Wm. J. Sweetser has been appointed professor of Manual Training and Engineering at Mt. Allison University. He is to organize the Manual Training work for the High School and Academy and to take charge of the special Engineering courses in the University. Prof. Sweetser comes with the highest recommendations. He studied manual training in the Cambridge Manual Training school, one of the finest in America. He graduated at the Mass. Institute of Technology with the degree of B. Sc. having made a speciality in Mechanical Engineering. His professors speak of him as one of the best men in his class. Since his graduation he has been engaged in engineering offices with eight men under him. He was offered an assistant professorship at the Mass. Institute which he declined in favor of the position at Mt. Allison. It has been arranged that Mr. Geo. Trueman shall deliver a course of lectures to the special students in Agriculture, in History and Methods of German Forestry. Mr. Trueman has been at Baden, Germany a great centre of forestry where he gave special attention to the literature and methods in vogue there.
EASTERN NOTES—Miss Martha Clarke returned missionary from India, and her sister Miss Irene have been visiting east. Miss Clarke addressed a large audience in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening the 13th. Mr. Gardner preached in the morning in his usual forcible manner from the words "Him whom ye ignorantly worship declare I unto you."—Harvesting operations are generally beginning a month later than last year and I believe the latest since 1872. It is certainly the best crop for years if we only get the weather for ripening and saving it. Potatoes too promise well.—The mackerel fleet are scattering, but still some boats are getting fair catches, and strange to say some of the hake-makers are beating the graduates of Gloucestermen who excelled in the palm days of jig fishing from that noted fishing port.—Cyrus S. Ching and a friend Mr. Parker are spending a few days around the former's old home.—The reports from our contingent who went to the West are on the whole favorable to crop, country and conditions.—McAnlay S. McNeill, Baltic are adding a single machine to their mills, Warren is also making extensive improvements to his property, the old Anderson mill at Black Pond, and will be in good shape for the fall trade.

Conspicuous among the presents to John T. and Mrs. Ferguson, Marshfield on the eve of their wedding, Wednesday Sept. 16 was a beautiful hanging lamp the gift of Marshfield choir. The presentation was accompanied by the following address read on behalf of the choir by Miss Irene McBeth:
To the Organist and Choir Leader of St. Columba church at Marshfield.
MR. AND MRS. JOHN T. FERGUSON
Friends:—We, your associates in the choir desire, here and now, on this evening of your marriage, to offer you our heartiest congratulations. We wish you all the comforts and joys which can possibly be found in a happy married life.
You, Mr. Ferguson, who so long guided us in selections and training and so faithfully endeavored to lead our voices in the service of Praise in the House of God, we especially congratulate, in regard to the prize you have won. We are bound to admit that you deserved something good, and trust that you now realize and appreciate the worth of virtuous woman—having won Miss Belle Thompson for your bride and life-partner.
To you, Mrs. Ferguson, what shall we say? We can assure you that your associates in the choir cherish the very highest regard and esteem for you and confidence in you. Appreciating very highly your worth and ability in the sphere in which you have been with us, we have found it a pleasure and ease to be associated as members of the choir—partners as leaders in the service of song. Though you can no longer enroll as one of "the girls" being henceforth a staid married lady "on life's sea," with the man of your choice—yet we enjoy the fact that you are not going from us, but will still be one with us. When a few months ago it was necessary to obtain an organist, happily for us the choice of the session fell on you, and we hope to long have the pleasure of calling—on Mrs. Ferguson, our organist.
We voice the sentiment of a modern poem:
Some Angel surely doth her touch inspire
As from the keys she makes sweet music there,
Play on, sweet woman, and us for God
Thy talent rare and fine,
So shall the heavenly echoes raise our thoughts to joy's divine.
And now, dear friends, having fellow-shipped side by side with you in the service of the choir—we ask you to please accept this little gift from us, in pleasant memories of the past, and with good wishes for a bright and happy future. Our prayer is that, while this, our gift smiles to beam upon our evening fellowship may another lamp, God's gift, ever brighten so your life's pathway. May you long be spared to work with us in putting our talents to good use in the Master's cause and may you all life's sea happily together and reaching the golden shore have an abundant entrance into the Haven of Rest.
The wishes and prayers of St. Columba Choir.
After the reading of the address, the toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. W. H. Spencer supported by Fred Turner.
