Montreal, Sept. 3.—The enquiry from foreign buyers for Canadian grain on the Montreal market today was fairly good, but owing to the strength in the Winnipeg market for all lines and the advance in prices the volume of business was checked to some extent. There were some business in the market from Liverpool for No. 1 Northern wheat of 5s 3d per quarter for September shipment, while sales of quite a few loads of oats and barley were made to other ports for September and October loading. A moderate amount of business was done in cash grain in the domestic market there being an improved demand for oats and sales of No. 3 Canadian western were made at nine cents per bushel over the Winnipeg October C.I.F. Montreal, while quite a few loads of Ontario and Quebec 2 white oats changed hands at 50 cents per bush and No. 3 white at 48 to 49 cts. per bushel, ex-track. The flour market was without any special feature to note, prices for spring wheat grades being steady, but the volume of business showed no improvement in any direction. There was some enquiry from foreign buyers for new crop wheat grades for October shipment and sale of odd loads were made. The tone of the market for winter wheat grades remained firm and the trade volume was moderate Prices for all grades of millfeed were well maintained under a good demand from local and outside sources the trade in standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and firm The egg market was inactive but prices were unchanged. The demand for butter was limited but prices remained steady. The export demand for cheese was quiet and the tendency was firm.

Geology Proves Divine Design Savant Declares

LONDON, Sept. 3—No address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science has caused more public interest than that of Prof. W. G. Parkes, of Toronto. His suggestions of future geological possibilities, such as the present temperate regions being buried under glaciers and the population and civilization shifting to the polar regions are described by the newspapers as Well sian prophecies. Prominence is given to Parke's statement that geology shows evidence of design by a deity in nature. He says: "I would add a conviction of theism as a result of a study of geology. Materialism offers no adequate explanation of the wonders of geology."

Griffin and John Leith Hodgson, of the staff of Bank of Montreal of this city. Rev. G. W. Bullock was the officiating clergyman. the different British Dominions were in England. Mr. Lloyd George as chairman of the Board of Trade appointed four Commissioners one of whom was stationed in Montreal. In 1916 the number of Commissioners was increased to 16 and a second Commissioner was appointed for Canada. The headquarters of the service is in London and it has branches in all the overseas dominions. The permanent chief of the service is Sir William Clark. The overseas service is sub-divided into two classes, Geographic and Trade Departments to facilitate and classify the work of the different arms of the service. The main purpose of the service is to develop interimperial trade, to encourage the overseas dominions to trade with each other and with the Mother Country. He gave a number of instances in which, through the information given to manufacturers contracts were secured for British manufacturers in foreign countries including the United States in the face of keen competition. Both the export and import trade of the Dominions, as well as of the United Kingdom had been materially helped by the service. He realized that the rapid development of industry in Eastern Canada militated to a considerable extent against British trade in this country but he realized also that such increase in any of the overseas dominions meant increased prosperity to the Empire, and one of the great objects of the service was to encourage this local industrial development. He also cited instances in which the intelligence service had materially helped the Canadian export trade by finding markets and by keeping exporters informed as to conditions throughout the world.

In the development of British industry, he said, the British manufacturer had much to learn from Canada and the United States in the matter of going after trade. This they are learning, perhaps slowly, but he had no doubt that in the not distant future the British manufacturer would be as aggressive as his American competitor. The British people generally found it difficult to realize the enormous extent and the great distances in Canada. When he told some friends in England that the nine million Canadians had more motor cars than the 45 million in Great Britain, they looked at him with considerable suspicion. At the headquarters in London samples are always on hand of goods manufactured in other countries as well as in the British dominions in order to give manufacturers an opportunity to learn the methods of the other countries and so improve their own and be in a better position to compete with them.

In concluding his admirable address he said that if each of the dominions learned what the others produced and what they required and endeavored to co-operate the development of the Empire was assured. Notwithstanding pessimistic reports he was glad to say that the British export trade had increased materially since 1913 and he had no fear for the future of British industry.

After luncheon Mr. Field was driven to the Experimental Station by Superintendent Clark, and also enjoyed a drive in the country in the vicinity. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the prosperous appearance of the country.

Before coming to Charlottetown Mr. Field visited Summerside where he was met by Mr. Morris, President of the Board of Trade and by Mr A. E. McLean, M. P. He visited a number of stores and also the Fox Farm of Mr. B. Graham Rogers where for the first time he saw silver foxes in captivity. He leaves this morning for Moncton, N. B.

(Special to The Guardian.)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3—The American destroyer Noah is standing by to prevent pirates infesting the Chusan Island district from looting $80,000 worth of gold bullion from the wreck of the Chinese steamer Feiching, aground after being lashed by a typhoon. Three hundred passengers have been taken from the steamer and removed to Ning-po, to the south of here.

Almost Like London Said Journalist

(Special to The Guardian.)

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 3—Ten prominent English journalists arrived in Toronto this morning on a three-day stay in the course of a trans-Canada tour as guests of E. W. Beatty President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Damp and dull weather greeted their arrival at the north Toronto station. "Its almost like London itself" said one of them as they got off the train.

Canada Shipping Not Affected

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Sept. 3. —"There is no danger of any Canada-bound ships from Liverpool being delayed by the strike, because of the inexhaustible supply of labor there," said J. Havelock Wilson, President of the National Union of seamen, today, in regard to the shipping situation.

WORTH MORE THAN MONEY

Controversy Started In Discussion Of Foundation For Education.

A little group of serious thinkers recently discussed the subject of education. One claimed that what are known as the three R's —Readin', 'Ritin', 'Rithmetic— were sufficient to attain success in life.

Others of the group disputed this point. Said one: "There is hardly an exception in history where men have accomplished great things that they did not acquire a good education if they were so unfortunate as to start without one. What you call the three R's are in reality the three essentials. Transpose their positions—Reading, Arithmetic, Writing—and their initials spell 'raw,' because they are the raw materials from which to build your education.

Such a sound argument cannot be successfully controverted. Uneducated men are learning as they go along—self-education—and if greatness comes to them it is largely because their search for knowledge has been successful. What is meant by success must be left to the group of serious thinkers.

The success of the dictionary distribution announced in these columns is due to its being an ideal volume for use in self education—worth more than money. Look for the dictionary coupon in today's issue and learn more about it.

Freight Rates Tangle

(Special to the Guardian)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3— "Endless litigation" will likely result from the action of the Railway Commission in lowering the west-bound grain rates to a level fixed by the Crows Nest agreement. H. J. Symington, K. C., freight rates counsel for the Prairie Provinces, stated today. The unprecedented action of the Commission in declaring valid a decision against the majority of its own members will in all likelihood be taken by the railways as a ground for appeal, in Mr. Symington's opinion.

Canada Notes Are Marketed In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Public offering is being made today at 99 3-4 of the $70,000,000 Dominion of Canada notes, which were bought by New York bankers on Monday. The notes run for one year, with the reservation that they may be called by the Dominion at any time after six months on 30 days' notice. They bear 4 1-4 per cent. interest. In view of the nature of these securities, it is expected that they will be absorbed chiefly by bankers.

Though the Dominion authorities do not reveal the price paid by the bankers, the impression in Wall Street is that the New York banking group bought the 70,000,000 notes at 99.5, making possible a gross profit for them on the entire transaction of $175,000. Of this one-half is said to go to the purchasing syndicate, one-quarter to the dealers, and one-quarter to the retailers

Strike At English Ports Nearing End

LONDON, Sept. 3—The seamen's strike at English ports appeared tonight on the verge of collapse, in the opinion of overseas shipping officials, but it continued to be serious in Australia, New Zealand and Africa.

The White Star liner Majestic, carrying nearly two thousand passengers, sailed from Southampton having taken on a large number of substitutes for those of her crew that turned in their articles yesterday. Three steamers at Hull also signed on new crews and expected to sail on time.

An element in favor of ship-owners is the fact that so many unemployed are ready to take the place of the strikers, whether they are regular seamen or not.

Nine overseas steamers are held up in New Zealand, while at a mass meeting at Sydney, Australia, the owners' offer of a settlement was declined. The owners had propose dthat if the men returned to their ships by Saturday they would waive legal rights against the strikers and agree that no punishment should be enforced. At the mass meeting the speakers denounced the offer as an insult and declared that the men had no intention of giving in. The efforts of moderate labor leaders to reach a settlement at Australian ports have proved unsuccessful, the men giving no intimation of heeding their leaders' advice.

HALIFAX, Sept. 3. —An international touch will be given to the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union's field and track championship sports to be held on the Wanderers grounds here on Saturday afternoon, when G. Maimqvist and E. Palohelmo, two Finnish athletes, running unattached, will strive for honors with the best dsitance men of the Dominion, including James Hawlbot of Westville, N. S., who won the Maritime five miles championship at Charlottetown last week in near record time. The entry, lists, which close today, include most of the recently crowned Maritime champions, the fast Montreal A. A. A. track team, and a large number of well known performers from Quebec, Ontario and the west.

The entry of J. Holland, crack hurdler from Hamilton, was received last night.

Western Visitors Cordially Welcomed

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shaw, Vancouver, who are on their way back from an extended visit to Europe, are in the City at present guests of Chief Justice and Mrs. Mathieson. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw left Vancouver in March and visited France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, England and Scotland. This was their first visit to Europe and they enjoyed it thoroughly, finding sufficient material in each country and city visited to give them pleasant recollections and a wealth of material for thought and conversation to last them many a year.

Each country possesses its own special interest and it would be difficult if not impossible to classify them as to merit.

London of course is the centre of the world and has a charm all its own, Scotland had claims of blood, and tradition upon both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and the country, its mountains and cities and rivers were all that they had hoped to find them. Both England and Scotland possess a peculiar beauty of their own and in both "every inch is hallowed ground," hallowed by history, tradition and memories.

Rome was of special interest this year, it being Holy Year in the Catholic Church and the city was filled with pilgrims from every part of the world. France, still bearing some scars of the war, scars that are rapidly healing, is in many ways a remarkable country, remarkable in its recovery from its recent almost disastrous baptism of fire, in the gayety and light heartedness and enjoyment of life.

Switzerland with its mountains, glaciers, lakes and charming scenery reminded them of their own home country, British Columbia. Altogether the visit was one of wonderful pleasure throughout, the weather was all that could be desired and Mr. and Mrs. Shaw enjoyed the best of health through out the long visit and arduous journeying. Yet, after all the enjoyment, said Mr. Shaw, "it was with a thrill of pleasure that I saw the citadel of Halifax, a city in which I spent four happy years in the University of Dalhousie, and with a still greater thrill when the red banks and green fields of our native Island came into view, "Prince Edward Island." Mr. Shaw says, "is a place of quiet beauty and evident prosperity which it would be difficult to excel anywhere in the world."

Mr. Shaw is Police Magistrate and Judge of the Juvenile Court in the City of Vancouver. Mrs. Shaw formerly Miss Dora Laird, daughter of the late Hon. Alexander Laird North Bedeque is a first cousin of Mrs. Mathieson. They purpose leaving for home in a few days

MATTHEW'S PETITION BEFORE PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—It is understood here that correspondence has passed between the federal justice department and the attorney-general's department of the Ontario provincial government with respect to an application and petition for the parole of Charles Matthews, former assistant provincial treasurer, who was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on October 24, 1924.

The petition is very widely signed and the application, it is understood, sets forth that the provincial government, under the circumstances, would not be averse to the granting of parole by the federal government. It is understood that the attorney-general's department has been communicated with in order that its official views on the subject may be ascertained. So far, however, it is said, no reply has been received.
