Shirley Temple Scores As "Miss Annie Rooney"

In this gay, laugh-filled comedy which opened last evening at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, Miss Shirley is presented as a young modern miss who receives her first romantic screen kiss while playing opposite Dickie Moore.

In the film, Shirley is seen as a girl who lives on the wrong side of the tracks but wins everyone on bith sides with her warm loveliness and infectious gayety. She is the granddaughter of a retired policeman and daughter of an insurance salesman who would rather promote billion-dollar ideas than work at his job. When Annie Rooney gets her family mixed with that of a socialite boy friend from Park Avenue, the complications are astounding and side-splitting. But it all comes out just right with Annie innocently engineering success for her father's big idea.

Shirley Temple is superb as the fourteen-year-old who becomes romantically attached to the Park Avenue scion, played by Dickie Moore. And further acting laurels belong to such top-notch actors as William Gargan, Shirley's father in the film, Guy Kibbe, who portrays a grandfather, Roland Du Pree, the noted dancing star, and Peggy Ryan, who plays Annie's bosom friend.

Among the gayest scenes seen in "Miss Annie Rooney" are a series of jitterbug sequences which were filmed with the young stars and some of Hollywood's best dancing talent.

Alexander Speaks On Sea Warfare

LONDON, March 10 —(CP Cable) —A.V. Alexander warned the House of Commons tonight that the Admiralty views the submarine position "as one of great menace," but defended his Department against criticism of its anti-submersible policy and against charges that it is not air minded.

The First Lord, winding up a debate on naval estimates which were passed at the end of the sitting, declared that the U-boat situation "will become increasingly difficult," because every offensive move and every territorial liberation will create demands for more merchant tonnage and more escorts.

In a spirited rejoinder to critics of the Admiralty, Alexander declared he wished to make it "quite plain" that "those responsible for naval control have a great deal to do with enabling our brave officers and men to be successful in their task."

Alexander said the chief of naval staff had commanded a cruiser squadron in this war and that assistant chiefs of staff also have seen active service in this war.

"It was their experience and the policy of bringing them back to the Admiralty again to advise on operational matters which has had so much to do with our being able to meet a menace without precedent," he told the House.

The Navy, with the support of the Air Force, has carried out its task, he said, and in addition has carried troops all around the world.

The First Lord denied charges he said were "bandied about" that the Admiralty is not air minded.

THE ROAD TO VICTORY

By "John of the Lilacs," P. E. I.

The long road to VICTORY is up a steep hill,
For the brave of heart and stout of will;
Through the tempest of battle—the fog of delay,
Till the sunshine of Victory shines over the way.
Rugged and steep is that road to be trod,
March then, ye heroes with trust in your God.
There are torrents to cross that will chill a man's soul—
Tho' our brave ones are men, who know only one goal;
Then on to the summit where VICTORY is won,
O ye men of the Maple Leaf—bravest under the sun:
Where the trumpeter calls "To the battle away"!
There you'll find Canadians in the thick of the fray—
Fearless, undaunted, courageous and true;
They have deeds to remember—a duty to do.
For there written so great in the annals of fame,
Is the glory and valor that built Canada's name.

That hill to us all is a mountain it seems,
With deep chasms to cross and the wildest of streams;
Tho' ahead in the distance there shines like the day,
The dawning of Peace, when war's night roll away;
There are rocks in the torrents that will many dismay,
But the light from the Summit will show us the way;
Then shoulder to shoulder, up over the hill
With courage unbounded and firmness of will,
Though hardships and danger are before as you go,
In deeds it is proven—we fear not the foe.
Tho' rugged the road leading on to our dreams,
The storms that have passed make the brightness it seems;
Then this land of the Maple still dearer will grow,
In that grandeur supreme, with her sunshine and snow;
In the dazzling light of awakening dawn
When the horrors of war from all Countries have gone;
Then there at the top, on that plateau of fame,
Where the brave of our country have carved out a name—
In the annals that live, and in glory to shine;
On into the years on the road through all time;
For the highway is great when the Summit is won,
It's the road to the FUTURE; new achievements begun.

The rainbow of PEACE in its glory will shine,
O'er the forest and farm, o'er the factory and mine;
O'er the ships on the ocean where waters are free,
O'er the homes of the humble who mighty shall be
Then we build as we march, for that future so great,
For the gallant who fell have bequeathed this estate.

Smelt Catch Shows Decrease

The total number of pounds of smelts caught during the season 1942-43 was 500,600 with a landed value of $26,017, which represents a decrease of 351,500 lbs. and a decrease of $19,549 in landed value over the 1941-42 season, it was learned from the fisheries department here yesterday.

This decrease occurred despite the fact that the fishermen were granted a ten days' extension from February 15 to 25.

Early in the season it was hoped that when ice conditions would improve the catch would increase and later it was thought a change in tides might bring better luck but such was not the case—the fish were scarce and the numbers of fishermen too were lessened by the absorption of many into the armed services and war industries.

During the ten days' extension period the season's catch was increased by 68,300 lbs. with a landed value of $4,005.

The total number of pounds of smelts caught during the month of February 1943 was 139,600 with a landed value of $8,003 while during the same month last year there were 172,900 lbs. of smelts caught with a landed value of $7,147.

Getting aboard a Sikorsky helicopter is an easy matter for a hitch-hiker or a tardy passenger who missed the take-off. In this demonstration of the windmill plane, which currently has been developed for the U. S. Army, the pilot dropped a rope ladder and caused the craft to hover, motionless, while another man climbed up.

Nazi Fighters Scared Off

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 12 —(CP)— United States heavy bombers with R.A.F. and other Allied Spitfire escort scared off German fighters for the second time in a week today and bombed railroad yards and oil stores at Rouen, 45 miles inland from the coast of France.

Direct hits were seen by Fortress fliers on a concentration of probably 1,000 freight cars, and fires burst up from a nearby group of big oil tanks.

The Spitfires were even more strikingly effective than during Monday's raid on railroad yards at Rennes.

Godbout Says St. Lawrence Well Protected

QUEBEC, March 12 —(CP)— Premier Godbout told newsmen in a press conference here today that all necessary precautions were being taken to protect St. Lawrence shipping and that "thousands and thousands of soldiers are now protecting the lower St. Lawrence while coastal air patrols circle and re-circle the vulnerable areas."

"I am sure that the Federal authorities have taken all precautions necessary to protect shipping," he said. He added that he did not believe there was ever any question of closing the river to shipping because of the submarine threat. "On the contrary, I believe that the Federal authorities plan to give more protection to shipping."

"I believe that the protection of the St. Lawrence is now in the hands of the authorities of military district No. 5 here. Previously, I believe the protection of the river and the gulf was in the hands of Halifax authorities."

Federal authorities were "very discreet in matters pertaining to the protection of the St. Lawrence. Even to a premier, they do not want to give details of the form of that protection." He said this discretion might seem exaggerated, but it might also "be necessary."

Welles Hears Hitler Suffers Breakdown

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 12—(AP) —Global curiosity about what has happened to Hitler went up another notch today when Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, said the State Department has received unconfirmed reports that Hitler is suffering from a complete breakdown.

Welles did not imply the Department attached much importance to these reports. In answer to questions at a press conference, he simply said that unconfirmed reports have been received similar to those recently published in various quarters.

One of the most recent of the published reports had Hitler recuperating in seclusion at Berchtesgaden, his mountain-top retreat.

However, the complete breakdown report is only one of a large assortment of reports and rumors which have circulated in various capitals since Hitler on Jan. 30 failed to appear personally at the annual Nazi celebration of his rise to power. Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Moscow, contributed to these some weeks ago the suggestion that Hitler might be dead. Others speculated that the army high command had clapped him into an asylum.

Red Cross Collection Now Over $60,000

Red Cross headquarters reports that Prince Edward Island's total contributions now exceed sixty thousand dollars or more than twenty per cent in excess of the original objective.

Complete returns from the rural school districts necessarily include a good deal of delay. Each district likes to have its list complete before sending in the collection to county or district headquarters and they are checked and tabulated before coming in to campaign headquarters in Charlottetown. But all rural lists that have so far been received are very encouraging indeed showing very considerable increases over past years and give assurance that the voluntary objective of seventy thousand dollars, set after the first objective had been attained will be reached and surpassed. Persons in outlying districts or anywhere else who may for any reason have been missed by collectors should send in their contributions direct to Red Cross House, Charlottetown.

World's Day Of Prayer Observed

The World's Day of Prayer was held yesterday afternoon in the Baptist Church with a large attendance of women from the Charlottetown Protestant Churches and the Salvation Army.

The union service was presided over by Mrs. Gordon Ives who opened the service with a prayer, followed by the singing of O God Our Help in Ages Past.

Seated on the platform were the following ladies representing their respective churches. The church of Scotland, Mrs. William Alley; St. Paul's, Mrs. John Pierce; Salvation Army, Mrs. Mercer; Central Christian, Mrs: Leith Wright; St. James Miss Mary Irving; St. James, Mrs. J.B.S. Somers; St. Peter's Cathedral, Mrs. A. B. Cosh; Trinity United, Miss McDougall; Zion, Mrs. G. Carlyle Webster; and the secretary, Miss Helen A. Grant.

A thoughtful and earnest address was given by Miss McDougall, the Deaconess of Trinity Church, who chose as her topic "Watchman, What of the night?"

Miss Margaret Sterns rendered a beautiful solo "There was a voice in the Wilderness" by Donaldson Heins.

The service closed by the singing of one verse of the National Anthem.

The offering which is to be used for interdenominational Christian literature throughout the world amounted to $32.30.

Father And Son Banquet Is Held

The Tuxis and Trail Ranger boys of the Charlottetown Baptist Church entertained their dads at a "Father and Son" Banquet in the social hall of the church last evening. Over sixty boys and men enjoyed the banquet prepared by the ladies of the church. George MacDonald, the Praetor of the Tuxis Square was toastmaster. The Toast to the King was honoured by singing the National Anthem. The other toasts were: To the Church and Sunday School proposed by Ralph Proud and responded to by Mr. Hector Collier, the superintendent of the Sunday School; to our Dads proposed by Windsor Brehaut and responded to by Mr. J. W. Boulter; to the ladies proposed by George Jones and responded to by Mrs. J. L. McAulay. An enjoyable sing-song was led by J. L. McAulay with Prof. John Inch at the piano. The special speaker was Rev. Allen Gibson of Saint John, N.B., the Boys' Work Secretary of the Maritime Religious Education Council. Mr. Gibson gave a very interesting talk on what a father owes to his son and what a son owes to his father. The gathering was closed with prayer by the minister, Rev. I. Judson.
