Prominent Farmer Dead

Death came suddenly to one of Prince Edward Island's leading farmers, William H. McGregor, aged 74 years, of Central Lot 16 in the early hours of December 3rd. Although Mr. McGregor had been in ill health for some years due to a heart ailment he had been in as good health as usual until a few days previous to his death.

He was born at Central Lot 16 and had lived there all his life. During his lifetime, however, he had travelled extensively over Canada mainly in the interests of agriculture and by all he was recognized as perhaps the most outstanding farmer of the province.

In his youth he was one of the promoters of the cheese factories and by his aggressive leadership much credit is due him for the eventual establishment of the factories in the province. He was for some years a director of the Potato Growers Association and The Wool Growers Assn. In fact he was always a prime mover in any step taken for the advancement of agricultural interest, an interest which he maintained during his declining years and up to the time of his death.

He leaves to mourn his wife, formerly Miss Mary C. McLean of Summerfield; and four daughters, Mrs. Roy McLean of Lot 16; Mrs. Fred Parker, Tempe Arizona; Mrs. Clarence Carr of Miscouche; and Miss Barbara of Ottawa; also two boys living at home on the homestead, Archibald K. and James A. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family.

The funeral will be held from his late residence to United Church Lot 16 on Saturday afternoon. S

The U.S. Navy Department added that three other transports, a destroyer and a tanker were damaged.

In addition, an Axis cruiser, two destroyers and four supply ships had been damaged, he said, while anti-aircraft fire from naval ships had destroyed 25 enemy planes at latest count.

was a part of the government's year old price, wages and salary policy designed to safeguard the nation from inflation.

In spite of price controls some prices, particularly food prices, had risen for one reason and another, and it was clear that there would be some further increases.

The automatic cost-of-living bonus had protected large groups in certain classifications but left other large groups unprotected.

It was questionable whether rising living costs should be left entirely to the cost-of-living bonus which, in view of the fact that most manufacturers were working for the government and paying their excess profits as taxes, meant that it was largely paid by the public treasury.

More Equitable Method

Speaking of the heavy cost involved in this program Mr. Ilsley said he did not treat it "lightly," but the government was convinced that this was a "less costly and more equitable method of meeting the problem within the spirit of the government's declared policy."

"It meets the problem in a way which does not create other problems. It gives relief not to some but to all."

He reaffirmed "most solemnly" the government's policy of rigorous control laid down in October 1941 when the ceiling was applied.

Says Acted In Accord With CBC Policy

MONTREAL, Dec. 3— (CP) — The application of the National Conservative Committee for network time on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was refused in conformity with established policy, Dr. James S. Thomson, General Manager of the CBC, said in a statement tonight.

Answering a statement at Brampton last night by Gordon Grayson, National Chairman of the Conservative Party, Dr. Thomson said that the Board of Governors were consulted on the application "and their decision was that such a broadcast would come under their statement of policy on controversial broadcasting."

The statement added that "as they had previously ordered that such broadcasts between elections on the CBC network should in the meantime be discontinued, they were only implementing what they had already adopted."

(In his statement last night Mr. Grayson said that refusal of the requested time "has all the signs of the opening round in a major fight for the right of democratic freedom of speech over the air in Canada.")

Dr. Thomson said the decision was taken "in conformity with the policy of the board in a white paper with respect to controversial broadcasting, published July 8,1939. In this white paper there is a special section dealing with the subject of 'party political' broadcasting in the periods between election campaigns.' In view of war conditions it was decided Jan. 22, 1940 that in the meantime this section should be suspended.

"At present the position is that during the course of any general election, the CBC allocates network time on what is adjudged to be an equitable basis between all parties. This policy was adopted deliberately to prevent any group or party with funds at their disposal from securing for itself special advantages on the CBC."

The statement then said that the Governors had been consulted and that their decision was that the time could not be alloted under present rules restricting between-election broadcasts.

"From this it is obvious that the insinuation that the Board of Governors in this matter were influenced by partizan prejudices cannot be sustained and should not be allowed to pass without complete and absolute contradiction. The fact that such a statement could be made would appear to be sufficient warrant for the General Manager's suggestion that "there are certain proprieties that might well be observed" and that speakers "should refrain from anything that is abusive or which would cast personal discredit."

Life Insurance Reaches Highest Level On Record

NEW YORK, Dec 3—Reaching the highest level on record, life insurance in force in all United States legal reserve companies at the end of 1942 will approximate $130,000,000,000, and will cover about 67,000,000 policyholders—half the population. The amount in force represents a net increase of 4 per cent during the year.

This was announced by Vincent P. Whitsitt, Manager and General Counsel of The Association of Life Insurance Presidents, at a business meeting of the Association here today. The Association's annual two-day convention, at which the year's figures were to have been presented, was cancelled in view of wartime transportation needs.

The announcement contrasted the 1942 total with the $27,000,000,000 in force at the end of 1917 when the nation was deep in the First World War. Then the lives of about 25,000,000 persons were insured, for an average of $1,080 per policyholder. Now the average per policyholder is $1,940.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC INCREASE — Passenger traffic on the P.E.I.-N.S. Ferry Service increased approximately 40 per cent this year over last when the Prince Nova began operations. A total of 35,757 passengers were carried this year, an increase of 10,454 over 1941. Automobiles ferried totalled 5,537 and motor trucks, 1,597. A portion of the increase in traffic is attributed to Prince Edward Islanders who are employed in Nova Scotia war plants. A heavy Week-end traffic has been noted all summer.

EARLY MAILING — People generally are actually doing their Christmas mailing earlier than usual this year, according to local Post Office officials. This year the sale of stamps for the months of October and November amounted to $21,175, somewhat higher than that for the corresponding months last year. The regular staff has been able to handle the overseas mailing thus far but a great rush is anticipated by the middle of this month when there will be incoming as well as outgoing Christmas mail. This will be handled largely by college students who will be employed while on their holidays. People are urged to mail early as there will be so many inexperienced clerks the mails can not be handled with the despatch of former years. It is encouraging to note that during the Christmas period in 1941, of all the Canadian parcels mailed overseas not one was lost by enemy action duty.

"You must feel quite proud to be wearing such coveted decorations which His Majesty the King has so graciously conferred on you, and I feel sure that all citizens of this Province are proud of your accomplishments and the honour which you have brought to this your native Province. You must also feel a sense of satisfaction in having played such a prominent part towards the eventual defeat of our enemies, and it is my sincere wish that you be spared to see the day when Peace will rule the World and you will be able to return to your home and loved ones.

"May I at this time read for the benefit of those present the citation which covers your awards:- 'for outstanding zeal, patience and cheerfulness and for setting an example of whole-hearted devotion to duty without which the high tradition of the Royal Navy could not be upheld.'

"Wherever you may go and in whatever waters you may sail I assure you that all the Citizens of this Province and myself wish you 'Good Sailing and Safe to Port'."

Presented With Wrist Watch

The Premier in making the presentation of a handsome wrist watch to Lieut. MacMillan expressed the great delight of the Government of Prince Edward Island in welcoming him after months and years of distinguished service. "This young officer", the Premier said, "has not only nobly upheld the traditions of the British Navy but has brought glory and distinction on his native Province and particularly his parents and family."

He also welcomed three other naval officers who have served their country with respect and honor, Naval Lieutenants Shaw, MacKenzie and Saunders. "Their services, performances, and sacrifices have been great," the premier continued,, "and we are glad to have them among us for a well-earned holiday. In singling Lieut. MacMillan out as a representative of that group," the Premier said, "we are merely reechoing to some slight degree the honor that His Majesty the King has conferred upon him, which speaks more eloquently than any tribute we could pay." He then wished the young hero an enjoyable holiday and a safe return to continue his devoted and distinguished service to his country.

In token of the distinction he has brought upon the Province and as a symbol of the esteem and affection of the Government of Prince Edward Island, Premier Campbell then made the presentation of a wrist watch bearing the following inscription: "Presented to Lieut. Robert C. MacMillan, D.S.C. and Bar by the Government of Prince Edward Island."

In reply Lieut. MacMillan modestly expressed his thanks and said that he had done only what he was supposed to do and what any other boy in the Navy would do.

After the presentation there was a brief informal reception at which all present had the opportunity of greeting Lieut. MacMillan personally.

CIVIC RECEPTION

The civic reception for Lieut MacMillan was held last night in the City Council Chamber at 8 p.m. A guard of honor from H.M.C.S. Queen Charlotte under command of Sub.-Lieut. Crawley and Chief Petty Officer Ross awaited his arrival. The band from No. 62 C.A. (B.) T.C. at Beach Grove under the direction of Sgt. Lloyd Ward rendered appropriate selections.

Seated on the dais with Mayor Holman were Lieuts MacMillan, Douglas Saunders, Chas. MacKenzie and Ted Shaw. Those present included the members of the City Council, the Premier, Commanding Officers of the various military units, Mr. J. Lester Douglas, M.P., Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, representatives of service clubs, fraternal organizations, auxiliary clubs, members of the clergy and presidents of various organizations. Members of the families of the young naval Lieutenants were also present.

Mayor's Address

"Out of the pride and gratitude of the citizens of Charlottetown your home town and ours," said His Worship Mayor Holman, "I want, on behalf of us all, to give you the heartiest welcome we can give, and with it the freedom of the City.

"We all know how, taking command of one of the little ships of Tobruk, the armed trawler Skudd III in circumstances of stress and danger, you fought your ship so gallantly and with such effect that she clawed down five Stukas from the skies. And we know, too, how a little later your ship went down under you, fighting to the last.

"With delight and pride, we heard how your were honored with the award of the Distinguished Service Cross and later with a bar, and received promotion in the Service.

"And here I wish personally to congratulate you, Bob. When you were younger, you will remember, we were neighbours and saw much of each other. I have many happy memories of those days

"Your courage, steadfastness and devotion to duty will ever be an example to our Island boys in the service of their Country, as, indeed, to all who serve, that when the hour of stress, trial and danger comes, they fail not, but like you and your comrades of the trawler Skudd strike victory bringing blows upon our foes.

"And I turn now to acknowledge with thanks and gratitude the good work of Lieutenants MacKenzie, Saunders and Shaw, who are already with us, and whom we all join in our welcome to Lt. MacMillan.

"Lt. MacKenzie bears the marks of battle in honourable wounds sustained in the service of our country, while Lt. Shaw has again enlisted for overseas service. We understand that Lieutenants MacMillan and Saunders expect to remain on this side of the Atlantic, where they will serve in the equally arduous and perilous duty of defending our coasts against Hitler's U-boats."

Warmly Applauded

Lieut. MacMillan received a wonderful ovation when he replied that he was only "a chap coming home," and that "all these fancy celebrations were too much as I have done nothing more than ordinary." He thanked the citizens very kindly.

"Mayor Holman then called on Lieuts Saunders, MacKenzie and Shaw who were heartily applauded by the gathering.

Col. R. C. Chandler, a veteran of the last war, expressed the great pleasure and pride the citizens felt "in having these boys from the Navy back home again." He paid tribute to the accomplishments of the Navy and Air Force in this war, and wished the boys the best of luck for the rest of the conflict.

Premier Campbell in a brief address said that words could hardly express the admiration we have for the youthful and efficient Canadian Navy. He said that the men in the three branches of the service who have gone from this Province had acquitted themselves well. He congratulated Lieut. MacMillan on the recognition and honor bestowed upon him by His Majesty and wished all who were back in the Province from overseas service the best of success.

Judge C. Gavan Duffy, father of Lieut. Wilfred Duffy, who also fought at Tobruk, expressed his deep interest in the home-coming of Lieut. Bob MacMillan. The latter brought direct news from his own son, who has gone through the horrors of battle in the Mediterranean. The latest news from Lieut. Wilfred Duffy is that he is well and recently had a 10 days' leave which he spent in the Holy Land.

The singing of the National Anthem brought last night's pleasant gathering to a close.

Second Enemy Attack Defeated In Tunisia

(By James F. King, Associated Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Dec. 4—(Friday)—(AP)—British and American troops besieging Tunis hastily regrouped their forces today for another smash at German tanks near Djedeida, 12 miles west of the Tunisian capital, after a fierce 48-hour fight which resulted in "about equal losses on both sides."

An Allied spokesman in North Africa reported that the Nazis had made an "all-out attempt" to recapture Djedeida, Mateur and Tebourba, on the approaches to Bizerte and Tunis.

"They failed," he said, "but the losses have been heavy on both sides and the battlefield was dotted with wrecked tanks."

The land, sea and air action reported by the Allied force headquarters in North Africa was some of the heaviest of the whole campaign.

The communique said that the counter-thrust by the Germans in the Tebourba area was even larger than that of last Tuesday, which had been described as the most determind Axis opposition this far in the campaign.

The German version of the Tebourba fighting, reported by D.N.B., German News and Propaganda Agency, said that "enemy troops were smashed and wiped out by the German attack, 210 prisoners were taken and several hundred dead remained on the battlefield."

D.N.B. claimed the battle of Tebourba still was in progress with "lively fighting" over a wide front. It said the Americans had suffered "extraordinarily heavy losses" and that Stuka dive-bombers had destroyed three tanks and numerous vehicles.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of
PHILIP EVERETT WEDLOCK
who passed peacefully away Dec. 4th 1941.
We cannot think of them as dead,
Who walk with us no more,
Along the path of life we tread
They are but gone before.
Inserted by his wife and family.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of
MRS JOHN J. STEWART,
who passed away on December 4th, 1941.
One year has passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away,
God took her home, it was His will
But in our hearts, she's with us still.
Inserted by Her Husband and Family.
