PATRIOTIC MOVE BY MONTAGUE LADIES

The Ladies of Montague and vicinity held a meeting Monday night at Montague, and decided that the time had arrived when something should be done for the Island boys at the front.

During the discussion it was pointed out that while public spirited citizens and societies throughout Canada had contributed nobly to the Patriotic Fund, Red Cross Fund, Belgian Fund, etc, these funds provided for the wounded, and for those dependant on the volunteer, yet no concerted action had been taken to provide extras for the soldier in the trenches.

It was shown that while the Government offered to forward any parcels to soldiers at the front, it depended on the wealth and generosity of his friends, whether the individual soldier got extras forwarded to him from home; the result is that many poor deserving boys have not been remembered in a substantial way, since their enlistment.

The meeting was called to devise means to start such a fund.

It was proposed to name it "The Island Soldiers Supplementary Fund" and that it should form the nucleus of a common fund which might be administered by a central committee should other centers adopt the idea of raising a fund in their locality.

It was reported to the meeting that the owners of the Montague Race Track had been approached, and that they had consented in view of the objects of the fund, to give the right to the Ladies to serve meals on the grounds on the date of their next race meeting.

The proceeds of the tables thus obtained, will go to this fund, and as there has always been an immense crowd present at these races in former years the fund should reach substantial proportions.

The movement seems to meet with general approval, and already many offers of assistance have been received from outside sources.

The following executive committee was appointed:—Mrs. Horatio Nelson, Convener, Mrs. Geo. A. Thompson, Mrs. William Fraser, Mrs. J. D. McIntyre, Mrs. John N. McDonald.

HIGH PRAISE FOR P.E. ISLAND ARTIST

The Spectators, the leading weekly publication of Portland, Ore., in issue of July 11, contains the following article relative to Mrs. Octavius Hight, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Bourke, Charlottetown, whose paintings of the wonderful scenic beauty of the west have attracted so much attention in California and Oregon:

"Those who have read the fascinating legendary description of "Trails Through Western Woods, by Helen Fitzgerald Sanders, will no doubt remember the reproduction of purple shadowed peaks, which invited one into the reading with their atmosphere of mystery. In the introduction to the book Mrs. Sanders thanks the artist, Mrs. L. Mabel Hight, who has caught the spirit of the mountains with her brush,' and has added to the book 'by making the peaks live again in their colors.'

"Mrs. Hight, who is passing a few weeks in Portland, has an intense love for mountains, and particularly for the Canadian Rockies, where her earliest art work was done. She was born in Prince Edward Island, where her mother still lives. In Canada and also in England her reproductions of wonderously cold, rugged peaks are well known.

"More recently she has painted scenes in Glacier park, in all their brilliant color, of which many reproductions have been used to lure the tourists to our west. Mr. and Mrs. Hight formerly made their home in Butte, Mont., but a few months ago went to California and remained in San Diego. Fifteen of Mrs. Hight's paintings are on exhibition in the Montana building at the San Diego fair. She has already painted a few California scenes along the Columbia river highway, which is totally different in atmosphere from most of the scenes she has previously given us."

ITALIANS MAKE SIGNAL SUCCESSES

(Special to the Guardian.)

ROME, July 28.—In Aione Valley we are now in full possession of the heights on the right slope, having occupied Monte D'Avanesch and Pissona crest. On Carso Plateau the battle continued yesterday. Our troops advanced along the whole front with great dash and boldness, conquering towards the left wing the strong position of San Michel commanding the greater part of the plateau. After being subjected, however, to a violent cross fire from the enemy's artillery of all Calibre, our forces were obliged to fall back below the crest, where they are maintaining their positions.

On the centre we progressed toward San Martino, carrying with the bayonet the trenches and the redoubt covering them. On the right wing, by perfect timing an infantry advance with the supporting artillery, we completed by nightfall the conquest of the position on Motte Bei, driving out inch by inch the enemy, who was strongly entrenched there. We made about 3,200 prisoners, including one Lieut.-Col. and forty-one other officers. We took five machine guns, two small cannon trench mortars, quantities of rifles, ammunition, war materials and food as trophies of this day of fierce fighting.

THE TEN CENT CIGAR
"Every Puff a Pleasure."

NOT UNPREPARED

Sir,—In your issue of July 26th, in the course of an editorial in which you appeal to the people of this province for machine guns for the contingents now under training, you give one the impression that unless the people provide the guns our Canadian soldiers will be obliged to meet the Germans, who you say have a superiority of four times the number of machine guns over the British. It is pretty generally understood that lack of munitions has prevented the Allies from taking a more pronounced offensive movement in the western theatre, also the Russians, who are reported to have faced the Teuton Allies with nothing but the rifle and bayonet. However, you surely do not mean to say that unless enough is subscribed to purchase big guns, our heroic soldiers shall have to fight at serious disadvantage. Too much praise cannot be given the various committees for their efforts on behalf of the various funds; they are deserving of the highest praise. But it is unreasonable to assume that our soldiers shall have to face the foe without the necessary equipment, simply because those who remain at home are so unpatriotic as not to provide them with same. It is true there has not been enough machine guns, but it is certainly not true that British soldiers have been sent into the firing line unprepared. Nor does anyone believe that the Canadian soldiers (the best in the world) shall be in a similar condition. If the allied armies be without guns, etc., it is simply because they cannot be procured. Nothing, to my mind, would hinder recruiting more than to give the public the impression that the soldiers who are giving their lives shall not be given a fair chance when called upon to uphold the glorious reputation won by those who have gone before them. Britain's big war loan will buy all the machine guns necessary. It is simply a question of how fast they can be turned out. The Canadian Government will also see to it that the soldiers who leave our shores shall have ample supplies of all that is necessary, that is, if same can be got. Surely no one thinks that too much is being given the different patriotic funds, but it should be understood that none of the Allied Governments will send men to the front without the necessary equipment, even if enough has not been raised by the funds.

I am, Sir, etc.,
R. HOUSTON H. DIGNAN.

TURKS WOULD WELCOM PEACE

Geneva, via Paris, July 27—Nedjemkden Effendi, the Turkish Minister of Justice, who came to Switzerland last week by way of Vienna, has been operated on for appendicitis at the Hospital of Dr. Roux in Lausanne. An attempt by the Associated Press to secure an interview with the minister concerning the situation in Turkey brought forth a note from Nedjemkden that he was ill and unable to discuss his country's affairs.

The correspondent, however, talked with Fassun Effendi, who came to Switzerland with Nedjemkden, and who gave denial to reports that he and Nedjemkden were here, invested with official powers, to open separate peace negotiations with the Triple Entente powers.

"Turkey did not desire this war," said Fassun Effendi, "and would gladly see the arrival of peace, but all recent rumors concerning Turkey seeking a separate peace are untrue."

Asked what was the object of the visit of himself and Nedjemkden, Fassun Effendi said that it was due primarily to the necessity of an operation on Nedjemkden and secondarily that they might spend a holiday in Switzerland after the great strain both had been under since the commencement of the war. With regard to the stoppage of the passage of ammunition to Turkey by Roumania, Fassun said: "In such a situation Turkey naturally cannot have an abundance of ammunition, but we are working hard at Constantinople, which is strongly fortified and can hold out for a long time. Evidently nobody can predict the end. The Turkish soldiers are fighting with the greatest heroism, realizing that it is a question of life and death and that if we are defeated our national liberty will be ended. The late Balkan war was a war of injustice, because Turkey gave more liberty to its Macedonian subjects than they now enjoy."

Tassen Hussan Bey, former Turkish Governor of Saloniki, also is in Lausanne. He predicted a long war, but declared that the Austro-Germans in the end would win.

OPERATIONS AT DARDANELLES

(Special to the Guardian.)

PARIS, July 28.—Official—In the Dardanelles there is nothing to report with the exception of some slight progress on the part of our troops on our right wing, together with the activity by the French aviator, who bombarded successfully the new aviation camp of the enemy to the north of Cuanak.

ROYAL CANADIAN REGIMENT TO FRONT; THE 38th TO GO TO BERMUDA

OTTAWA, July 27.—The 38th Ottawa Battalion, Lieut.-Col. Edwards of Ottawa commanding, has received orders to relieve the Royal Canadian Regiment of the permanent force which has been doing garrison duty at Hamilton, Bermuda, since the war broke out. The R. C. R. will proceed to the front immediately, it being in a high state of efficiency. The 38th will complete its training on the island, and will later be relieved by another regiment of the Canadian expeditionary force. The officers and men of the Royal Canadian Regiment have been urging that they be sent to the front.

The 38th will be presented with colors here on Sunday afternoon when it arrives from Kingston en route to Bermuda.

HOGS WANTED

SEPT. 7th,

We will start taking hogs on above date. The price will likely be high during September. The Pork is wanted then for immediate use, and we need it to supply customers. Try and have hogs well finished to weigh 120 to 160 lbs. dressed. This is the size of hogs in demand.

See our letter.
