MIKE O'DOWD GOING BACK

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Like champions of other classes that have gone before him, Mike O'Dowd is slipping fast. Johnny Wilson toppled the St. Paul boy from his middle-weight pedestal some months ago. The other night he only drew Lou Bogash in twelve rounds of fighting.

"Not the Mike of old" was heard, and the fan had it about right. Making his first appearance since St. Patrick's Day eve, when he failed in an attempt to regain the crown, O'Dowd showed he is far from the great fighter of old. The operation which O'Dowd has un-

LET US ALL BE MERRY.

The festive and joyous atmosphere of Christmas is exemplified in none of the songs printed by George Wither in his "Juvenile" numerous verses will suffice to indicate the character of their refreshing cheerfulness and rousing rhythm.

So now is come our joyful feast. Let every man be jolly. Each room with ivy leaves is dressed. And every post with holly. Though some churls at our mirth repine, Round your foreheads garlands twine, Drown sorrow in a cup of wine, And let us all be merry.

IN NO MAN'S LAND From cliff to cliff above the roar Of seas that seek with endless quest, Some smooth and tranquilizing shore To lull their troubled waves to rest.

From cliff to cliff, from morn till night, Like winds that cannot find a home, The wild seabirds in frenzied flight, Range o'er that gulf of frenzied foam.

Sprites of the elemental joys, That from the moods of Nature spring, A comradeship that never cloys, The ecstasy that bears each wing.

Aloft or low, in air or sea, That naught can baffle or restrain, That revel in the liberty Of an inviolate domain.

Where never foot of man shall tread, Where only Time himself hath trod, That guards by cliff and mountain head, The secret sanctuaries of God.
