Zion Church schoolroom was filled with a most appreciative audience last evening to hear Editor F. B. Nash deliver his able and eloquent lecture on Sir Wilfrid Laurier Mr. Nash was in splendid form and presented one of the finest pen pictures of the living statesman that a Charlottetown audience has ever enjoyed. It was vivid, stirring and eloquent and the frequent interruptions of applause gave evidence of the appreciation with which it was received. Mr. Nash is deservedly popular on the platform and last night excelled himself in the literary and eloquent delivery of his oration. A vote of thanks enthusiastically moved by J. E. Matthews and seconded by a strong and stirring speech by Marjorie Martin, of West Medford, Mass. who wore a becoming gown of blue. The best man was William N. Hardy, an intimate friend of the groom. Advertisers are again reminded that their "change" must be received a week or not later than one o'clock sharp and their business locals no later than three o'clock of each week, exclusive of statutory holidays to insure insertion in next issue. A correspondent writing from Springfield and vicinity says: This place and vicinity has lately been enlivened by a number of parties and socials which proved very entertaining to both young and old and by all appearances will develop into some wedding parties in the near future. H. B. Haslam has gone on an extended visit to Chicago, Ill.—Everett Haslam has opened a telephone office which will be a great benefit to himself and the public.—Fred J. Haslam has recently been visiting friends in North Wiltshire.—Owing to the short winter not much mussel mud hauling has been done.—Albert Gamster has sold his farm to Jas. A. Hichor. M. Gamster contemplates going to Alberta.—D. A. McKay has been adding some improved stock to his already fine herd of cattle.—Union Division still holds out at the same old stand always ready to lend a helping hand to the temperance cause. Last night the brightest lights in the local hockey firmament shone for a brief but brilliant period in the big arena. When the stars in their courses fight together the spectacle cannot be any more sublime than that afforded last night, for a verity the truth of the proverb was made manifest that there is but one step from the sublime to the ridiculous. In other words, the Windies alias the bandmen played pretty well, tried to, with the management of the rink. The game was varied by diversity of play, and as many new fashions were introduced into the conduct of the game as into the costumes of the players. Dom Pedro, referee, and at halftime the Arenos protested that the Windies were playing 1, 2, 3, 4, and any old time and that they would not play any more but were going home to tell their mothers. They also accused one of the Windies of the lot of Dom Pedro would finish up, but they refused, until he threatened to say out loud what he thought of them. The Arenos claimed the victory after the game was over, saying their opponents were blowing him out a late hour of the way they licked them.
