

Men's House Coats!

There's a way to be cozy comfortable at home—and he'd not catch the back of it, if the wife, daughter, or sister didn't help.

And so we are talking to women. For women buy most of the House Coats. There's easy and splendid choosing here. Good sorts at $5.00 and $6.00

There isn't a safer gift to give him. He don't want you to choose his cigars— but you're away ahead of him on the House Coat subject. The styles here are different from those shown elsewhere, so no danger of buying one that's just like Mr. Smith's or Mr. Jones'. Some are very elaborate, yet the gayest are in good taste.

Give him one for Xmas. Select it now.

DO YOU DESIRE FREE DELIVERY ?

Free delivery of letters by carriers appointed and paid by the Government is in operation in many cities of Canada. There is reason to believe that the system may be adopted here if the people express their desire for it.

WHAT FREE DELIVERY MEANS. Free delivery means that responsible carriers, wearing uniform, and sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties shall after the arrival and sorting of each mail at the Post Office take the letters received and deliver them to the persons addressed at their homes or places of business. The city would be divided into, say four districts, with a carrier for each district. He would make his rounds twice a day, and if there was a letter for you at the Post Office would take it to you. Arrived at your house he would ring or knock—two short rings or two sharp knocks. You would know by the knock or ring that it was the welcome postman and the letter or parcel would be left. If you had a letter to send out, you would hand it to him and he would post it for you. But he would call only at houses or places of business where he had mail matter to deliver.

These privileges would be for those on the carriers' lists. Any persons who chose could still receive their letters at the Post Office as they now do. The carrier service would not deliver the newspapers printed in the city. Letters posted in the city addressed to other persons in the city would not be delivered by the carriers unless prepaid by a two cent stamp instead of one cent as now. This is the only additional charge in connection with the free delivery system.

In order to learn the views of our citizens on this question we invite all readers of The Guardian residing in the City to fill out and return to this office the enclosed coupon, showing whether they are in favor of free delivery or against it. Mark an X in the square under the words "For Free Delivery," or in the square under the words "Against Free Delivery", give the street on which you reside, sign your name and return to Guardian Office.

COUPON. For Free Delivery. Against Free Delivery.

Form with two boxes for 'For Free Delivery' and 'Against Free Delivery' and fields for Name and Street.

FORESIGHT. "Why didn't Squiggins pay the clergyman who married him to Miss Peppery?" "He tried to, but the minister took one look at the bride and said he'd compromise if Squiggins would promise not to bring suit against him for damages in after life."

'Twas Enough. Hixon—Did Molly accept you? Dixon—Not in so many words, but she advised me to save my money instead of buying flowers, candy and theater tickets.

Calf—Do you believe that Friday is unlucky? Widow Turk—Not much. I've had a husband, father, four brothers and an uncle all to die on Thursday.

WOULDN'T BE REFUSED. "I understand that he is a struggling young author." "Yes; it took the editor and two office boys to throw him out of the sanctum."
