OFFERS PROPOSED

At the opening of the sitting last evening, Hon. Horace Wright, President of the Executive Council, reported on his recent trip to Ottawa as head of a delegation to discuss the price ceiling on potatoes. Other members were Mr. P. A. Molisee, M.L.A., for St. John's, and Mr. J. W. Boulter, secretary of the P.E.I. Potato Growers Association, who acted as technical advisor. They presented their case at Ottawa in conjunction with a delegation from New Brunswick.

Mr. Wright said that one good result of their visit was the obtaining of a temporary revision of potato inspection regulations as they apply to this province. The regulations were relaxed until the end of April to permit the shipment of Irish cabbages not fully certified. Because of weather conditions last summer, principally because of excessive moisture, there had been a great deal of what was known as stem end browning. It was not a disease and was not transmitted to next year's crop, but probably 40 per cent of the 1941 yield of Irish cabbages was affected. Under customary regulations the potatoes could not be shipped. Mr. Wright said that because they were not fully certified, however, they were made good seed. Mr. Wright said that following recommendations made by Mr. Boulter the regulations were relaxed temporarily.

The delegation was promised that the potato price ceiling into serious consideration at a meeting this week.

CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

"Shining Victory" receives wide acclaim at S' side

"Shining Victory" a truly fine feature was widely acclaimed when it opened last night at the Capitol Theatre, S' side.

James Stephenson, whose performance in "The Letter" brought him such wide acclaim, and Geraldine Fitzgerald, the lovely Irish actress who attained screen celebrity through her roles in "Wuthering Heights" and "Dark Victory," are the stars of the film.

With boldly masterful strokes, author Cronin has fashioned his story around the mysteries of psychiatry, unravelling these mysteries in a complete drama which grips the complete attention of its audience. Briefly summarized, the story is that of a young British research psychiatrist, who is on the verge of discovering a great cure for mental illness, but is driven to a sanatorium in Scotland where he has the opportunity to continue his research.

Stephenson in the role of the psychiatrist, gives a sterling and brilliant performance that more than justifies his recent promotion to star status. Miss Fitzgerald, as his assistant, fulfills all the promise she gave in her earlier performances. She is a beautifully restrained actress and her characterization is delicately but deeply etched in the difficult role of the mentally twisted secretary, Barbara O'Neil does a really superb job, and vying with her for honours in the supporting cast is veteran character actor Donald Crisp. Others who contribute brilliantly to the finely acted film are Montagu Love, Sig Ruman, George F. Huntley, Jr., and many more.

This was in the Markham Valley in New Guinea. There, Japanese troops who had advanced 27 miles in a slow and painful march from the east New Guinea coast had been compelled to give up every mile by great floods in the valley.

Now, it was added, the enemy was again centred about Lae, Samarua and Finschhafen—the towns from which he had begun his incursions.

This thrust apparently had never been viewed as serious by the defenders, who had all along been concentrating their efforts aloft.

Canada given Seat on new Pacific Council

By J. F. Sanderson
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30—(CP)—Canada was given a seat on the new Pacific War Council of the United Nations announced here today by President Roosevelt and representing seven countries fighting Japan on the wide Pacific.

The council which the President said will be concerned with "matters of policy relating to our joint war effort" and "will be in intimate contact with a similar body in London" will consist of representatives of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Britain, the United States, China and the Netherlands.

The first meeting of the council will be held Wednesday with Canada being represented by Home Affairs Minister, Mr. C. D. Howe. Wrong, co-minister of the Canadian legation, due to the absence of Minister Leighton McCarthy on a short vacation.

The council, established mainly at the insistence of Australia and New Zealand, will consist of maintaining direct contact among governments concerned in the Pacific struggle and will not be charged with the direction of the day to day military operations which will continue to be operated by the combined chiefs of staff committee in Washington.

How the council will function "in intimate contact" with the London council remains to be seen.

In young children a cold or cough is not a thing to be disregarded, as it is often of a grave nature, and unless attended to immediately may, eventually, cause serious trouble.

On the first sign of a cough or cold the mother will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help get rid of the trouble.

Its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm, and stimulating the bronchial organs is such that the cough may be checked before anything of a serious nature sets in.

Beaverbrook pays Tribute to Churchill

MIAMI, Fla., March 29—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook had this to say in support of Prime Minister Churchill in a broadcast today to Canada.

"He is a man of our leader, Mr. Churchill. He gets there." Too often he has been criticized and condemned by those who know nothing of his difficulties. Too often he has been held responsible for issues that did not concern him. Too many times he has been told to guide the airplane by those who have never flown.

"He is our tithe like an old cart horse, drawing a heavy load up a steep hill. At the outset all the spectators on the sidewalk cheered him on, praising that tough old man for his courage and the grade became harder to make and the old horse labored at the collar, some well-disposed but very stupid spectators dashed out from their places on the sidewalk and tried to help him. He would help the old horse, they carried switches, and belaboring the horse heartily they cried: 'Make haste, make haste, time is not on our side.' 'After a sound trouncing the old horse kicked out. 'Wicked old cart horse,' these switchers cried. 'Let us try to help you. Let us dig a pit so that the savage horse may fall therein.' 'You all know the rest of the story.

"The old war horse is still doing the collar work. Soon he may reach the top of the hill. 'And I would tell the Canadian people now and here when the hill is steep, that the road is long, of the benefits I have derived from serving under that old war horse, the Prime Minister. I cannot imagine how it is that Britain always finds a leader in the hour of need. To me it is remarkable revelation, something to wonder at. And I can only believe that it comes from some great destiny that is marked out for our race.

"Let us cherish this leader. Moses, thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn." "By the immense exertions of Churchill, by his power to inspire ministers and sustain the people, he has brought us, through perils that few thought he could survive, even among our friends in America.

"And let us be confident—he will guide us through the battle and the storm, to the peace that lies beyond, where the light of Britain will shine in splendor, and the strength of the nation will be devoted to the tasks of righteousness."

Names Petain
Daladier, rising to his feet, asked the Assembly who presented the report to you?"

"There were two versions to Gerodias' answer to this question. The official Assembly report said he said: 'An officer named Marshal Petain.' The Vichy press said that the report was given by an officer who had belonged to the staff of Marshal Petain."

"It was recalled that in May, 1936, following the Parliamentary elections won by the Popular Front, Petain described Communism as the enemy of France."

Later presiding magistrate Pierre Casaux quizzed Daladier during an exchange which followed the former Premier's attempt to present figures refuting testimony of one witness.

"But Mr. President," said Daladier, "you know there have been rumors about the end of the trial. I have not heard about the intervention of a foreign power to secure it."

Casaux cut in sharply: "There is no need to talk about that. Nothing is known about it here."

Former Ch'town Boy with R.C.A.F. Intruder Squadron

A ROYAL AIR FORCE STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 29—(CP)—The expanding Royal Canadian Air Force has added an intruder squadron to its growing strength of fighter, bomber and coastal patrol units operating from scattered bases in Great Britain.

A new thorn in the side of the German air force, the squadron is exactly what its name implies. It shadows enemy airbases and attacks aircraft as they come in to land. The American-built, twin engine Boston use of the squadron also carry a good bombardment load and are "messed up" as well as enemy machines.

The unit, one of the newest Canadian squadrons to be formed, is based at an airbase which was heavily bombed during the battle

SPRING FEATURES VIVID COLORS
Primitive, bright and vibrant colors are the important note for Spring 1942. Fashion experts believe, and psychology backs them up, that people need bright colors to give them a "lift" in times like these. Clear basic colors satisfy the need for something gay. Energetic colors such as bright red, or American Beauty will lead the color parade. Sharp contrasts, such as red on white will also be in demand. A shrill new pink called "Pink Elephant Pink" will add its mad dash of color in accessories and jewelry.

As a result of contrast to this outpouring of raw color soft greens will also appear. Green is a dominant color in many Spring prints, both in cottons and rayons. Soft creamy beiges, sandy beiges, and light browns are predicted for Spring wools. A pinkish "mud" beige is slated to take the place of the classic tan for polo and other favorite sport coats.

Vivid multicolored prints are highlighted with strong royal blues, bright reds, greens and golds. Softer types are welcomed too, with natural green again leading. Defence blues, chocolate browns, soft greys and beige, and combinations of grey with browns will go well with beige and brown wool coat shades.

Navy blue is a perennial favorite that will have a strong comeback this Spring. Blue with vivid red trim is an important combination. Red and blue prints on a white background reflect the patriotic mood. The classic navy blue and white is especially welcomed this season for its simplicity and trimness. Cool greys and whites, or greys and yellows are a Spring combination that will be welcomed as a smart contrast to the raw tones.

people to have full self-government, with a constitution free in every respect as our own in Great Britain or as any of the great Dominion members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"India would be associating with the United Kingdom and the other Dominions by a common allegiance to the Crown and equal to them in every respect, and never a subordinate in any respect."

"There is, however, an existing constitution which regulates the central or provincial governments of India, and everyone agrees that in these troubled times we cannot here and now set about forging a new constitution."

"It is far too important a matter for the future of India to be improvised in a hurried way. The new constitution should be framed by the elected representatives of the Indian people themselves."

"We have invited the appointment of representatives of the Indian government to take a position in the war cabinet. When the war is over India's representatives will take their places side by side with those of other free nations in order to make their own contribution to the building of a new world order."

Britain will continue to be responsible for India's defence, he said, but reminded Indians that their help was needed to make that defence "more effective and more powerful."

He said he awaited the decision with the highest hopes, but the day brought no indication of when a reply might be forthcoming from the two dominant political groups whose assent is essential: the All India Congress and the Muslim League.

The working committee of the Congress, which speaks for the majority of the 240,000,000 Hindus, adjourned until tomorrow after four hours of secret debate.

The leaders of the 77,000,000 Moslems also were in protracted discussions, so it appeared unlikely that decisions would be reached until later in the week.
