ALARMING INCREASE IN FEARFUL RESULTS FROM LIQUOR IN FRANCE

PARIS, Dec. 11. - Some idea of the appalling ravages made by the drink scourge in present-day France may be formed by the terrible series of statistics showing the relation between alcohol and madness which specialists attached to the principal Paris lunatic asylums have just made public.

These figures reveal that since 1868 when exact records were stated, the proportion of male lunatics whose loss of reason is caused by drink has increased from 14 per cent. to 47 per cent., while on the female side the percentage has risen from less than 2 to 20.

"Many of these unfortunates," says the authors of the report, "are psychotics descended from other alcoholics."

FIRE DOES $100,000 DAMAGE

Just as it was getting daylight, when the fire was thought to be under control, it was discovered that the Yarmouth Light newspaper office was all ablaze in the upper story. It is thought a flying ember lit on the roof and burned its way through. It proved to be a stubborn fire and the office was very badly damaged before it was extinguished.

FIND VALUABLE PAPERS

LONDON, Dec. 11. - A discovery of English royal documents extraordinarily valuable and interesting, especially from an American standpoint, has just been made.

All state papers, private letters and general correspondence of Kings George III. and George IV. have been missing supposed that when George IV. ascended the throne he destroyed his father's papers and afterwards his own.

Their loss always has been deplored for they covered an immensely interesting period, including the American war of independence, on the inside history of which, from the British side, these documents could shed invaluable light.

The world hears all these missing papers have just been found in the cellars of Apsley House, residence of the Duke of Wellington, whose grandfather, the great Duke, was one of George IV.'s trustees. They have lain in the cellars one hundred years.

Their character was discovered by accident when some repairs were being carried out. Three volumes of them have now been removed to Windsor, where the royal librarian has been entrusted by the King with arranging them and selecting parts of them for publication.

VICTORY FOR THE C. P. R. EMPLOYEES

HALIFAX, Dec. 10. - Mr. Maclean, Secretary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, received a despatch last evening stating that the Board of Conciliation, investigating the grievances between the employees and the Canadian Pacific Railway, had decided in favor of the men on every point.

It was announced that the Minister of Labor would take immediate steps to have the C. P. R. give effect to the indictment. James McDonald, of the Halifax Piano and Organ Co., represented the men. Judge McGeibon was chairman of the Board.

PITTSBURGH MAN KNOWS NOTHING OF GIRL'S MURDER

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 11. - "They can tie two horses to each leg and tear me apart if I killed that little girl."

Edward Exler, held on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Lillian Schade, whose body was found in the Fall Hollow reservoir Thanksgiving Day, made this emphatic statement.

"I know nothing about this thing," he declared. "I never saw the girl in my life. I watched them take her body from the reservoir. I never delivered meat at the Schade house and do not know any of her family."

"Those stains on my raincoat they were not created in murdering the girl. If they are blood stains I must have got them from beef in my father's butcher shop."

Coroner Jameson, accompanied by the District Attorney, Mr. Martin, and a county detective, Murren, went to the scenes of the tragedy in East Pittsburg and North Braddock. They rode from the meat market, kept by the father of the accused to the home of the girl's parents, crossing the Westinghouse Bridge afoot to ascertain the distance the victim had to walk on the night of the murder.

Weir, a judge of the Quebec Superior Court, who claims that by virtue of an assignment to him by his wife, her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Stewart, owes him $6,153 for her board and living expenses during a period of some eight years' residence at his home.
