

The SUMMERSIDE GUARDIAN

AND PRINCE COUNTY CHRONICLE

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN
 AGENTS: J. Elmer Murphy, 26 Hanover St., and George Clow, 90 Ottawa St.
SUMMERSIDE AND PRINCE COUNTY
 News, Subscriptions Advertising

The Guardian may be bought daily at any of the following stores in Summerside:
 Bell Bookstore, Water Street, Gourlies, Drugstore Water Street, Toronto Bakery, Water Street, Mark Gaudet, 67 Granville Street

The Guardian will be delivered to any home in Summerside by carrier boy at 10c per copy or 10c per week. Phone 289 for this service or give your order to the boy responsible for deliveries on your route.

This plan is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a newsy nature may be inserted at a special rate, strictly payable in advance.

ENLARGEMENT free with twelve prints. Taylor Drug Co., Summerside, 9-14-41.

CLASSES OPENED — Home Nursing Courses have been organized at the Municipal Hospital and at the Red Cross. The Red Cross classes are under the supervision of Mrs. James Ramsay and Mrs. James Wall.

IS INJURED — Mr. Hubert Bennett, Bequeque, was slightly injured when hit by a car in Summerside on Saturday night. He was taken to the Prince County Hospital where he spent the night. He was able to return to his home yesterday. He was hit by a car while crossing the street in front of the residence of Mr. Earl Corbett. The driver of the car was J. W. Myers Albany, and the vehicle belonged to Mr. Hermas Myers, Albany, police said. — S.

RICHMOND MAN ASSASSINATED — Ordinary Seaman Stanley Gallant who was reported wounded when the H.M.C.S. Esplanade was sunk in the Bay of Fundy, is the son of Mrs. Prosper Gallant and the late Prosper Gallant of St. Philips P.E.I. (near Richmond). His father died last year, a year ago, first in the army then transferring to the navy. He has two brothers in the service: Joseph in the infantry stationed at Petawawa and Frank also in the infantry at Aldershot. He has two other brothers and two sisters. He is 21 years old.

Peril On
 (Continued from page 1)

building at a time with hand-grenade assaults. Nazi tanks moving through the street were declared knocked out by Soviet gunners firing armor-piercing bullets at point-blank range.

Heaviest fighting raged in the northwest suburbs where Russian and German forces were engaged from behind barricades and buildings separated by a no-man's land only yards wide.

As the fighting raged, the ferocity of the struggle, Stalingrad dispatches said that one street in this sector changed hands repeatedly in three days of fighting and at last, according to the Russians, in a neighboring sector the army newspaper Red Star said the Germans made many attacks but were repelled by Russian automatic riflemen in counter-attacks.

Just outside the city the Russians said their forces occupied a series of important hills, improving some of the positions in that area and that in a sector to the south Russian cavalry and motorized infantry exterminated a garrison of 1,000 men.

After bringing up his reinforcements, German Field Mars./ Fedor Von Bock was said to have thrown more than 80 tanks and two regiments of motorized infantry into an assault on a narrow Soviet-held sector but Ivestia reported Russian batteries and mortars forced them back across the battlefield littered with hundreds of dead.

Birthplace Of
 (Continued from page 1)

month and came after a two-night battle. Fighter planes in offensive patrols over occupied territory pounded railway engines and freight trains and coastal command places hurried shipping off the Netherlands coast.

The Mediterranean activities were related by the Rome radio which also reported that Soviet planes had bombed Helsinki during the night.

Sicily Bombed
 Bombs dropped in the neighborhood of Catania and Licata, Sicily, the Italian communists said, claiming they caused no casualties.

Other Allied bombers raided Catania, Brindisi and the Agrigento district. The area is noted for its sulphur mines. The planes claimed one of the planes crashed and its pilot, a New Zealander, was captured.

Raid On Pylos
 The raid on Pylos, Greece, as reported in the communiqué, did not succeed.

The Italians claimed an Italian raid on the British airbase at Misosata, Malta, started large fires and caused other Italian and German planes attacked concentrations of Allied motor transport in the rear of the Egyptian front "with good results." One British plane was allegedly shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

Switzerland, too, had a taste of excitement at midnight, Basel, Bonn and Zurich had a 50-minute air raid alarm, and a second alarm, lasting 63 minutes, sounded in Bonn at 1:30 a.m.

The Berlin radio asserted Swiss reconnaissance declared foreign planes twice crossed the northern part of Switzerland during the night. The radio claimed the planes were British. The R.A.F. planes which raided Munich, however, would have been far from their course had they been near Switzerland.

The German sent a few planes over the north coast Saturday night, causing slight damage and a few casualties, the communiqué said.

The raids followed on the heels of an announcement Saturday that civilians will be removed from an area of England facing the north coast and a report that the British are evacuating Belgian facilities from Ostend on short notice.

Meets Maritime Troops Training As Commandos
 (J.R.H. Sutherland, Editor of the New Glasgow Evening News, and Maritime Representative in the Canadian Press group now visiting our Forces in Britain has written a series of features on experiences overseas of which this is the first.)

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Meets Islanders
 (J.R.H. Sutherland, Editor of the New Glasgow Evening News, and Maritime Representative in the Canadian Press group now visiting our Forces in Britain has written a series of features on experiences overseas of which this is the first.)

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Meets Islanders
 (J.R.H. Sutherland, Editor of the New Glasgow Evening News, and Maritime Representative in the Canadian Press group now visiting our Forces in Britain has written a series of features on experiences overseas of which this is the first.)

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

TO-DAY

Have you seen to KINGS ROW
 TAKE UP IN WINDSOR
 CONTEMPORARY SCENES
 COSTUME UP IN A "WINDSOR" STYLE

Also Short Subject Shows at 7-9.15
Matinee Tuesday at 3.30

CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

Death of Mr. Willard Phillips

Citizens of Summerside were shocked to learn of the death in the Prince County Hospital on Saturday evening of Mr. Willard Phillips of the firm of Sinclair and Stewart Limited. Death followed comparatively short illness at the age of 67 years.

The late Mr. Phillips had been in his usual good health up to about a week ago. Although during the past week he had not been about his duties, it was not serious and on Saturday morning he entered the hospital for observation and treatment. However, in spite of all that medical skill and care could do he passed away at 11.30 that evening.

The late Mr. Phillips was born at Bideford P.E.I. in 1875. He was the son of Thomas Phillips, upon leaving school he came to Summerside and entered the employ of Sinclair and Stewart Ltd. at the age of 18 years. From that time on by his honesty and devotion to duty he established himself as one of Summerside's foremost business personalities. His value to the firm was tangibly recognized in 1908 by his election to the board of directors which position of trust he held until the time of his death which closed a business career of 50 years of upright dealing.

The late Mr. Phillips was a prominent member of the Trinity United Church and one of its elders. During his lifetime he took a prominent part in any movement for the betterment of the town and was for many years a member of the board of trustees of the Prince County Hospital. Among other positions he filled with honor were past noble grand of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, member of the session counts was held by the Trinity and for almost 25 years superintendent of Trinity United Sunday school.

He leaves to mourn his sorrowing widow, formerly Mrs. Sarah Edwards, one son, one grand daughter, Pauline, three brothers and four sisters, namely — Sanford and Sargent of Oley, Forest of Charlottetown and Mrs. Joshua Miller of Ellerslie, Mrs. Leslie McArthur of Arlington, Mrs. Russell McLean of Mt. Pleasant, Mrs. E. S. Burleigh of Ellerslie, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 from the Trinity United Church to the people's cemetery — S.

Meets Maritime Troops Training As Commandos

(J.R.H. Sutherland, Editor of the New Glasgow Evening News, and Maritime Representative in the Canadian Press group now visiting our Forces in Britain has written a series of features on experiences overseas of which this is the first.)

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G. England, T. J. MacIntosh, and the North Shore Regiment, New Brunswick, and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Highlanders. Sgt. H. L. Poey, Campbelltown, P.E.I. watched the demonstration Major C. F. Lynch, Chatham and with Major R. C. MacMillan, senior R.C. Chaplain with the division. A brother of Charles MacGormann, G.A. McAulay, Fredericton, publisher of the Antigonish, J.L. Shelley, St. John, George, Joseph, and the former parish priest at Sydney and Pictou, E. Dumphy, Moncton.

Major General Price, who became known to many in the Maritimes during his stay at the school, the men segregated their graphical groups as they received instruction on their return. Several of them were noted that supplies of cigarettes from home "has been a bit slow of late."

All of the men expressed their liking for Commando training and Capt. K.E. Anderson, Newcastle, was the officer in charge of the school, Sgt. Lawrence Langille, landing party. In another prior Upper Economy and Cpl. Robert demonstration of the hardening up Quinn, River Hebert, were the training being given, Lieut. W.R.

Southern England, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Maritimers in the Canadian Army in Britain take to Commando training like ducks to water.

I talked to a number of them, saw them in their waders after a typical coast assault had been demonstrated to the party of Canadian newspapermen visiting the island.

All were full of enthusiasm, bronzed and showing no sign of fatigue after a tiring exhibition of endurance. Yet they had just gone through an exercise mediated in the Dieppe raid—had scaled the chalk cliffs of England, and some of the naval officers commanding the assault, including Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, and Lt. Col. P. H. Spidle, Parkgate, they were veterans of Dieppe and other raids.

The Maritimers were part of a selected group of men from a division commanded by Major General C. B. Price who are attending a Commando school and will later in the group were Pte. F. E. Brian, return to their regiments as in Dorchester, Pte. G.