EXPERTS READY FOR OPENING OF INSTITUTE

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., July 29. (U.P.)—"World Economic Planning" will be the keynote of the 11th annual session of the Institute of Politics to open here tomorrow and continue until August 27.

Scores of educators and others interested in international relations, representing America and many foreign lands, were gathered here today for the month-long conference, which has come to be an annual institution at Williams College.

The general topics to be discussed was summarized by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams and chairman of the Institute of Politics, as a study of economic organization under the individualistic capitalist system, the Fascist system, and the Communist system. Lectures will be delivered by representatives of each system.

Baker to Speak

Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker will deliver the convocation address tomorrow afternoon.

Among distinguished foreign notables attending the conference will be Professor Herbert von Beckerath, Le Neveu of L'Union Coloniale of Paris; Professor Luigi Vilari of the University of Rome; Dr. William E. Rappard, director of the School for Higher International Studies of Geneva; Professor Theodore E. Gregory of the London School of Economics; Dean P. E. Corbett of McGill University; and Professor Frank H. Underhill of the University of Toronto.

Grape Ice Cream

Beat together the yolks of two eggs and a half cup sugar. When very light fold in the beaten whites of the eggs. Heat one and one-fourth cups of milk and a half cup of cream (but do not let them boil), pour gradually over the egg mixture, beating constantly. When cool, add a half cup rich purple grape juice and freeze.

When you make chicken soup, try adding a grating of nutmeg just before serving.

BRINGING UP FATHER

History Of Murray Presbyterian Church Harbor North

as well as in the home where he was so beloved as a kind husband and father and also in the workshop where his many patrons joined with him in pleasant conversation. In concluding it is comforting to know that he is now "At Rest" in the Home above with Jesus his Saviour and all good men.

The funeral services, held in the Presbyterian Church at Peters Road where a very large assemblage was congregated were conducted by Rev. Mr. Smart of Murray Harbor whose impressive sermon was alike comforting and inspiring to the relatives and friends present as he dwelt on the text "When the event was come, he saith unto them: Let us pass over unto the other side." The service at the cemetery was concluded by his brethren of the Orange Association. The following hymns were sung in the Church. The Lord's My Shepherd, Rock of Ages, By Cool Siloam's Shady Hill, Face to Face.

Beautiful floral tributes were donated and the following acted as pall-bearers Messrs. Freeman Reynolds, Thomas Millar, Alex. D. McLeod, Harry Butler, David Sencaugh, William Kennedy.

Besides the bereaved wife (nee Dorcas Whitman Bears), a daughter of the late Isaac A. Bears, Peters Road and a former elder, the following are the family: Benjamin, Murray River, Ella (Mrs. L. F. Butler) Peters Road Bessie (Mrs. Jas. P. Canfield, Wilmington, Mass.); Lulu (Mrs. W. A. Dunford, Saxonville, Mass.); Jessie (Mrs. Harry Butler, Greek River); and Arthur at home. Also the following grandchildren at home, Raymond and Isabel Reynolds.

The following are his brothers and sisters: Benjamin, Adam, Freeman, William, John and Alexander, (deceased); Mary, Mrs. James MacKay and Matilda who predeceased him.

The remains were interred in the New Cemetery at Peters Road and the family wish to thank all who so kindly assisted during the illness and death of the husband and father. To the bereaved wife and family with relatives the deep sympathy of the community is extended and the following lines commended.

Twilight and evening bell and after that the dark,
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark,
For though from out the bourse of time and place
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the Bar."

Many similar tributes have been as freely given, among them a letter from Rev. Archibald Sutherland former pastor and close friend. Space forbids the use of even extracts from these but all go to show that the country church yards are the Repository of many great souls the true and far reaching influence of whom only the great Resurrection Morn will in all respects declare. Imitation is the highest form of flattery and I have made use of these two elders from Peters Road Section to show how faithfully they served their generation and the Church is blessed today because of what their influence gave in a past generation. May it be said they did not labor in vain.

CONCLUSION

And now having come to the end of what has proved an interesting work, the writer desires to thank all those who have in any way helped him to accomplish the task by supplying materials that were of much use in recording the services of the various ministers, elders and others. The passing away of these devoted servants is a call to every one of us for rendering an account of our stewardship and the Divine grace that was vouchsafed to them is a promise that the same will be ours.

And to the many readers from all quarters that have written or verbally expressed the appreciation they felt I must apologise in this place for not having sooner completed the series and given more variety in the presentation of these articles.

Our thoughts go out also to the future that lies so hidden and mysterious. This is a rural community and changes have come. But our God is infinite, eternal, unchangeable and we close with verses we all know.

O God of Bethel by whose hand They people still are fed Who through this weary pilgrimage

Had all our fathers led. Such blessing from thy gracious hand

Our humble prayers implore And thou shalt be our chosen God,

And portion evermore. —P. WATSON CURRIE.

A Good Sport

I would like to call the public eye to the pony called Queenie 2nd, owned and driven by little "Jimmy" Rodd. Although little Rodd is only nine or ten years of age, he had one of the best groomed ponies on the track, all done by his own hands.

His pony was fifth in the first heat and second in the second heat, Miss Jones beating by a short margin. Little Rodd also rode without a saddle and did a credit to the track and his name. Congratulations Mr. Rodd, you are a sport.—"Observer."

TORONTO, July 31.—Knox Church school will be the scene of an interesting gathering this evening, when the members of the congregation unite to bid Rev. and Mrs. C. W. MacKay and Rev. and Mrs. Allan Reoch goodbye before they set out on their journeys for foreign mission fields. Rev. Dr. A. D. Winchester will preside and an excellent musical program will be interpolated with addresses by representatives of the Board of Missions and the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Rev. Mr. MacKay and his family will leave about the middle of August for Formosa, where Mr. MacKay's honored father established the first Presbyterian work in that far land many years ago, and is still lovingly remembered as "MacKay of Formosa." Mr. MacKay has during his leave of absence from the field visited many parts of Canada, recounting for the information of the churches some of the important strides when Presbyterianism has made in the land which he calls "home."

Rev. Allan Reoch will leave, with his bride about the end of July, going direct to Manchuria, to resume work there. Mr. and Mrs. Reoch have been honored guests
