

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

He told me to ship the stuff to Georgetown and wrote the addresses on the covers of the three butter tubs and four egg cases. I did not go to the station with him. He left them there and I put them on board the morning train for Georgetown for him.

Geo. B. Auld, egg merchant Charlottetown, sworn.—We received six cases of eggs from James C. Manuel, Georgetown, on Saturday. They were shipped Friday. He is a regular shipper to us. They are now in our warehouse.

Lucy Lane, Dunstaffnage, sworn.—I conduct a store for my father. Remember morning of Sept. 4th. She the prisoner. He came to my store between eight and nine o'clock and asked about buying eggs, asking the price, saying he had two cases which he had received in exchange for enamel or aluminum ware. I quoted him a price of 23c. cash for eggs and as he left he asked if I would take some butter. I said I didn't care much about butter in tubs, but he said he would bring the eggs and butter and put in the horse, asking for a feed of oats. I examined butter and eggs. He said the butter had been weighed by a Mr. Sinnott and Russell Clark had pronounced it O. K. He had two cases of eggs and two tubs of butter. My store is five miles from Tracadie Station. I paid him $26.33 for the goods. I gave him breakfast, and he paid for it. Sgt. Bradley and George Lightizer took the eggs on Friday afternoon. I marked the cases before that.

At this juncture in the hearing Dr. McMillan, who had been sent for, arrived and observed the prisoner.

D. Montgomery, station agent, Georgetown, sworn.—Remember a shipment on Wednesday, Sept. 4, of four cases eggs and three tubs of butter from Tracadie to Georgetown, billed by the conductor on the morning freight, consigned to A. M. Phillips. A few minutes after the train arrived the prisoner came in and asked for freight for A. M. Phillips, saying that was his name. He said he was going to sell them to A. A. Macdonald & Bros. He took the freight away and later paid for it.

Elmer M. Jenkins, liveryman, Georgetown, sworn. I remember Wednesday, Sept. 4. About 6.30 that evening the prisoner came over and

THE RENEWAL A STRAIN.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest of which kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all, except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been kissed by strawberries, have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

First Letter: On the Fallacy of "Training Down" to a Comfortable Size

Dear Sis—If you could see me now you'd surely wonder what witchery had wrought the transformation—for you wouldn't recognize your Amazon sister in the gracefully molded figure sitting here. Yes, I have a surprise for you—that huge mountain of fat you once knew as sister is no more—I'm as trim a body as you'd meet in a day's walk. And the change from fat to just plump was so easy, and gradual, and natural, and perfectly harmless, that I didn't realize it was taking place. You remember that horrible nightmare that confronted me every day—the physician called it "exercise"—but as I look back on it now I can call it nothing but torture. Lying flat on my back and trying to kick holes through the ceiling with my feet. Attempting to stand on my hands on a chair when nothing less than a derrick would lift my bulk into the air. Standing with stiff knees and trying to touch my toes with my fingers—when I couldn't even see them. And other things as ridiculous. Exercise! I just quit it all. A few months ago I got a mixture of 1 ounce Marmala powder, 1 ounce Cascara Aromatica, 4 ounces Peppermint Water at the drug store, took a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime—took it persistently and faithfully—and now, sis, I really have a beautiful figure, smooth skin, firm flesh and the digestion of an ostrich. It's simply wonderful. Lovingly, BETTY.
