The condition of G. B. Burland, who has been dangerously ill in Los Angeles for the last three weeks, shows no sign of improvement, and that hope that he may shortly be strong enough to return to Montreal has been practically abandoned.—Mr. Burland is the father-in-law of Dr. John Andrew McPhail, a native of Ugg, P. E. Island.

Those who are anxious to have the news of their home district, or reports of events in which they are interested, published in The Guardian, must not forget to enclose their names in confidence. No notice can be taken of unsigned communications. It is surprising what a lot of this kind of correspondence is sent in to this office, only to be gently laid away to rest in the recesses of the waste paper basket.

The body arrived by last night's mail train of Mrs. Dugald McLean formerly of this city, who died of pneumonia on Sunday last at Amherst, N. S. She went to Amherst last fall with her husband, who came last night accompanying the body. She deceased was before her marriage Catherine McKenzie, of Canoe Cove. She leaves beside her husband, one son and four daughters to mourn. The funeral will take place to-day, Wednesday, from the home of her brother, Neil McKenzie, Canoe Cove, at three o'clock.

Following is the list of officers of the P. E. Island Provincial Rifle Association for the ensuing year: Lt.-Col. F. S. Moore, President; Lt.-Col. J. A. Longworth, Lt.-Col. D. Stewart, Lt.-Col. E. D. Johnson, Vice President; Mayor A. Bartlett, Secy-Treas.; Council Member.—Queens Co.—Lt. Col. H. M. Davison, Major W. A. Weeks, Major A. A. Bartlett, Major G. Leigh, Capt. M. A. The S.S. Halifax, of the Canada Atlantic and Plant S.S. Line, made her first trip to Charlottetown yesterday. She left Boston port at half past twelve. She left Boston on Saturday, and met with fog and ice on the voyage—the latter especially in the Gulf. She brought the following passengers: J. Dilles, Miss Nettie McMillan of Cymbric returning from Boston and New York; Mrs. Caragher, Mrs. M. J. McKinnon and two children, A. McPhee, Dr. Alley, K. McPherson, B. McPherson, H. C. Baxter and George Gallagher of the Portland Packing Company. There was a large number of cargo including horses for F. Cameron and Dr. Leitch and an automobile for Dr. Alley.

The death took place on April 21st, at Bonbury, Lot 48, of Miss Mary Ann Hamm. She was loved and respected by all her kind and noble disposition won for her a place in all hearts. She bore her suffering patiently and cheerfully resigned herself to do the Master's will. The funeral took place from the residence of her brother William, and was largely attended, notwithstanding the impassable condition of the roads, which went to testify to the esteem in which Miss Hamm was held by her neighbors and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. Chowan and McLean and the remains were interred in the family plot at the Cross Road Cemetery. She leaves to mourn their sad loss one brother and three sisters: William on the old homestead; Jane, nurse at Falconwood; Catherine and Elizabeth at home. The deceased was a sister of the late Allen Hamm of Southport, who predeceased her some years ago.

For the first time in the history of Massachusetts, the deputy sheriff went out on the streets Monday to draft men to serve upon a jury in a capital case. This unprecedented act was ordered by the Court when the list of talesmen summoned on the case of Edgar G. Melkie, the sixteen year old boy who is accused of the murdering of his father, Charles Melkie (a native of Charlottetown, P. E. I.), 7th Lynn, on the evening of November, 7th, 1906 was exhausted at the superior court there Monday. The draft was successful, the panel being completed after forty men had been summoned. The action created consternation, and as soon as the people of Salem realized that the deputies were not joking a panic ensued the street in the vicinity of the Court House becoming deserted in a short time.

Yesterday evening when Dr. Alley and some friends were taking a spin in the new automobile which the Doc had brought home with him in the S. S. Halifax yesterday morning, the automobile suddenly upon a team near the corner of Kent and Pownall streets. The horse, taken by surprise, jumped around in such a way as to partly break the wagon to which he was attached and in which were two young ladies, the daughters of E. J. Berrigan of Dunedin. Fortunately the horse did not run away and the occupants of the carriage luckily got clear of the vehicle without injury. The occurrence soon collected a small crowd and horse and wagon were separated, when it was found that the former was all right and the wagon only partly damaged. Dr. Alley had the horse sent to his stable and tackled to his own rubber tired wagon, and he drove the young ladies there in the auto and saw them safely embarked on their journey home. The satisfactory termination of what might have been an unpleasant accident was commented on with approval by the interested bystanders.
