

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

FRIDAY. U. S. Consul John H. Grout, Odessa, reporting to the Consular and Trade Journal says:

In a country with nearly 150,000,000 inhabitants, the question of public alimentations is the first and most important, especially in view of the rapidly growing prices of all kinds of animal food.

In Russia, until lately, the food of the masses consisted, besides varying quantities of animal substances, principally of cereals, cruciferae (cabbages, etc.), cucurbitaceae (melons, etc.), and a few other kinds of plant food.

The members of the Empire Lodge, K. P. City, held a public installation in their hall last evening.

He, with Brother Daniel Lusner, resided on the third floor and the latter was forced to jump in order to save his life.

He was badly hurt but will recover. Brother Leonien, in trying to get all the scholars out, lost his own life by staying too long in the building, having been overcome by the smoke.

The total loss is estimated to be between eight and seventy thousand dollars. The insurance is about thirty thousand.

HALIFAX, Jan. 4—As the Maritime express was nearing Windsor Junction yesterday afternoon, the engineer noticed a man lying by the side of the track and thinking he was dead, stopped the train. An examination showed that the man was alive, but unconscious and he was placed on board the train and brought to the city and taken to the hospital station. The medical officer examined the man and ordered that he be taken to the hospital, but up to midnight his condition was unchanged.

The man is a native of Italy, and a ticket found in his pocket bears the name of Gasparini Francesca. The ticket was purchased in Winnipeg and the owner was to have taken passage on the Empress sailing from St. John last Saturday. How the man got to the side of the track is a mystery.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—On the eve of the convening of the legislature Senator Cabot Lodge, in an address at Symphony Hall, tonight, defended his eighteen years' record in the senate as a plea for re-election for a fourth time. Senator Lodge's address was in the nature of an answer to a long antagonistic campaign led by Governor-elect Eugene N. Foss, yet throughout his remarks he never mentioned the name of any of his opponents.

A majority of the Republican members of the house and senate sat immediately in front of Senator Lodge. The multitude that stormed the hall an hour before the meeting exceeded its capacity, and an overflow meeting was held where Senator Lodge repeated a portion of his speech.

"Let me say a word on Canadian reciprocity," said the senator. "I had I been willing to deceive the people by declaring that Canadian reciprocity could be obtained by shouting it here and in Washington, I might have escaped misrepresentation. But I have never been willing to deceive my fellow citizens by saying what I know to be untrue, and therefore I have always declared that Canadian reciprocity could be obtained only with the cooperation and assent of Canada. I have always favored and earnestly desired Canadian reciprocity and have repeatedly spoken in favor of it."

"Again and again last summer I advocated reciprocity with Canada. I have labored for twenty years to promote the best relations possible with our neighbors on the north. Free trade would be reciprocity mutual concessions in duties would be reciprocity, but to remove or lower duties on Canadian products without any equivalent from Canada would be neither free trade, nor reciprocity, nor fair trade. To lower or remove our duties on Canadian products without an equivalent from Canada would compel us under the favored nation clause existing in more than thirty treaties, to lower or remove our duties on practically every country in the world. This would give Canada no preference and no advantage in our markets, and would be of no benefit to us."

"I have sought and now desire a reciprocal arrangement with Canada which will be benefit to both countries, which will enlarge our trade with each other, and which will especially increase the trade of New England and swell the commerce of her port of Boston."

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, January 4.—A frozen body of a man was found in gravel pit north of the city yesterday to be that of Allan McGregor, an advertising manager and piano salesman. From a letter he had written it was inferred that he poisoned himself and then retired to the pit to die.

A sealed letter was found addressed to Horace Davis, advertising manager of the Montreal Standard. Davis is to receive all his property for a purpose. McGregor said, that Davis would know.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 3.—In the supreme court here today the St. Croix Paper Co. brought suit against Frank Todd, of St. Stephen, and other partners in the firm of F. H. Todd & Sons, lumber dealers, to recover $100,000, and the defendants' property was attached in that amount.

Mr. Todd was president of the St. Croix Company and there is a dispute between him and members of the company over the sale of wood lands.

Special to The Guardian. OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—It was learned today at the Forestry Department that a gigantic plan is to be outlined before the Dominion Forestry Commission, re conservation of forests.

He will recommend an expenditure during the next few years aggregating $25,000,000, which will practically make the forests of the Dominion immune from the great loss suffered at one time by fire.

The plan involves the organization of fire fighting and fire preventive corps modelled upon the Northwest Mounted Police.

It may also involve a co-operative legislation by the various provinces which will place all forest lands directly under the control of the Dominion Government.

Special to The Guardian. MEXICO, Jan. 4.—Fire and a panic which occurred while the new year religious celebration was in progress in a church on the Hacienda near San Luis Potosi, cost the lives of seventeen and serious injury to eighty women and children.

News of the disaster reached this city today.

The victims were workmen employed on the Hacienda and members of their families.

The church, which was a small affair, was packed to its capacity.

A candle fell from its socket and ignited a quantity of dry moss with which the building was decorated and the flames spread quickly.

Of those who escaped death by burning or suffocation many were killed or injured by being trampled in the frantic rush to escape through a narrow entrance and few escaped.

Special to The Guardian. SYDNEY, Jan. 4.—Two bodies are still in No. 3 colliery, where six were recovered.

The damage to the mine is not serious, and there are no signs of ure.

The colliery will likely be running within a week.

SYDNEY MINES, Jan. 3.—An explosion occurred yesterday in No. 3 colliery and eight men who were in the mine at the time are dead.

Not since the memorable explosion of 1878, in Winning Pit, has such a sale of spurious pictures, admitted as when it was announced that Sydney No. 3 mine was on fire. The disaster cost the lives of six men.

The explosion yesterday occurred when the deputies, Archie Ferguson and Harry Purchase, went into the mine to see that everything was all right.

Messrs Ferguson and Purchase were accompanied by six workmen, making preparations for the starting of the mine.

The explosion occurred and the village of Florence turned into a frenzy. People rushed to the colliery and Superintendent Brown was immediately summoned. The Superintendent soon got in touch with the mining department. John Johnson, another colliery superintendent, soon had a larger apparatus than the second and in a few minutes all available workmen on the plant were combating the fire.

For eight hours John H. Johnston, assisted by Inspector Nicholson worked down upon No. 11 lift and finally in finding the charred bodies of the six shiftmen, who were clumped together and so burned that it was impossible to recognize one from another.

The rescue party went down to reach No. 11 lift in the hope of recovering the bodies of Ferguson and Purchase, but owing to deadly gasses they were compelled to retreat.

WEST ARCHAT, Cape Breton, Jan. 3.—Hattie LeBlanc, who was born and the village in which Glover was born—but hate it as she does and hate as she may in the future, it is West Archat where she may have to spend the remainder of her life.

The village at this season of the year, particularly, is a dreary place and far out along the shores of the little cove stands the LeBlanc cottage, the tiniest among all the tiny cottages of West Archat. Behind it stands a diminutive shed.

In this tiny cottage live the father and mother, Hattie and Lillian, the two eldest; and then the youngsters, running down from Eva, who is 12 years old, through Mary and Kate and Florence and Rose to the two-year-old Wilfred.

All through the day they live in the kitchen. Hattie wears the dresses which were given her after the trial—the stylish, little dresses which any Boston girl of her age may wear. She is fresh from the retirement of the homes which sheltered her after the trial. Lillian wears the dresses which she wore in the corridors of her court house. But the others wear garments which are like the garments which the children of West Archat have worn since time immemorial.

For the most part these dresses are colored a dirty gray or a dingy red or an obscure brown. They are spotted and soiled. They hang from child-like shoulders in shapeless folds.

The rooms of the house are small, and the family very poor. For the most part, they eat rabbits, which are easily snared, and which may be bought very cheaply. On the very day before Hattie returned, they saw Mrs. LeBlanc, went begging from door to door, having insufficient money to supply the necessities of life.

But in this village the girl who was acquitted of Clarence Glover's murder, must spend her days, as it is very unlikely that her re-entry into the United States will be permitted.

TOURS, France, Jan. 2.—The public prosecutor in summoning up his argument today at the trial of "Count" D'Auby De Gatinay, who is charged by the Duchess of Choiseul-Praslin, formerly Mrs. Charles Hamilton Faine, of Boston, with swindling her out of $200,000 through the sale of spurious pictures, admitted that the charge in connection with the picture "Antiope," which the Paines brought for $15,000, had not been proven, but he insisted that the accusations in connection with the count and the Mirand had been well established. He asked for the conviction, therefore, of D'Auby De Gatinay, whom he considered a high-flying idler and adventurer.

MONTEAL, Jan. 2.—A political discussion between Zephir Primeau, a farmer of St. Martine, and Cyril Vallee on Saturday night ended fatally. Valen's son, Arthur, took his father's part, and it is alleged struck Primeau on the head with a bottle and fractured his skull. The disturbance took place outside the Vinet Hotel, St. Martine.

Primeau was taken home in an unconscious condition and died without recovering. Three witnesses were heard at the inquest yesterday, but there was not sufficient evidence to detain young Vallee in custody. Further developments are anticipated when the adjourned inquest takes place next Tuesday.

Special to The Guardian. HALIFAX, Jan. 3.—Despatches from Sydney Mines state that an explosion occurred in No. 3 colliery of the Nova Scotia Steel Co. this morning.

Eight men were in the mine at the time. It is believed that they are safe.

A rescue party went down. The company believe the loss will not be serious.

WEST UNION, O., Dec. 31.—Judge A. Z. Blair sent five Manchester men to jail today on vote-selling charges. These are the first jail sentences actually executed, although a suspended sentence has been hung over every one of the guilty men in the wholesale bribery investigation.

Court opened at 5:30 in the morning, the county seat being filled with voters from the extreme eastern section, who had walked in, tramping all night to arrive early to make their pleas of guilty. The total indictments to date number 1141.

The five men sent to jail are Leslie Henderson, Kelly Henderson, Jack Bentley, Thomas Smith and William Parr. They were indicted several days ago but failed to appear. Last night Judge Blair sent a deputy sheriff to Manchester, 18 miles away, to get them.

The deputy hailed the men out of bed at 2 a.m. and brought them here in a wagon. Judge Blair sentenced each of them to a fine of $100 and eight months in the workhouse, with disfranchisement for five years.
