christie, Bob Moha, Harry Greb, and Bartley Madden.

Georges Carpentier
Born in Lens, France in 1894. Started fighting in 1908. Most important bout before Gibbons battle: With Jack Dempsey in "The Battle of the Century" in Jersey City, July 2, 1921. The result: Dempsey knocked Carpentier out in the fourth round. Carpentier's showing amazed most critics. Other opponents: Willie Lewis, Frankie Klaus, Billy Papke, Jeff Smith, Bombardier Wells, Joe Jeannette Gunboat Smith, Joe Beck and Townley, his last European victim.

It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.
